

THEY CAN HELP — Julie Harris, supporting services staff person for Fayette County, and Marsha Davis, coordinator of the Help Anonymous program, are shown as they enter their office located at St. Andrew's Episcopal Church, Ohio 41-S. Their jobs were created during the summer of 1975 in an attempt to provide a service for persons seeking information or assistance of some kind.

Advice, guidance to elderly being provided

Two people that really care

By CINDI PEARCE
Record-Herald Staff Writer

It was once said by Josh Billings (Henry Wheeler Shaw) that in youth, we run into difficulties; in old age, difficulties run into us. Sad, but true.

Not all senior citizens are physically active, financially secure and healthy during their retirement years, but now, since the organization of Help Anonymous, and supporting service funded by the Ohio Commission on Aging, these people can turn to Marsha Davis and Julie Harris, for advice, guidance, and whatever else they need.

Help Anonymous is not directed towards any specific age group, but Mrs. Davis reports that many of her calls are from older people who are seeking aid. Julie Harris, who works in the same office as Mrs. Davis, is the supporting services staff person for Fayette County. She is a direct service provider and thinks nothing of getting a prescription filled for a person who is unable to do this for himself, or hauling a person's dirty clothes to the laundromat. Ms. Harris deals exclusively with senior citizens.

"I provide transportation for the senior citizens when necessary. I visit their homes and I help them fill out Medicare and income tax forms and assist them when they apply for Social Security, which can be a complicated process," Ms. Harris stated, when asked what her duties as a supporting service person entailed. "Actually, I do just about anything that needs to be done."

Everything, that is done by these two women, is strictly confidential. For instance, if Mrs. Davis wants some background information from the welfare department concerning a person who has contacted her, a release form must first be signed by the person in question before Mrs. Davis has access to the individual's files.

Mrs. Davis said that about 90 per cent of the calls that she receives are referral calls. "If someone needs medical attention, but doesn't know where, or how, to go about getting it, my job is to refer them to doctors, agencies, or clinics that will accept them. One time a person called and was worried about one of his relatives in the Cleveland area who was ill. I was able to tell him who to contact in Cleveland to see that his relative was taken care of. After I refer a person, I call them back in a few days just to see how everything's going, and to see if they've obtained the service. It lets them know that somebody really cares."

Mrs. Davis and Ms. Harris are sometimes able to obtain financial aid for those persons who contact them and request such assistance. The biggest majority of their callers are seeking advice on how to obtain monetary supplementation. "One of the biggest problems this year has been with the client's utility bills. Julie and I work with Dayton Power and Light, and sometimes with a budget counselor, in an attempt to impress upon our clients that they should save money during the summer months in order to have that extra cash they will need in the winter to pay their utilities with," Mrs. Davis stated.

The voice behind Help Anonymous feels that there should be a mental health clinic in this area. "When people have a real crisis, they need help then, not in a day or in a week. The only mental health clinic around is located in Chillicothe and a lot of people aren't able to go there," Mrs. Davis said.

Ms. Harris agreed and then added, "So many older people think of psychiatric help as a taboo thing. They believe that a person has got to be totally nutty to resort to this. When we come across a case where this sort of treatment is needed, we try to work through the client's family and gain support from them first before confronting the person."

Many times it is hard for Mrs. Davis and Ms. Harris to make a total assessment of a person just by speaking to them on the telephone, consequently, they make "house calls." Asked if they'd ever encountered a sticky situation when visiting the home of one of their clients, who obviously had a problem since they'd called, Ms. Harris replied, "No, nothing has ever happened. In order to do my job in the best possible way, I can't be afraid of going into strange homes. That is my responsibility. I must find out what is wrong with the individual or individuals."

Mrs. Davis stated, "At times one can get a bit apprehensive. If we get a phone call that sounds unusual, we may take someone along with us when we visit that particular home, but this doesn't happen often."

Since so many of Mrs. Davis' clients are older people, it seemed a logical question to ask the coordinator of Help Anonymous why so many senior citizens needed her service. "Most of their troubles boil down to the issue of finances. With the economy as it is, it can make for an awful lot of tension. Once a person retires, he lives on a fixed income. These people get into a pinch because of medical bills and then, simply because they own their home or car, they can't qualify for any aid even though they really need, and deserve it considering that they have worked hard all of their lives."

Mrs. Davis and Ms. Harris concurred that older people are often swindled. "Older people are vulnerable, consequently, they become easy targets for business ventures which aren't always on the up and up," Mrs. Davis revealed. "We have had calls concerning photography and hearing aid deals. We check to see if these ventures are registered with the Chamber of Commerce, and if they aren't, we tell the persons who have been contacted by these dealers to be cautious," Mrs. Davis said.

Occasionally the two women will check out what an individual is paying for rent if this person believes the amount is too high. "We just want to make sure that it is reasonable. We really need senior citizen and low income housing in this area for people who are operating on an extremely tight budget," Mrs. Davis stated.

The two women are located in a small

Rev. Wheat to be keynote speaker at local rites

Memorial Day services scheduled here on Monday

REV. GERALD WHEAT

The Rev. Gerald R. Wheat, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in Washington C.H. will be the keynote speaker for the traditional Memorial Day services scheduled in Washington C.H. Monday, May 31.

Rev. Wheat will speak during ceremonies to be held in Washington C.H. Cemetery. Having obtained a master of theology degree in 1955 from Pittsburgh Seminary, Rev. Wheat served four different congregations before becoming pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in Washington C.H. in 1969.

Rev. Wheat is a past president of the Fayette County Ministerial Association, and is active in many local organizations and councils.

American Legion members will parade from N. Main Street to the Washington Cemetery for the services. The parade will begin at 6 p.m. Participating groups will include the sponsors of the observance, the Paul H.

Hughey and Homer Lawson posts of the American Legion the Burnett Ducey Post No. 4964 of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the Fayette County Barracks of the veterans of World War I as well as their auxiliaries.

Others expected to participate include the local Ohio Army National Guard unit which will march in the parade and provide the firing squad, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Camp Fire Girls, and the Washington Senior High School marching band.

The Washington C.H. Middle School band and members of the local Civil Air Patrol unit are scheduled to appear in the parade. The newly-formed Community Education drill team will also be present.

Parade marshal this year will be F. Paul Souther of Washington C.H. He said the groups will begin forming for the parade on N. Main Street at Court Street around 5 p.m.

The parade will proceed along Court

Street, down Washington Avenue, and into the Washington Cemetery. During services at the cemetery, a special firing squad using original rifles of past wars will accompany the Ohio National Guard firing squad. Flintlocks, percussion muskets, and Springfield "trap door" rifles will be fired during the bicentennial salute.

Following the service in Washington Cemetery, the participants will hold a memorial tribute at St. Colman's Catholic Cemetery. Following the conclusion of the activities, a standard volley will be discharged by the guardsmen, and taps will be sounded.

Special Sunday services will be held in Highlawn memory gardens, CCC Highway-W, with the Burnett Ducey VFW Post conducting the ceremony. They will furnish the firing squad.

Services in the Highlawn Memory Gardens will commence at 2 p.m. with the Rev. Allen Puffenberger, associate pastor of the Grace United Methodist Church in Washington C.H., officiating. Rev. Wilbur Bullock, pastor of the McNair Presbyterian Church, will deliver the invocation.

The Memorial Day service in the village of Bloomingburg will be held at 2 p.m. Monday. The parade, led by the Miami Trace High School marching band, will form at Bloomingburg Elementary School. The Rev. Alton J. Myers of the Presbyterian Church, will give the invocation, and a silent tribute will be made to the Gold Star mother, the late Mrs. Ella Speakman.

A memorial tribute will be made by Russell Liston, commander of the Paul H. Hughey American Legion Post 25. The memorial address will be presented by Washington C.H. parade marshal Souther.

Rex Bloomer will present the wreath, and the Miami Trace High School band will play the national anthem and

Carter pads delegate lead

Ford dampens Reagan thrust in primaries

By DAVE GOLDBERG
Associated Press Writer

The heaviest presidential primary day in American history is over with President Ford holding off Ronald Reagan on what might have been a big Reagan day and Democratic front-runner Jimmy Carter increasing his delegate lead.

There were six primaries on Tuesday, three in Southern or border states and three in the far West, areas that are the cornerstone of Reagan's Sun Belt strategy.

But Ford managed a split in the popular vote, winning as expected in Oregon and beating Reagan by narrow margins in Tennessee and Kentucky. And while Reagan's bigger wins in Nevada, Idaho and Arkansas gave him a net gain of 20 delegates on the day, the President still leads, 779 delegates to 642 for Reagan in the race for the GOP presidential nomination.

Carter won Arkansas, Kentucky and Tennessee, but lost Oregon, considered the day's main event, to Sen. Frank Church. Church also won in his home state of Idaho. California Gov. Edmund G. Brown Jr. easily captured the Nevada primary.

But Carter, despite the mixed results, won a total of 136 delegates, combining those picked up in primaries with 28 more in district conventions in Missouri and two in an Alabama runoff. That puts the former Georgia governor past the halfway mark with 876 of the 1,505 delegates needed for the Democratic nomination.

Rep. Morris K. Udall of Arizona, who picked up a scattered six delegates Tuesday, remains second with 298.5. There is also a bloc of 363.5 uncommitted votes.

Reagan had predicted he would win at least four of the six and it looked for a while like he might squeeze out a win in Tennessee to make his prediction good. Ford's margin was narrow through much of the evening, and Reagan pulled to within 123 votes with about 50 precincts left to report.

But those precincts were in the Knoxville area, where Ford had done well all night and when they were finally counted, the President had squeezed through to a 1,500-vote victory, although he lost the delegate race 22-21 because of weighting by Congressional districts.

Stuart Spencer, Ford's deputy campaign manager, said the President was happy with the results. "This is the night Reagan had to make a big comeback," Spencer said. "He didn't do it."

Reagan said he was pleased with his wins in Arkansas, Idaho and Nevada. He said of Kentucky and Tennessee, "I feel good doing as well as I did in these border states."

Church called the Oregon and Idaho wins "a quantum leap forward for my campaign." And he added: "The results tonight show people are taking a second look at Jimmy Carter."

But Carter emphasized his delegate harvest and that he has won half the primaries he has entered in May.

Udall, who won only six delegates Tuesday, said he was still in the race. "I won delegates in Arkansas and Kentucky," he said. "Mo Udall is a national candidate."

"Obviously I like to win," said Brown, a winner last week in Maryland, of the results in Oregon, where he was a write-in candidate. "But a write-in requires a commitment far greater than just punching a hole by the candidate's name."

Here are the returns from Tuesday's contests:

Oregon

With 73 per cent of the precincts

counted:

Ford 86,241 or 52 per cent and 17 delegates.

Reagan 79,729 or 48 per cent and 13 delegates.

Among the Democrats:

Church 78,069 or 36 per cent and 15 delegates.

Carter 62,201 or 28 per cent and 12 delegates.

Brown 50,195 or 21 per cent and 7 delegates.

The rest were scattered.

Tennessee

With 99 per cent of the precincts reporting:

Ford 119,162 or 50 per cent and 21

Reagan 117,641 or 49 per cent and 22 delegates.

On the Democratic side:

Carter 255,315 or 78 per cent and 36 delegates.

Wallace 36,169 or 11 per cent and one delegate.

The rest of the vote was split seven ways and nine uncommitted delegates were chosen.

Kentucky

With 99 per cent of the precincts counted:

With female employee

'Personal relationship' admitted by Rep. Hays

WASHINGTON (AP) — Following Rep. Wayne Hays' admission that he had a "personal relationship" with a woman employee, the question remaining in dispute is whether she received $14,000 a year at taxpayer expense to be his mistress or whether she was a productive employee of Congress.

The Justice Department is trying to resolve that question and the little-used House ethics committee may make an effort, too.

Hays, in an emotional speech before the full House on Tuesday, admitted he lied when he denied having a relationship with Elizabeth Ray, a shapely clerk on the payroll of his House Administration Committee. But he contended he was telling the truth when he said he did not keep her on the government payroll at $14,000 a year just for her sexual services.

FBI agents were reportedly continuing their investigation for the Justice Department of Hays' relationship with Miss Ray as the House ethics committee was receiving strong pressure to open its own probe.

Twenty-eight House members, in a letter to ethics committee chairman John J. Flynt, urged the panel to launch an investigation "in order to guarantee the integrity of the House of Representatives, its members and its committees."

Flynt was campaigning in his home state of Georgia as Hays made his speech admitting his relationship with Miss Ray, but said he was flying to Washington immediately. He said all of the requests for an investigation, including a telephoned request from Hays himself, were "informal," noting his panel could act only on a formal request.

Four of the 28 members who signed the letter asking for the ethics committee investigation also sent a letter to Speaker Carl Albert. Albert and other House leaders were in London to accept a loan of the Magna Carta for the Bicentennial celebration.

In his confession before the crowded House chamber, the 65-year-old Hays denied keeping Miss Ray, 33, on the government payroll as his mistress. He said he lied about his relationship with her because he did not want his new wife to find out about it.

"Six weeks ago, I was married to the woman I love more than any other person or thing in this world. Prior to this time, and for an extended period of time, I did have a relationship with Elizabeth Ray. I was legally separated and single. It was voluntary on her part and mine," Hays said.

He said he ended the relationship before his remarriage. He was divorced from his first wife in January.

Hays insisted that Miss Ray performed office duties for her pay, despite her contention that she could not type or handle telephones and that she did not do any work for Hays' committee.

Miss Ray, who says she was on the payroll only to be available for sex with Hays, denied Tuesday that her relationship with the congressman ended with his remarriage. She said she had seen him four times since his marriage and that they had been intimate twice.

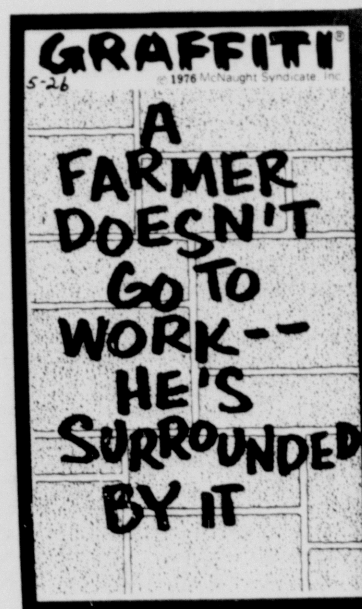

"I'm not taking anything back. I'm telling the truth," she said.

Meanwhile, the Washington Post said it found that Miss Ray's name was not included on a list of House Administration Committee employees in monthly reports from November 1975 to February 1976. Hayes was required to file the reports under House rules requiring that all committee employees be named.

The report for November 1975, signed by Hays on Dec. 15, does not list Miss Ray's name. Her name does appear on House payroll records.

Failure to list Miss Ray in the committee staff reports for four months had the effect of keeping her

Opinion And Comment

Vital principle reaffirmed

At one point in the Senate Watergate committee hearings in the summer of 1973, the inquiry turned to the Nixon administration's breakin at the office of Daniel Ellsberg's psychiatrist. Sen. Herman E. Talmadge put this question to John D. Ehrlichman, then a principal White House aide:

"Do you remember when we were in law school, we studied a famous principle of law that came from England and also is well known in this country, that no matter how humble a man's cottage is, that even the king of England cannot enter without his consent?"

To which Ehrlichman replied in his usual cocky fashion: "I am afraid that has considerably eroded over the years, has it not?"

The erosion of this sound principle safeguarding individual privacy against government intrusion is not, fortunately, as great as Ehrlichman then purported to believe. This has just been reaffirmed by the United States Court of Appeals in Washington in sustaining the civil rights conspiracy and perjury conviction of Ehrlichman in connection with the breakin.

The Court of Appeals made a most important point. In tough language it rejected the Justice Department's claim, offered in a friend-of-the-court memorandum, that breakins "are justified under the proper circumstances when related to foreign espionage or intelligence." Not so, said the court, noting that this specious justification for violation of the Fourth Amendment "in effect seeks to rewrite history."

The court further said that the Justice Department's position favoring warrantless entry would sacrifice a fundamental tenet of the Constitution "on the altar of security." The judges gave no weight to the contention made in Ehrlichman's behalf that there was some vaguely defined national security exemption to the requirement for a judicial warrant. To underscore their view they said:

"No court has ever in any way indicated, nor has any presidential administration or attorney general claimed, that any executive officer acting under an inexplicit presidential mandate may authorize warrantless searches of foreign agents or collaborators - much less the warrantless search of the offices of an American citizen not himself suspected of collaboration."

Thus the court made gratifyingly clear its belief that the principle broached by Talmadge is still firmly a part of American jurisprudence. Not even the government in all its power may enter and search private premises without the consent of the occupant or a warrant setting forth the objects of the search.

Railroad finance issue on ballot

By WILLIAM KRONHOLM
Associated Press Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio voters are being given a second chance June 8 to approve a constitutional amendment allowing state financial participation in the reorganization of the nation's railroads.

They will be casting their votes on Issue 2, a proposed amendment almost identical to the ill-fated Issue 8 on last November's ballot.

It would allow state or local financial aid to Amtrak, the national passenger rail system, or to ConRail, the new national freight rail system, for operations on Ohio tracks.

Backers claim the measure is needed to allow Ohio to use millions of dollars in federal funds to continue rail operations on tracks serving rural grain elevators and small factories, tracks which otherwise will be abandoned as unprofitable.

The only public official to speak against the proposal thus far, Senate Minority Leader Michael J. Maloney, R-7 Cincinnati, has argued that the amendment gives the appointed Ohio Rail Transportation Authority too much authority over state debt.

Issue 8, which would have done the same as Issue 2 proposes, was defeated decisively at the polls last fall. But backers claim the outcome was because it was overshadowed by Gov. James A. Rhodes' doomed bond issue proposals, not to voter hostility to the concept itself.

"Issue 8 just got lost in the Rhodes' proposals," said Rep. Arthur Wilkowski, D-46 Toledo, the legislative sponsor of both proposals and of most of Ohio's rail legislation.

In its new appearance, Issue 2 spells out that it covers only Amtrak, ConRail or other government-created railroads. And, backers hope the lack of other controversial state questions on the ballot will allow discussion of some of the reasons for the amendment.

Backers say the amendment is needed to prevent the eventual abandonment of hundreds of miles of rail track caused by the creation of ConRail, the Consolidated Rail Corp.

ConRail, the government backed corporation which on April 1 took over the Penn Central and other bankrupt rail lines, has dropped operations on branch freight tracks which were not earning a profit.

But, to prevent complete economic disruption, the law creating ConRail allowed it to continue operating on such lines as long as someone—private business or state or local government—agreed to subsidize the loss.

The provision ran straight into Ohio's constitution, however. The constitution forbids the state or its subdivisions from giving state money to a private enterprise. That would bar participation in the ConRail funding plan.

Dear Abby:

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

Don't let lips decide feelings

DEAR ABBY: I must take exception to your statement: "The mouth is an erogenous zone, reserved for one's lover-or for mouth-to-mouth resuscitation."

The mouth is an erogenous zone ONLY if one wants it to be. Otherwise it has no more emotion than the back of your hand. My family is not what might be called a family of kissers. However, I've kissed my sisters, father, mother and even my daughters on the mouth, and none of us ever regarded it as anything other than a warm greeting, which was the way it was intended.

Now, I have kissed many girls (and of course my wife) on the mouth when I had amorous intentions and found that they can respond as they feel. It has nothing to do with the "lip contact" — only the intentions of the two parties, which must be mutual and simultaneous.

I trust that you will give this further thought and agree with my view.

KISSIN' PHIL:
DEAR PHIL: A kiss is just a kiss, unless it is other wise intended. But the erogenous zone is a dangerous place to decide which is which.

DEAR ABBY: My father says that I have to ask you what you think the punishment should be for the crime I committed. I stole money from my parents.

So whatever you say, I will have to do. I am 12 years old.

GUILTY IN CLIFTON, N.J.
DEAR GUILTY: Pay back the money out of your allowance or work for it. Ask the Lord's forgiveness and write, "I will not steal" 100 times. And vow NEVER to steal again.

DEAR ABBY: We recently announced that our daughter is being married at a large wedding on June 26th. A friendly neighbor phoned and asked at what time our wedding was scheduled. I told her 2 P.M. Then she told me that I HER daughter was being married the same day at 5 P.M. and asked if she could use our flowers. I didn't know what to say, so I said yes.

When I told my husband, he said I should have told her if she wanted to use our flowers, she should pay half the florist bill. They are just about as well off financially as we are.

Now my husband wants me to ring the lady up and make that suggestion, but I haven't the nerve.

Please help me.

WASN'T THINKING
DEAR WASN'T: The time to have made the suggestion was when she asked to use your flowers. Although it would be rather awkward to suggest it now, do so. But remember, you already said yes.

DEAR ABBY: It tickled my funnybone to think that with all the uproar from Women's Libbers, they neglected to change MENopause to personopause. J.E. IN EL CAJON, CALIF.

DEAR J.E.: MENopause is strictly for women, and I seriously doubt if any man would insist on getting a piece of the action.

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Wednesday, May 26, the 147th day of 1976. There are 219 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1868, an attempt to impeach President Andrew Johnson was defeated in the Senate by one vote.

On this date:

In 1790, Tennessee was organized as a territory.

In 1805, Napoleon Bonaparte was crowned King of Italy.

In 1864, the Montana Territory was organized.

In 1942, during World War II, Britain and the Soviet Union signed a 20-year treaty of alliance.

In 1954, the funeral ship of the Egyptian Pharaoh, Cheops, was discovered in a limestone chamber near the Great Pyramid of Giza.

In 1970, prices on the New York Stock Exchange hit their lowest level in eight years after a steep 17-month slide.

Ten years ago: British Guiana became the independent Latin American nation of Guyana.

Five years ago: A Philippine vessel with 40 persons aboard was lost southeast of Manila during a typhoon. There were no survivors.

One year ago: The foreign ministers of nine European Common Market nations, meeting in Dublin, Ireland, agreed to step up trade with Portugal to help maintain democracy in the troubled nation.

Today's birthday's: Actor John Wayne is 69.

Thought for today: The art of living is more like that of wrestling than that of dancing. The main thing is to stand firm and be ready for an unforeseen attack — Marcus Aurelius, Roman emperor, 121-180.

Bicentennial footnote: Two-hundred years ago today, French leaders were conferring in Paris about a possible secret shipment of 15,000 muskets to the rebellious British Colonies in America.

Seniors of the Week

Our first featured senior of this week is Debbie Cremeans, daughter of Jerry Cremeans and Mrs. Sadie Copas. She resides at Rt. 1, Greenfield. Debbie has two younger sisters, Renee and Lisa.

Debbie's courses this year include government, symphonic choir, business law, senior homemaking, English composition, consumer economics, media, international studies, and family living. Among her many activities are Future Teachers of America, FHA, cheerleader for three years, student council, Wayne Fashionaires 4-H Club and Wayne Progressive Farmers 4-H Club. Debbie is secretary of the Junior Fair Board, vice-president of Junior Leadership, and she attends Good Hope United Methodist Church. Her hobbies include sewing, cooking, participating in all sports, teaching gymnastics, and simply enjoying life.

Hopefully, Debbie's future plans are to go to Columbus and work in some field of fashion. "Try to set your goals early and work for them. Try to get the most you can from all the learning experiences, not only in class, but in extracurricular activities also," is her advice to the underclassmen.

Terry Kitchen, son of Mr. and Robert Kitchen, is our next featured senior. He resides at 2682 Church, SW, Washington C.H. He has one brother, Danny, and two sisters, Mrs. Jerry Ely and Mrs. Joe Gentry.

Terry's courses this year are Distributive Education II, American government, machine shop, and American literature. Terry is the president of the DECCA Club. He is employed at Roney's Auto Parts, and he is a member of the Staunton Church. His hobbies include working on cars, bike riding, softball, basketball and fishing.

Terry's future plans are to continue working at his present job. "Be cool and have as much fun as you can but stay out of trouble," is Terry's advice to the underclassmen.

Finally we have Herb Smith, son of George and JoAnn Smith. He lives at Rt. 1, Jeffersonville. Herb has one older brother and one younger sister.

Herb's classes this year are business law, government, machine shop, consumer economics, shop maintenance, English composition, and science fiction. His activities include six years of 4-H and three years of wrestling. Herb's hobbies are working on the farm, driving a car, working in the school shop, and being outdoors.

His future plans are to attend Clark Technical College and take drafting. "I have especially enjoyed my senior year at Trace, and I am looking forward to the future," commented Herb.

Housing shortage to become critical

VANCOUVER, B.C. (AP) — You think there's a housing shortage now?

In the next 30 years, the United Nations says, 3.5 billion more people will need places to live, and that's enough to create 3,500 cities of a million residents each. There are fewer than 300 cities of that size now.

Aware of that, 4,000 delegates from 120 nations meet here for two weeks beginning Sunday in the fifth United Nations conference to be held this decade — the U.N. Conference on Human Settlements, or Habitat.

Delegates, in committee work and plenary sessions, will try to devise ways for coping with the worldwide urban crisis.

Participants in the conference and a parallel gathering — Habitat Forum, opening Thursday for representatives of nongovernmental organizations — face facts, the U.N. says, like these:

—Another 600 million housing units will be needed in the next 30 years, or more than those existing in the entire world today.

—Even now, the World Health Organization believes more than a billion people don't have basics, like safe water to drink.

—Cities, towns and villages, especially those in developing countries, already are in crisis, lacking jobs, choked by pollution, crowded, inundated by slums, devoid of good transportation and riddled by crime.

'America the Beautiful' theme

"America the Beautiful" was the theme of the Alpha Theta Chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha Sorority's mother-daughter banquet held recently in Persinger Hall, First Presbyterian Church. The hall was patriotically decorated in red, white and blue.

Mrs. Jerry Hoppes, toast mistress for the evening, introduced Mrs. Charles McIlvaine and Miss Heather McIlvaine who gave tributes to mothers and daughters. Miss Sarah Beth Rankin read a poem "Grandmothers."

Following the buffet dinner, an awards presentation was made. Mrs. Micky Barker was presented the philanthropic award for all her hours spent in different philanthropic projects throughout the year. Mrs. Don Gibbs was presented the "Outstanding Girl Award" for this year. Several members received pins for their years of service in Alpha Theta. Ten-year pins were given to Mrs. Jack Merriman, Mrs. John Morris, Mrs. Tom Rankin and Mrs. Gibbs. Mrs. Barker received a five-year pin.

Mrs. Jerry Hoppes introduced Mr. John Schlichter, who sang several songs. He was accompanied by Mrs. Cinda Stinson.

Following the program, Mrs. Ron Ratliff and Mrs. Gibbs installed the newly-elected officers. They are: President—Mrs. Jerry Hoppes; vice president—Mrs. John Bernard; recording secretary—Mrs. Morris; corresponding secretary—Mrs. McIlvaine; treasurer—Mrs. Barker; philanthropic chairman—Mrs. Richard Wood; social chairman—Mrs. Rankin; education—Mrs. Fred Zechman; ways and means—Mrs. Sherry Vrettos; publicity—Mrs. Sherry Vrettos; parliamentarian—Mrs. Jack Moats; and Mrs. Ratliff, junior past president.

Those attending the banquet were Mrs. Barker and Mrs. James Barker, Mrs. Barnard and Mrs. Arthur Barker, Mrs. Clyde Cramer, Mrs. Wayne Hummel, Mrs. Rachael Smith, Mrs. Don Gibbs, Mrs. Clarice Walliser, Mrs. John Gruber and Andrea and Marcia, Mrs. Richard Hill and Julie, Mrs. Forrest Hill, Mrs. James Lucas, Mrs. Fred Hoppes, Mrs. Max Schlichter, Mrs. Jerry Hoppes, Mrs. Eugene Thompson, Mrs. L.C. Hoppes, Miss Debbie Cremons, Mrs. McIlvaine and Heather.

Also Mrs. Jack Merriman and Becky, Mrs. Archie McCullough, Mrs. Jack Moats, Mrs. Jay Jobe, Mrs. John Morris and Julie and Jana, Mrs. Jim Ougherton, Mrs. Hargus Ramey, Mrs. Tom Rankin and Sara Beth, Mrs. Richard Rankin, Mrs. William Allen, Mrs. Ron Ratliff and Mollie, Mrs. Cecil Acton, Mrs. Vrettos, Mrs. Willard Browder, Mrs. Richard Wood, Mrs. Charles Wood, Mrs. Ralph Villars, Mrs. Zechman, Mrs. John Neil, Mrs. Ron Warner and Andrea, Mrs. Bill Marting, Mrs. Emerson Marting, Mrs. William Mount and Mrs. Chuck Wisler.

Stitch and Chat Club elects new officers

The Stitch and Chat Club of Jeffersonville met in the United Methodist Church dining room for a carry-in luncheon. Members and guests found their places at the table which was attractive with arrangements of spring flowers. A booklet, "Great Prayers From the Bible" was at each place setting, a gift from the church. Eugene Griffith, pastor of the church.

Following the dinner, Mrs. Joe Ferguson, welcomed the group and read "Liberty Bell" and "Communion." Fifteen members answered roll call by naming a thought concerning the club. Mrs. Earl Swaney read minutes of the April meeting. Mrs. Ottis Thompson reported the club is selling lunch trays, a club project. Mrs. Swaney, Mrs. Martha Allen, Mrs. Virginia Coil and Mrs. Bertha French were appointed to submit plans for a club trip at the June meeting.

Mrs. Reba Straley read the new slate of officers for 1976-77: President—Mrs. Ferguson; vice president—Mrs. Thelma Cline; secretary—Mrs. Allen; treasurer—Mrs. O. Thompson; press reporter—Miss Helen Fults; flowers—Mrs. Allen and Mrs. Alice Steen.

Hostesses were Mrs. Martha Reedy, Mrs. Coil, Mrs. French and Mrs. Helen Chester. Guests were the Rev. and Mrs. Griffith, Mrs. David Krupla of Bloomington, Mrs. Helen Dunkle of Dayton and Mrs. R. Huffman of Jeffersonville.

Cheer cards were signed for members and friends who are ill and Mrs. Carl Stackhouse, Mrs. Kermit Knox, Miss Alma Armstrong and Miss Helen Fults will be the hostesses for June.

Mothers Circle skating party

Wednesday Club

Mrs. Fred Oswald was hostess to the Bloomingburg Wednesday Club. Her home was lovely with spring flowers from her garden at focal points. Mrs. Lawrence Garinger, president, conducted the meeting and read "The Wilderness is Tamed."

It was announced that the club had sent flowers to Mrs. Homer Smith and Mrs. Forest Haines, who have recently been hospitalized.

Mrs. Don Thornton gave the "History of the Club" which was organized in 1910 in the home of Alma Carmen. The club was made up of 12 charter members who were real close school friends. Mrs. Forest Haines and Mrs. Ewing Fichthorn, two charter members, are still active in the club activities. During the years, 40 members were added, and at the present time there are 12 active and three associate members.

Refreshments were served. The next meeting, June 16, at 1:30 p.m. Mrs. M. G. Morris, will be hostess.

Stratfordshire china topic for MW committee meet

Mrs. John Leland entertained 16 members of the Martha Washington Committee on Indian Affairs, Daughters of the American Revolution, and a guest, Mrs. John Fent, when they assembled in her home for the May meeting.

The nominating committee announced the officers: Mrs. Robert Harris, chairman, Mrs. Cecil Van Zant, assistant; Miss Helen Slaven, treasurer; and Mrs. Ronald Cornwell, secretary.

Mrs. Gilbert Crouse reported on the proposed trip to Adena June 10, when the group will visit the Ross County Historical Society in the morning, be luncheon guests at the Poland House, and tour the Franklin Home.

For the program Mrs. Willard Bitzer spoke on Stratfordshire china, of which she and Mr. Bitzer have a collection, which dates back to 189. The designs on the china is based on the Book of Poems by Routledge, with pictures of Dr. Syntax's tours.

Hostesses Mrs. Leland, Mrs. Howard Herrill and Mrs. John Sagar Sr., served a dessert course.

Engagement announced

Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Everman of Sabina, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Teresa Lynn, to Samuel William Sanderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eliza H. Sanderson of 418 W. Elm St.

Miss Everman, a graduate of East Clinton High School, attended Franklin University, Columbus, and is employed by the Sabina Bank. Her fiancé, also a graduate of East Clinton High School, is employed by the Randall Company, Wilmington.

The wedding will be an event of July 31.

Good mothering through breastfeeding

The last of this series of four meetings of La Leche League will be held tonight at 8 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Jay Smith, 903 S. Hinde St. This month, Mrs. Cindie Shoemaker will lead a discussion on what foods the nursing mother needs and how to go about weaning the breastfed baby. Is there anything the nursing mother can eat to help maintain her supply of milk? How can you tell when your baby is ready to be weaned? LLL is where you can find answers to these and any other questions you may have about breastfeeding.

Anyone needing information on any aspect of nursing before or after the next meeting, call Mrs. Shoemaker at 335-1037 or Mrs. JoAnne Jacobson at 948-2405. This is one of the few organizations where your baby is not only welcome, but is invited.

Fort Industry was built on the order of Gen. Wayne at the mouth of Ohio's Maumee River after the Battle of Fallen Timbers in 1794, to match Fort Miami, held by the British.

RETURNS FROM SCHOOL — Pictured above are Patty Lucas and Maureen Warner, employees of Downtown Drug, who are responsible for running the cosmetics department. The two women recently attended a cosmetics school held in Dayton, which was sponsored by Coty Cosmetics. They were versed in the various products found in Coty's cosmetics line, and given scientific explanations concerning the skin and how to care for it. About to expand their line of Coty products, the Downtown Drug employees said the program helped them enormously. Ms. Lucas, who has worked in cosmetics for nine years and has attended numerous programs of this sort in the past, stated that she learned things concerning cosmetics that she was unfamiliar with prior to the Coty demonstration. Ms. Warner said that she would be able to help customers more efficiently now that she knows how the Coty products are developed and how they should be used to enhance the appearance of each individual.

Bride-elect feted at party

The home of Mrs. Lela Campbell was the recent setting for a surprise bridal shower given for Miss Joy Whiting, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A.D. (Pete) Whiting of 3045 Rowe-Ging Rd., and David Ogan Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. David Ogan Sr. of Greenfield.

The wedding will take place June 12 at the Grace United Methodist Church.

Freshly cut daisies centered the table and small tea sandwiches and cheeseball, along with punch were served.

Miss Whiting received many lovely gifts. Guests present were Mrs. Whiting and Mrs. Ogan, mothers of the couple, Mrs. Carol Rose, Mrs. Ginger Camstra, Mrs. Mary Gray and Angie, Mrs. Vicki Coe and Scottie, Mrs. Carolyn Campbell, Mrs. Chris Campbell and Tracy, Mrs. Sue Walker, Mrs. Jean Coe, Mrs. Martha Jett, Mrs. Shirley Morrow, Mrs. Barb Paisley, Mrs. Mae Deane Warden, Miss Pam Straley, Miss Joni Bumgarner, Miss Glenna Hithcock, and Miss Joyce Henthorne. Sending gifts were Miss Cris Hamilton, Miss Kandy Knisley and Miss Debbie Bliss.

Silver Tea in McNair Church

Mrs. Charles Wood was hostess to the Women's Association of McNair Presbyterian Church at the annual Silver Tea. In memory of the late Mrs. Frank Thompson, Mrs. Wood read "Seasons of the Soul." She also read from the Yearbook of Prayer concerning missionaries from Taiwan.

Twelve members responded to roll call and two guests, Mrs. Allan Hays and Mrs. Jane Wieland, were welcomed.

Mrs. Bryan Leasure and Mrs. Russell Miller reported on the May Fellowship Day held at the Good Hope

United Methodist Church. Three comforters were knotted at the last sewing day.

Mrs. Pauline Scott will be hostess for the June meeting when a sandwich and salad supper will be featured at 6:30 p.m. "Mary, the Mother of Jesus," will be the Bible Study topic.

Mrs. Charles Keaton gave a Bible Study concerning "Sarah," and the meeting was closed with the Mizpah benediction.

Refreshments were served from a beautifully appointed tea table.

Fayette County Choral Society elects Jeff Sheridan president

An annual meeting for election of officers marked the end of the first year's activity for the Fayette County Choral Society, Inc. At the close of the regular weekly rehearsal, Mrs. John P. Case presided as new officers were elected. They are Jeff Sheridan, president; Mrs. Lloyd Fennig, vice president; Mrs. Harold Soldan, secretary; Mrs. VanDyke, attendance secretary; Miss Elaine Stookey, treasurer; Mrs. Case, publicity; and Miss Anita Pruitt, librarian.

Mrs. Fennig and Mrs. Malcolm Parrett were hostesses, assisted by the other women of the Society, as members celebrated with refreshments including a "birthday cake."

A collection of newspaper clippings and programs attractively displayed gave documentary evidence of an eventful first year, dating from the Cecilian Festival of Chorus in April, 1975, which inspired the Washington C.H. Organ Club to form a committee at its May 18 meeting which resulted in June rehearsals and public performances on August 10th and 17th with Director Charles Shaffer.

The Cecilians and the Organ Club have continued to be patrons of the Choral Society. Under Director Richard Patton of the Ohio Dominican College, the Society performed Handel's "The Messiah" with a chamber of orchestra and soloists all from Fayette County; and with W. Thomas Smith of Wittenberg University as Director, the Choristers made their fourth public appearance on Feb. 29. For the next concert, celebrating the American Bicentennial on Sunday afternoon June 20, Warren Parker of the Middletown Branch of Miami University will be the director and concert pianist Mary Richter Snyder will be guest recitalist. Mrs. Donald Schwaigert is accompanist. Miss Stookey is assistant accompanist. Mrs. Maurice Hopkins is assistant director.

The Choral Society is unique in being a continuing organization of men and women, open to all singers, working constantly toward the performance of major choral works accompanied whenever possible by a chamber orchestra, and providing more abundant opportunity for the many trained vocalists here to be heard in great oratorio and musical theater solos and choruses.

Under the leadership of the present director Mr. Parker, the Choristers envision two oratorio performances in the coming months: a Vivaldi "Gloria" on Nov. 21, and the Schubert "Mass in G" next March. Members are invited to join a Middletown Chorus in a 10-day European concert tour during the summer of 1977, singing the "Mass" as part of the program.

Next week the rehearsal will take place at 8 p.m. Tuesday in First Presbyterian Church, Monday being a holiday. It was announced that by action of the Executive Committee, after the June 20th concert, there will be a vacation until activity is resumed in August.

Xi Iota Theta chapter meets

The Xi Iota Theta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi met in the home of Mrs. Judy Wilson. The skating party for tonight was discussed. Tickets are 75 cents if purchased in advance or $1 at the door. There will be cake walks.

The "Tumbling Block" quilt will be given on Saturday at the Holthouse Furniture Store at closing time. The quilt is on display at the store.

Guest speaker for the evening was Marie Hatinguais, American Field Service exchange student from France, who told of her native country. Everyone enjoyed her interesting talk.

Refreshments were served to Mrs. Rick Kelley, Mrs. James Aleshire, Mrs. Zella Pemberton, Mrs. Ruby Snyder, Mrs. Becky Greenwood, Mrs. Betty Chaney and Mrs. Dee Pruitt.

Ohio's Cradle was the Massachusetts town of Rutland, home of Gen. Rufus Putnam. He and Benjamin Tupper signed advertisements published in New England papers Jan. 25, 1786, inviting soldiers of the Revolution and "all other good citizens" to join the Ohio Company which later founded Marietta.

Circle elects officers

Miss Jean McCoy and Mrs. Edwin Nestor combined hospitalities when the Ann Judson Circle of First Baptist Church met in the home of Miss McCoy. A dessert course was served to 10 members and two guests. Mrs. Mabel McCoy and Miss Lori Ann Wolford,

Mrs. Charles Hurtt, chairman, read an article concerning Ann Judson, for whom the circle is named, for the opening. Inspirational devotions were presented by Mrs. William Cook on the topic, "The Stayed Mind."

Members responded to roll call by naming a favorite flower. Reports were read. The love gift, regular and least coin offerings were received, and Mrs. Ralph Wolford gave the dedication prayer.

Mrs. Hurtt reported that she has sent 14 packages of vegetable seed to Haiti.

After some discussion, the decision was reached that the Ann Judson Circle will meet the third Tuesday of the month at 1:30 p.m. beginning with the September meeting.

Officers elected were: Mrs. Hurtt, chairman; Mrs. William Cook, Division of Interpretation; Mrs. Wolford, Division of Christian Service; Mrs. Eugene Alkire, Division of Leadership Development; Mrs. Lora Penwell, Division of Missions; Mrs. Kenneth Best, secretary; and Mrs. Henry Best, treasurer.

It was announced that the next meeting of the Women's Missionary Society will feature a picnic July 8, with the place to be announced.

Mrs. Nestor read an inspiring article "Water Without Walking" following and interesting article read by Mrs. Best entitled "Latin America Cash Quota."

"Wrong Way Trip" was the title of Mrs. Hurtt's program. Members were asked to think about Jonah and Mrs. Chaney read scripture from the Book of Jonah.

Rotary Club honors outstanding seniors

Seven outstanding senior students from Washington Senior and Miami Trace high schools were honored by the Washington C.H. Rotary Club at the regular weekly luncheon meeting Tuesday in the Country Club.

Rotarians annually honor students from the two Fayette County high schools in three categories, academic excellence, athletic excellence and service-above-self.

Counselors at Washington Senior and Miami Trace high schools cooperate with the Rotary Club in selecting the students for the awards. The counselors were Mrs. Vicki Snow, Fred Doyle and Mrs. Margaret Dowler of Miami Trace High School and Don Gibbs and Mrs. Karen French of Washington Senior High School.

Richard Kirkpatrick was the awards program chairman and serving on the committee were Dr. Robert Woodmansee and Howard Miller.

The award winners from Miami Trace High School were Elaine Puckett, outstanding scholastic achievement; Gregory E. Cobb, outstanding athlete; and Tarkio M. Chester, service-above-self.

Washington Senior High School winners were Julia Ann Looker and David Thompson, co-winners of the outstanding scholastic achievement award; Eddie DeWees, outstanding athlete; and Jeff Henry, service-above-self.

MISS PUCKETT, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Puckett, Staunton-Sugar Grove Road, will serve as class valedictorian during commencement exercises at Miami Trace. She is enrolled in college preparatory courses for four years and has maintained a 4.0 average.

She is a past member of the marching, concert and symphonic bands and is currently member of the Miami Trace "In the Know" team, and the National Honor Society, and serves as an office worker and morning announcer. She has been a junior auxiliary volunteer worker at Fayette County Memorial Hospital and is a member of Good Shepherd Lutheran Church. Employed as a cashier and sales clerk at the G.C. Murphy Co., she plans to attend Ohio State University and major in psychology.

COBB, son of Arthur Cobb, 2593 CCC Highway-E, has won three varsity football letters, one varsity and two reserve basketball letters and one varsity track letter. In football he played linebacker and offensive tackle and was named first team ALL-SCOL defense years and all-league offense two years; the most valuable lineman in 1975; first team all-district two years; the district lineman of the year in 1975; honorable mention all-state in 1974; first team all-state in 1975 and co-captain in 1975.

In baseball he received all-league honorable mention honors in 1973 and 1974.

He is vice-president of the senior class, president of the Varsity M Club and was a member of the Science Club for three years. He attends the Fayette Bible Church. He is planning to attend either Otterbein College or Ashland College, having received a substantial grant from each college to play football.

CHESTER, son of Mr. and Mrs. Miles Chester, 225 Gregg Road, Jeffersonville, was selected for the National Honor Society in his junior year and was a delegate to Buckeye Boys State. He was president of the Science Club and is currently serving as vice president of the club. He is also a member of Junior Leadership and attends the New Holland United Methodist Church.

For the past four years, he has been the athletic trainer in football, basketball and track. He has been accepted at Miami University, Oxford, in the athletic training program and he is planning to major in physical therapy.

He ranks 24th in a class of 243 and received the coaches award at the end of the football season which marked the first time the award was presented to a non-player. He also received a $250 athletic booster club scholarship.

MISS LOOKER, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David G. Looker, 169 Eastview Drive, has maintained a 4.0 cumulative average while enrolled in college preparatory courses.

Other accomplishments include a 1975 delegate to Buckeye Girls State, editor-in-chief of the Sunburst yearbook, head cheerleader of the varsity squad, member of the National Honor Society, recipient of the John F. Kennedy Scholastic Award, a member of Student Council, member of Future Nurses, Y-Teens, Girls Athletic Association, American Field Service, French Club and the WSHS band and choir and a district winner of the Elks "most valuable student" contest. She plans to enter Ohio Wesleyan University and major in pre-medicine.

THOMPSON, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Stackhouse, 515 W. Elm St., is tied for first in his class with a 4.0 cumulative average.

Some of his activities include president of the National Honor Society, president of his junior and senior classes, placed 12th in the state in the general science scholarship test, received the school's freshman scholar-athlete award, a member of AFS, Hi-Y and Letterman clubs, was named to the all-league football team and second team all-district in football, participated in a pilot "Big Brother" program in 1975 and was a state winner in the Elks "most valuable student" contest. He will enter the University of Cincinnati next fall and major in engineering.

DEWEES, son of Mr. and Mrs. David W. DeWees, 210 McKinley Ave., is a letterman in three different sports at WSHS. He lettered two years in varsity basketball and was named as the team's "most improved" player during his senior year.

In track he was a three-year letterman and a member of the record-holding 440-yard relay team. He lettered during his senior year in football. In addition to athletics, he is active in AFS, Hi-Y and Letterman clubs. He has been chosen to participate in the Americans Abroad program this summer.

HENRY, son of Frank Henry, 502 W. Elm St., distinguished himself in the field of photography.

In addition to serving as chief photographer for the Sunburst year during his sophomore, junior and senior years in high school, he has served as a sports photographer for the Record-Herald for several years and is a member and photographer for the Club Lions newspaper staff.

He is also involved in the Hi-Y youth-in-government program, serves as secretary of the Hi-Y Club and is president of his church youth group. He plans to pursue his interest in photography at Ohio University, Athens, next fall.

The business meeting was conducted by club president William E. Williams.

Parents of the honored students and high school guidance counselors were guests of the club. Kaye Bartlett was a guest with Dr. Leroy Davis. Visiting Rotarians were Wilson Moon of Greenfield, Darrell French of Wilmington, Dale Delong and Ned Hardin, of Circleville, and Art Dick and Carlos Joslin, of Mount Sterling.

A party of whites under Col. David Williamson which, like the Indians, distrusted the red men who turned Christian, carried out the massacre of 90 harmless and helpless Christian Indians at Gnadenhuttten, Ohio, on March 7, 1782. Thirty-four of the victims were children. Two small boys escaped and the Mravian Indians at nearby Schoenbrunn learned of the massacre in time to flee. A state park on the site now honors the victims.

Money to finance summer project

Lions members raise $283 at miscellaneous auction

Items ranging from a portable typewriter to a homemade apple pie were auctioned during the regular semi-monthly dinner meeting of the Washington C.H. Lions Club Tuesday night in the Country Club.

Lions Club members donated dozens of miscellaneous items for the auction which was used to raise funds for a project later this summer.

A total of $283 was raised by auctioneers Frank J. Weade and Emerson Marting, both members of the Lions Club.

While Marting and Weade were auctioning the items, many of which had been stored in attics or garages for years, Lions Club members S.E. Vaughn, James Polk, Gene Sagar and Ralph Hyer took bids from the 70 club members present for the meeting.

During the business meeting conducted by club president Richard Coates, Mrs. John (Phyllis) Richards, supervisor of nursing at the Fayette County Health Department, urged the Lions Club members to support a two-tenths of a mill renewal health levy which will be appearing on the June 8 primary election ballot.

Mrs. Richards said that by renewal of the levy taxes will not be increased for Fayette County residents. She said she has learned from Fayette County auditor Mary Morris that the amount collected will be the same as in the past, despite the recently-completed property reappraisal.

The funds generated by the health levy are needed to continue many existing programs, Mrs. Richards pointed out.

The Lions Club board of directors voted unanimously to contribute $555 for the operation of the summer Fayette County Babe Ruth baseball league. The board also voted to donate $45 to send a Washington Senior High School student to a summer teenage drug and alcohol institute.

On other matters, Coates reported that the annual charter night dance will be held June 12 in the Mahan Building on the Fayette County Fairgrounds. Charter members of the Washington C.H. club will be honored at the meeting.

Reports were presented by Wiley Witherspoon on the recent state convention, Dustin Gilton on the international convention which will be held in Hawaii in June, Everitt Robbins on the race program sale for the Fayette County Fair, and Dr. Warren Craig on the bicentennial float project for the Fourth of July parade.

Bob Caughron was a guest with Bob Yates and Jack Hoppes of Good Hope was a visiting Lions Club member.

The street, which will be known as Commercial Avenue, is located off S. Elm Street between McDonald's Restaurant and the Long John Silver Seafood Shoppe.

The thoroughfare, the newest to be constructed in Washington C.H., measures 700 feet in length and is 31 feet wide.

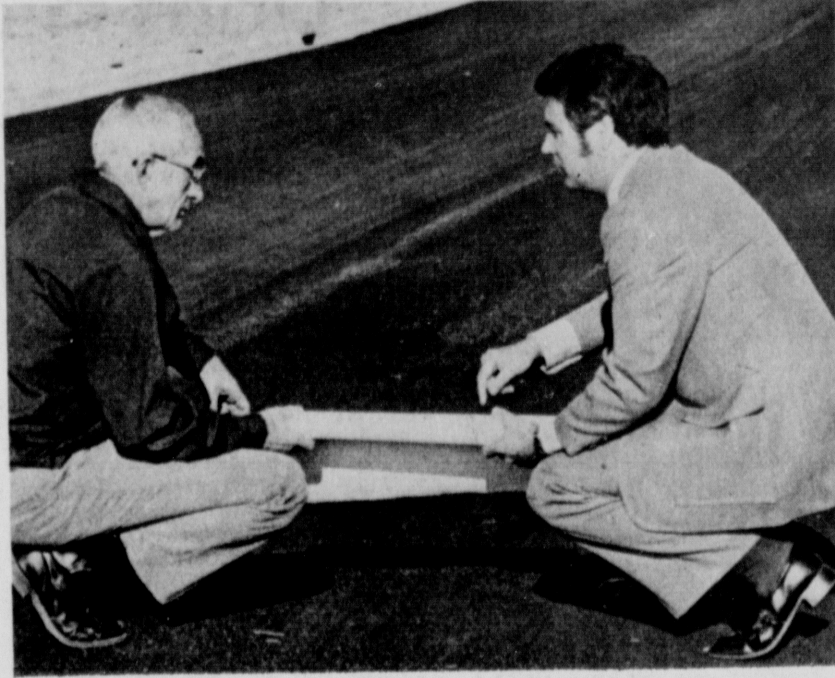

The WKW Construction Co., of Wilmington, was the general contractor for the construction. The street was designed by Donald R. Conley of Gale L. Helms and Associates in Washington C.H.

Construction lasted approximately one month.

The street was platted and constructed by Fayette County Hadler Donald P. Woods and William Hadler, who owns the Washington Square Shopping Center. The cost of construction was shared jointly by Woods and Hadler.

Although the street comes to a dead end 700 feet from S. Elm Street, Conley said it is planned by the developers to extend the thoroughfare in the future.

The street will be formally dedicated to the city for use by the public as soon as final inspections are completed.

Of five-year-old Mount Sterling boy

Woman charged in hit-skip death

MOUNT STERLING — Three charges have been filed against an Orient area woman in connection with the hit-skip death Monday night of a five-year-old Mount Sterling boy.

Charged in the case was Nancy Pinyard, 20, Rt. 2, Orient.

Miss Pinyard is charged with aggravated vehicular homicide, driving while intoxicated and leaving the scene of an accident.

The charges were filed Wednesday morning in Madison County Court in London.

The youth, Stephen Bowman, five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Bowman, of Mount Sterling, was struck about 8 p.m. Monday as he rode a toy tricycle on the sidewalk near his home. He was pronounced dead on arrival at Mount Carmel-West Hospital, Columbus.

Mount Sterling Police Chief Jim Gossard said the car jumped the curb, ran down the sidewalk, and struck the youth. Police officers reported the car left the scene still dragging the toy vehicle. The youth was thrown clear of the vehicle.

Gossard said the car was found minutes after the incident. The car was discovered abandoned a few blocks away from the scene of the accident.

Meanwhile, funeral services for the accident victim will be held at 1:30 p.m. Thursday in the Porter Funeral Home, Mount Sterling.

Wedding ring theft checked

A theft of two wedding rings valued at $100 was reported Tuesday to the Washington C.H. Police Department. Four other incidents were checked by police officers.

A police report filed at 3:33 p.m. Tuesday by William Garrett Jr., 739 Gregg St., listed two wedding rings stolen from his residence at some unknown time in the past. The rings were reportedly taken from a dresser in the bedroom. The incident is still under investigation by the Washington C.H. Police Department.

A $75 tape player and speakers were reported stolen from a car belonging to Penny Duncan, 831 S. Hinde St., as it was parked at Calmar Corp., 2550 Kenskill Ave., sometime between 8:30 and 12 p.m. Tuesday.

Two folding lawn chairs valued at $35

were reported stolen from the residence of Louise Hatfield, 618 Broadway St., sometime Monday night. The chairs had been located on the front porch.

Approximately $30 worth of clothing items were allegedly stolen from a car belonging to Connie Link, 223 Wagner Court. The incident is believed to have occurred while the car was parked in front of Eastside Radiator Service, 505 S. Elm St., between 8:15 a.m. and 3 p.m. Tuesday.

A decorative lawn ornament valued at $15 was reported stolen from the side yard of the Dorothy Dellinger residence, 308 N. Main St., sometime between 7 p.m. Monday and 2:54 p.m. Tuesday.

Udall looks ahead to Ohio primary

CLEVELAND (AP) — Democratic presidential hopeful Morris Udall preferred to look ahead to the Ohio primary rather than stew over his poor showing in six primaries Tuesday.

Knowing he would not do well in those primaries, the Arizona congressman said he chose to be here Tuesday night because the June 8th Ohio primary may be his last chance to deny Jimmy Carter a first-ballot nomination.

Nonetheless, Udall said that his entry in the Kentucky, Tennessee, Arkansas, Nevada, Idaho and Oregon primaries reflected a long-range strategy that might help in the national convention.

Udall observed that if the convention delegates don't nominate Carter on the first ballot they will remember Udall wants to be able to say that I've been in all parts of the country and neglected no states," Udall said. "The delegates appreciate the fact that I cared enough to go down there ... I simply wanted to establish my presence and wave the flag."

Udall noted that Carter's support in the border states was no surprise because the former Georgia governor had support from most of the local politicians and there was a great deal of regional pride in the Southerner.

The dwindling campaign of George Wallace virtually left the field open for a Carter sweep, Udall added.

As for the primaries in the Nor-

High pressure over northern Michigan was drifting southeastward today and was expected to be centered over Ohio Thursday morning.

Skies were to clear gradually over northeastern Ohio today and it was to be sunny over the rest of the state. Afternoon temperatures were to climb into the 60s and low 70s.

Under clear skies tonight, the mercury will drop into the 40s again. Sunny skies with mild weather is in store for Thursday with afternoon highs in the 70s.

A chance of showers Friday and Saturday. Fair Sunday. Highs in the 70s. Lows in the low to mid 50s.

Ohio early noted for lush forests

By The Associated Press

Not the least part of Ohio's Heritage is that green ocean of trees that once covered the state from border to border, a canopy of green that amazed and fascinated world travelers into the late 1800's. Then only high stumps here and there were left in some spots to show where forest monsters once grew, for the swarm of axwielding settlers cut and sawed their way, finally, to cleared fields.

Perhaps the most famous Ohio tree was the Logan Elm, now the site of a state memorial in Pickaway County six miles south of Circleville, the spot where famed Indian Chief Logan gave his oration to the white men in 1774. The tree, which measured over 23 feet in circumference with a spread of 164 feet—not large as some Ohio monsters grew—was destroyed in a storm in the early 1960's.

Claims for tree sizes can be measured in many ways, and Ohio had a great many "champions" in the old forest days. Sycamores have been among the largest trees found in Ohio, most of them found growing along streams and reaching greatest size in rich stream and river bottoms.

One of the most remarkable was situated in the Scioto Valley north of Lucasville, Scioto County, on the farm of Abram Millar. It was hollow with an opening 10 feet wide. It was the wonder of the countryside and focus of sight-seers. In June 1808 a party of 13 men rode on horseback into the cavity of the tree and it was said there was ample room for two more. It was thus called "The Sycamore of Fifteen Horsemen."

Delegates from Washington Senior

High School are Bryan Connell, 16-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. James Connell, 309 Buckeye Road; Mark Heiny, 17-year-old son of Dr. and Mrs. Robert Heiny, 716 Park Drive, and John Walker, 17-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Walker, 534 Damon Drive.

Co-sponsors in this year's program are the Washington C. H. Elks Lodge No. 129, the Washington C. H. Eagles Lodge No. 423, the Bloomingburg Lions Club, New Holland American Legion Post No. 477, Forty and Eight Voiture No. 888, and the Washington C. H. Lions Club.

Four alternates, three from Washington Senior High School and one from Miami Trace, have also been selected. The Washington Senior High School delegates are Scott Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul V. Johnson, Dan Rodgers, son of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Rodgers and Bret Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Wilson. Miami Trace's delegate is Rex Coe, son of Mrs. Mary Coe.

R. B. (Bud) Tharp, chairman of the local Buckeye Boys State committee, said the program is a school in government by means of practical application. He said it is the duty of the American Legion post to select boys who are potential leaders in the community, and who will carry the message of Buckeye Boys State back to their home schools and communities.

Abel says U.S. change needed

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Ohio AFL-CIO may listen to three Democratic party presidential hopefuls without taking a public stand, but United Steelworkers of America President I. W. Abel has left little doubt about what he thinks of Republican leadership in the White House.

"We need a change of occupants in the White House," Abel told the nearly 1,500 delegates who had gathered Tuesday for the opening of the organization's three-day convention.

"We can't afford a president, who says America can't afford to educate our children adequately; says America can't afford to care for the sick and needy; says America can't afford to feed the hungry."

"I say in short, we can't afford Ford."

Abel accused President Ford of choosing to fight inflation by "putting the American worker through the economic wringer" and charged that the worker had been made expendable in the battle to boost the economy.

There also was little in Abel's speech that could have provided any comfort for former California governor Ronald Reagan, the man who is challenging Ford for the Republican nomination.

"It is difficult to see him as a serious candidate for the White House because of his extreme views on the issues. Frankly, he scares the hell out of a lot of people," said Abel, who admitted his own personal preference remains Sen. Hubert Humphrey, D-Minn.

All delegates to Buckeye Boys State are high school juniors.

Tharp is also a member of the Buckeye Boys State staff and will be in attendance at this year's program during the full time it is in operation.

In Wilbur Welton program

Two hospital nursing scholarships awarded

Robert L. Kunz, administrator of Fayette County Memorial Hospital, announced today that the Wilbur Welton nursing scholarships for 1976 have been awarded.

Recipients of the scholarships are Miss Danita Adams, 204 Maple Way, and Miss Lucinda Graham, 813 Clinton Ave.

Miss Adams received the registered nursing scholarship, according to Kunz. She has been accepted in the Mount Carmel Hospital school of nursing in Columbus.

Kunz reported Miss Graham was awarded the practical nursing scholarship. She will begin practical nursing classes in September at the Fayette County Memorial Hospital School of Practical Nursing.

The maximum scholarship is $2,000 per year to be applied towards tuition, books and related expenses, excluding room and board fees.

Members of the Wilbur Welton Nursing Scholarship Committee are Kunz; Miss Mary C. West, director of nursing at Fayette County Memorial Hospital; Denzil L. Leggett, a member of the Fayette County Memorial Hospital board of trustees; Dr. Thomas J. Hancock, a medical staff surgeon at Fayette County Memorial Hospital; Edwin M. Nestor, superintendent of the Washington C.H. School District, and Guy M. Foster, superintendent of the Miami Trace School District.

Kunz stated that he wished to thank all applicants who had applied for the scholarships. All qualifications and references were excellent, he said.

Bids for fourth term

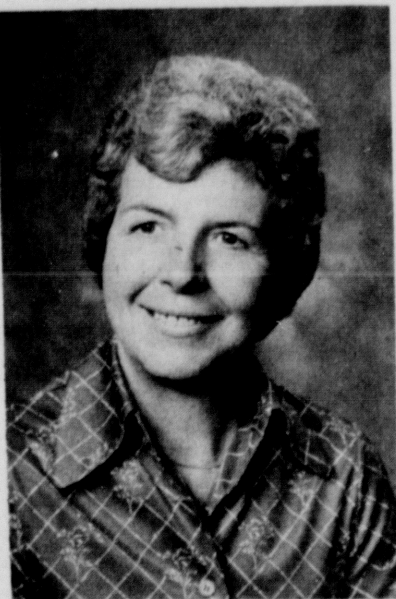

Mrs. Rodgers seeking committee re-election

Mrs. Louise M. Rodgers, 5365 Locust Grove Road, has filed a petition for re-election as the Democratic state committeewoman from the Sixth Congressional District at the June 8 primary election.

The petition was filed with the Clermont County Board of Elections, the most populous county in the district which covers all or portions of 10 counties.

The district includes Adams, Brown, Clinton, Fayette, Highland, Lawrence, Pike, Pickaway, Scioto and Ross, and portions of Clermont, Vinton and Warren counties.

Mrs. Rodgers will be seeking her fourth consecutive two year term on the state central committee. She was last elected to the committee position in 1974.

MRS. LOUISE RODGERS

Lois M. Hancock, of Clermont County, will be opposing Mrs. Rodgers in the election.

Mrs. Rodgers is president of the Fayette County Memorial Hospital board of trustees and a member of the Fayette County Board of Elections. She is a graduate of Washington High School and is the wife of Robert Rodgers, a Wayne Township farmer.

She is a member of the Ohio Association of Election Officials, the Washington C.H. Business and Professional Women's Club and the American Legion auxiliary.

Mrs. Rodgers has two children, Mrs. Jack Persinger Jr. and Mrs. Jeffrey L. Kelly.

Fire tests reported

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Some foamed plastic products that don't ignite when a match is held to them are flammable in the intense heat of a fire, says a researcher at Ohio State University.

Because of the properties of the plastics, manufacturers no longer label foamed plastic products as "self-extinguishing," Prof. Edwin E. Smith of Ohio State's chemical engineering department.

Smith says tests being conducted by his department should determine characteristics and qualities of the foamed plastics.

He said the studies will check the temperature at which plastic materials ignite and the amount of time it takes before the material becomes combustible.

"By clarifying these factors we hope to avoid the misuse and misinterpretation of laboratory tests," Smith said. "Foamed plastics use is increasing for padded seating and for building insulation as energy conservation efforts are stepped up."

Plastic products are being studied at the university under a grant from the Products Research Committee, representing the plastics industry and others.

Auto blaze extinguished

A Tuesday afternoon automobile fire was extinguished by Washington C.H. firemen.

A car belonging to Gail Russell, 1050 Broadway St., caught fire around 1:30 p.m. Tuesday as it was being operated in front of her residence. Firemen believe the flames occurred after a carburetor backfired. Estimated damage was set at $50.

The first organization of Spanish American War Veterans was formed in Cincinnati, Ohio.

BOWLAND FIRST—Mrs. Pat Shepard rolled a 714-pin series Monday at Bowland Lanes. Included in the three game total was a 299 second game. It was Mrs. Shepard's best series and best game ever. The 299 was also the highest sanctioned game rolled at Bowland. Mrs. Shepard left the 4 pin after rolling 11 strikes. She became the first woman to bowl a 700 series at Bowland and there are only three other 700 series on record since 1960. Mike Wilson rolled a 700 even in 1965, Bus Dowler had a 706 in 1968 and Harvey Heironimus rolled at a 718 in 1969. Mrs. Sheppard had a 222 first game and a 193 game to go with her 299.

Westphal out to improve on first-game performance

BOSTON (AP) — Plunging into the Valley of the Suns has helped Paul Westphal reach his peak in professional basketball.

But one of the few downsfalls he has encountered during his first season with the Phoenix Suns was last Sunday's opening game of the National Basketball Association's nationally televised best-of-seven championship series against the Boston Celtics. In that game, a 98-87 loss to his former teammates, Westphal, the Suns' leading scorer, hit only four of 17 field goal attempts and scored eight points. Boston Coach Tom Heinsohn, however, is quite cognizant of Westphal's capabilities and doesn't figure the Suns' harddriving guard to have such a poor showing in Thursday night's Game Two at the Boston Garden.

Nicklaus' lifetime dream to be realized this weekend

DUBLIN, Ohio (AP) — Jack Nicklaus sighed.

"I can't really believe it's here," the Golden Bear said as the starting time approached for his lifetime dream golf tournament—The Memorial.

"I'm like a kid with a new toy—a great big toy," said Nicklaus, the chief architect, prime mover and driving force behind the new $200,000 event that gets underway Thursday with the legendary Bobby Jones as the first honoree.

"I've never been on this side of the fence before," he said. "Winning the U.S. Open is four days of hard work on the golf course. This is something else. It's something I have not been familiar with before."

"The only thing I haven't worked on is my own golf game," Nicklaus said with a laugh.

"They'll be looking to go to Westy," said Heinsohn. "He's a big part of their offense. He could break out. He's a good shooter, and he could come back and hit 10 of 17."

Heinsohn's decision to put Jo Jo White on Westphal was credited with adversely affecting the play of the Suns' backcourtman. During the regular season, Westphal had been guarded by Charlie Scott, the player he had been traded for a year ago.

Heinsohn explained that he made the change because he wanted Scott guarding the Phoenix player bringing the ball upcourt, in this case, rookie Ricky Sobers. That job had been Westphal's earlier in the season, but when Dick Van Arsdale suffered a broken bone in his left arm, Sobers took his place in the lineup and has been there ever since.

"If I won, I'd be the most surprised fellow in the field."

The select, international, invitational field of 96—trimmed down by some late withdrawals—starts the 72-hole chase for a $40,000 first prize Thursday over the Nicklaus-designed, owned and constructed Muirfield Village Golf Club course. It is a gorgeously conditioned layout playing to a par 72 and made up of 7,072 yards of Ohio countryside where the youthful Nicklaus hunted rabbits and squirrels.

"I started buying the property in 1966," he said. The course opened two years ago. The first of the tournaments that will honor a different golf notable each year begins Thursday.

"This is the start of something," Nicklaus said. "It's something I've always wanted to do. I am not going to be playing golf forever. But I want to be involved in golf."

Reds let George do it

Foster wrecks Braves, 10-4

CINCINNATI (AP) — Quicker than you can count to 10, the Cincinnati Reds are getting into the swing of spring by letting George do it.

George Foster, a forgotten man two years ago, has become a one-man wrecking crew for The Cincinnati Lumber Company.

He drove in five runs for the second straight game Tuesday night, triggering a 10-4 trouncing of Atlanta with his sixth and seventh home runs of the year.

His explosive bat enabled unbeaten rookie Santo Alcala to record his fourth straight victory since joining the starting lineup. It was Cincinnati's third straight victory.

"He's a gun," marveled Manager Sparky Anderson, after Foster boomed seven hits in his last eight at-bats to up his batting average to .335. "He reminds me of Lee Maye the way the ball jumps off his bat. George doesn't hit any cheap ones."

The 27-year-old Foster is indeed cutting a wide swath through National League pitching. In the last six games, he has driven in 14 runs with four homers and a .500 batting average—12 for 24.

"He's just a very confident hitter now," assessed Atlanta starter Carl Morton, who went down to his fifth straight defeat.

Morton thinks Foster's power of positive thinking can psyche out a pitcher. "There's something to it. Pitchers sometime give in to a hitter that confident. It appears we make more mistakes to a guy like that."

Foster's bat binge has thrust him into the league RBI race, one run behind leader Dave Kingman of the New York Mets.

His 35 RBIs are almost half of what he amassed a year ago, when Anderson moved Pete Rose to third to make room for Foster's bat.

"A lot of guys say they want to hit 30 home runs and drive in 100 RBIs. My philosophy is that stats take care of themselves," says Foster.

With Johnny Bench struggling at the plate, Foster has been moved up higher in the lineup. He's thriving at his new spot.

"I like getting higher in the lineup because you get more chances to drive in runs," he said.

"The difference between this year and last year is that I'm hitting homers with men on base. Last year I was batting eighth most of the time."

He credits his brimming confidence to getting a good look at opposing pitchers.

"Now I know most of the pitchers around the league. Before, I was sort of defensive."

Bench, who requested to be demoted in the batting order, drove in three runs as the Reds struck for three runs in the fifth and four in the seventh.

Alcala, 4-0, held Atlanta hitless for the first four innings but fought control problems, walking six. "Normally I am a control pitcher, but I couldn't get the rhythm."

The Reds today scheduled Gary Nolan, 3-3, against Andy Messersmith, who has won his last two starts. He is 2-4.

Tom Seaver has learned how to pitch to the Philadelphia Phillies — very carefully.

One of the hottest teams in baseball, the Phillies have beaten Seaver two times in the last week, including Tuesday night's 8-4 decision over the New York Mets.

Mi-De wins own softball tourney

Mi-De Trophy won its class B softball tournament over the weekend at Eyman Park. Kirk Furniture of New Holland took second and Warner's Sport Shop finished third in the 12-team tournament.

Leading hitters for Mi-De Trophy were Lonnie Ayers with an .847 average, Ray Smith with .647 and Rick Bell with .579.

"They're an extremely hot team — as hot as they can be," said Seaver. "That's about as hot a club as I've seen in a long time. Everything they hit was in exactly the right place."

The Phillies' victory was their 24th in 30 games and boosted their lead to 5½ games in the National League East over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Seaver, a three-time Cy Young winner, continued to be treated with little respect by Tommy Hutton. He had three hits Tuesday night to boost his lifetime mark against Seaver to .424. Hutton has 14 career hits in 33 appearances and 11 RBI against the right-hander.

While the Phillies continued to roll, Seaver continued to reel. The loss was his fourth straight after four victories at the start of the season.

In the other National League games, the Cincinnati Reds whipped the Atlanta Braves 10-4; the San Diego Padres stopped the Los Angeles Dodgers 5-2; the Montreal Expos trimmed the Pittsburgh Pirates 6-3 in 11 innings; the St. Louis Cardinals defeated the Chicago Cubs 5-2 and the San Francisco Giants beat the Houston Astros 7-6.

Hutton shared the offensive load with Jay Johnstone, who slammed four hits, including a home run, drove in two runs and scored three. The Phillies rallied from a 3-0 first-inning deficit to help unbeaten Jim Lonborg earn his seventh victory. The Phillies raked Seaver for seven runs on 14 hits before he left for a pinch hitter in the seventh.

Padres 5, Dodgers 2

Doug Rader drove in four runs with a double and a three-run homer to spark San Diego left-hander Randy Jones past Los Angeles for his ninth victory. The decision was the fourth straight this season by the Padres over the National League West-leading Dodgers. Jones, the winningest pitcher in baseball, is now 9-2 with a 2.24 ERA.

Expos 6, Pirates 3

Larry Parrish hit a two-run double in a four-run 11th inning to give Montreal its victory over Pittsburgh. With the game tied 2-2 through 10 innings, the Expos scored all their go-ahead runs off Pirate relief pitcher Bob Moose, unscored in all 13 of his prior relief appearances this season.

Brewers trim Yankees, 1-0

Dock pitches well in loss

By The Associated Press

Dock Ellis gave up only four hits, struck out four and walked just one ... but.

"I'm paid to win, not just to pitch well," the New York Yankees right-hander said. "Tonight, the other guy was better."

The "other guy" was Milwaukee left-hander Bill Travers. He limited the Yanks to four hits, struck out seven and walked two as the Brewers nipped New York 1-0.

"From what I've seen of the left-handers in this league, there's (California's Frank) Tanana and Travers and pick anyone you want for the third spot," said Milwaukee Manager Alex Grammas after Travers hurled his first major league shutout.

"It was my best-pitched game ever," Travers said. "It's taken me six years to get everything together."

In other American League games Tuesday night, Boston blanked Detroit 2-0, Cleveland nipped Baltimore 3-1, Oakland stopped Minnesota 6-1 and the Chicago White Sox downed California 7-1. Kansas City at Texas was postponed by rain.

The game's only run came in the fourth when Darrell Porter led off with a double, took third on Bob Hansen's grounder and scored on George Scott's sacrifice fly.

Red Sox 2, Tigers 0

Carl Yastrzemski's two-run homer and Luis Tiant's second shutout of the season gave the surging Boston Red Sox their win over Detroit and their 11th victory in their last 14 games. Yastrzemski's roundtripper in the fourth scored Carlton Fisk, who had opened the inning with a walk.

Tiant was masterful, scattering seven hits, striking out eight, including slugger Willie Horton three times, and walking none.

A's 6, Twins 1

Vida Blue's eight-hit pitching was backed by Sal Bando's two-run homer and Billy Williams' two runs-batted-in as Oakland shackled Minnesota. Blue had a shutout until the eighth when he issued his only two walks of the game and gave up a run-scoring single to Dan Ford.

Bando's sixth homer of the season in the second inning and Williams' single with the bases loaded in the third were more than enough for the Oakland left-hander. Phil Garner had three of the A's 11 hits while Twins rookie Butch Wynegar had two of the hits off Blue, 4-5, to raise his batting average to .300.

White Sox 5, Angels 1

Pat Kelly smashed a two-run homer and Rick Gossage limited California to just six hits as Chicago won its ninth straight game, the White Sox' longest winning streak since 1973.

Brian Downing's two-out single in the eighth snapped a 1-1 tie and Chicago added four more runs in the ninth to hand Angels starter Gary Ross his sixth loss in seven decisions.

Indians 3, Orioles 1

Pat Dobson's nine-hitter lifted Cleveland to its fourth straight victory. The Indians' defense helped seal the win as they turned in four double plays.

The 33-year-old right-hander allowed nine hits Tuesday night, but topped the Baltimore Orioles 3-1 with the help of four double plays executed by shortstop Frank Duffy and second baseman Duane Kuiper.

"They've been turning the double play for me here, the way Mark Belanger and Dave Johnson did when I was with Baltimore," said an appreciative Dobson who is with his sixth team in eight seasons. "It's been lovely."

Dobson, whose 20-8 record with Baltimore in 1971 was by far his best season, declined to compare the two keystone combinations, saying: "I haven't been here long enough. But these guys are good."

The Indians stretched their longest 1976 winning streak to four straight by taking two games in Baltimore, while the Orioles have lost three in a row after winning nine of their previous 10.

Cleveland scored twice in the second inning off Jim Palmer, last year's Cy Young Award winner whose record dipped to 5-5, on two-out singles by Alan Ashby and Duffy.

The Indians added an unearned run in the fifth after Buddy Bell beat out an infield hit and continued to second on an overthrow by shortstop Belanger. A sacrifice bunt and Rico Carty's sacrifice fly pushed Bell across the plate.

When they won 4-0 Monday night, Cleveland scored one run on a sacrifice fly and another on a squeeze bunt.

"In the last week or so, we've been playing better fundamental baseball," said Dobson, now 4-5. "We weren't before, and it killed us. Our talent is as good as any team in the league, but it

Former major leaguer

Al Lakeman succumbs

SPARTANBURG, S.C. (AP) — Former major league catcher Al Lakeman died at Spartanburg Tuesday. He was 57.

The Cincinnati, Ohio, native played for his hometown Reds, the Philadelphia Phillies, the Boston Braves and Detroit in a nine-season career in the majors that began in 1942 and ended in 1954. Lakeman was a minor league manager for nine years with Detroit teams and a coach for the Boston Red Sox for six until retiring from the game in 1969.

Funeral services will be at 11 a.m. Thursday.

Little League

The Mo-Pars scored a single run in the bottom of the seventh frame to take a 3-2, extra-inning win over the Jets in major league action Tuesday.

In the other contest, the Mustangs blasted the Lazy-Boys, 12-5.

In minor league action at Armbrust Field, Helfrich topped Bumgarner, 7-4, and First Federal beat Junior Firemen, 17-12.

Jr. girls softball

Hidy's topped Thompson's Transfer, 7-2, in division B girls' softball league action Tuesday.

Jody Fillmore and Jill Schlichter both hit home runs for the winners and Rhonda Pressler smacked a triple.

Monica Deskins was the winning pitcher and Connie Summers took the loss for Thompsons.

SCOL HONOREES—Seven Miami Trace Girls honored last week at the South Central Ohio League Spring Banquet at Unioto High School. On the front row are sports ball players Sherri Graf and Sally Gaylord. On the back row are tracksters Laura Bailey, Vickie Bennett, Christy Stockwell, Cheryl Hale and Gail Camstra.

EX-WCH resident wins AP award

Bob Thompson, a 1949 graduate of Washington Senior High School and son of Mr. and Mrs. Haskel Thompson of 640 Perdue Plaza, was honored at the Ohio Associated Press Sports Writers awards banquet last week.

Thompson is the sports editor of the Painesville Telegraph, a position he has held since graduating from Ohio University in 1959.

Thompson and his paper were honored with the best sports section award in the annual AP contest for papers under 100,000 circulation.

NBA chief eyes pact with TV

NEW YORK (AP) — Lawrence O'Brien, commissioner of the National Basketball Association, chooses his words carefully. But then, that's what you might expect from a man who was so intimately involved in politics for so long.
 He is very coy when he discusses touchy items like merger, amalgamation or some other accommodation with the American Basketball Association.
 But it is tough to avoid the subject when the new four-year NBA television contract with CBS worth $43 million contains an important amendment that calls for an additional $4.9 million should the league add up to four new franchises.

A half-dozen ABA franchises have been knocking on the NBA's door for some time. Two teams, the New York Nets and Denver Nuggets, went so far as to make formal applications to the established league last year, and then the remaining ABA clubs joined suit.

Judge Robert Carter, who has been in the middle of many of pro basketball's various litigation cases, urged the two leagues to find an out-of-court settlement for their disagreement.

"We've communicated," said O'Brien. "As a result, the ABA made a proposal which is under consideration by the NBA."

O'Brien refused to discuss terms of that proposal, but he admitted he did not hold much hope for its acceptance. "The initial reaction (of the NBA) has not been overly positive," the commissioner said. "In fact, it's negative."

Three cars drop odds to 11-1

Grant King hopes for Indy finish

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Grant King figures his chances of winning Sunday's Indianapolis 500 are 11-1, but his odds are also three times greater of blowing an engine or crashing.

King, whose three-car team is the largest in the race, said: "Having three cars in the field is a lot harder on me, but it's also very rewarding."

Even if all three of his machines — two 1976 Dragons and a 1974 Kingfish — fail to complete even one lap, the Clermont, Ind., car builder and mechanic figures the least he can collect in prize money is $45,000, since even last place in the 33-car field pays a minimum of $14,000.

"My chances of winning are something like 11-1, but we also have three times the chance of crashing a car or three times the chance of blowing engines."

"It's three times the problems or more. I've spent the last couple of days just working on fueling systems — new hoses, couplings, valves, nozzles, everything."

"Each one of the cars has a lot of stuff that needs to be gone through — engines, radios and so forth."

"I've got to find fire clothes, pit crew uniforms, tickets, pit passes" As for pit crewmen, "I have to have 33 people just to service the three race cars, you know, three scorers, three signalmen on the wall, three holding the fuel vent valve ... it just goes on and on."

Still, King feels rewarded for all the years he came here with two cars and only got one in the show.

"I've suffered quite a few setbacks here, and I've missed the race enough to know how it feels," he said. "I feel like we've really accomplished something."

He added wryly, "The cash don't hurt either."

John Martin qualified on the second attempt, on the second day of time

trials, at 182.417 miles an hour in a Dragon.

Bob Harkey put the Kingfish in on the third day of qualifying at 181.141 m.p.h. and Sheldon Kinser got the other Dragon in later the same day at 181.

CAMERA Angles

By IRVING DESFOR
AP Newsfeatures

Willard Kriebel, 38, chief photographer of the Reporter, a small newspaper in Lansdale, Pa., covers his town's news and feature events with the flair, imagination and skill worthy of a photojournalist for a national publication.

No wonder he has received more than 130 state and national photographic awards, among them the 1967 Pennsylvania Photographer of the Year title presented by the Pennsylvania Photographers Assn. He has been named one of the top 10 photographers in the Mid-Atlantic region of the National Press Photographers Assn. in five out of seven years and was a national winner in the 1973 Pro Football Hall of Fame photo contest.

It is also the reason his newspaper has selected more than 50 of his best photographs and published them in a paperback book to please its readers. Many of them have followed his picture offerings for years and have asked for prints or a collection of his work. Now it's available, a photographer's album entitled: "Images" by Willard Kriebel, published by the Reporter, 307 Derstine Ave., Lansdale, Pa. 19446 ($4.75).

I heard about this from one of my column readers who happens to be a local resident and newspaper subscriber, an ardent camera fan and letter writer. This, then, is to thank Mrs. Alice Zettlemoyer of North Wales, Pa., for continually sending me page layouts of Kriebel's photography and the announcement of his book of "Images."

Most of the pictures in the album are of local scenes and events but produced with uncommon artistry, humor or creative thinking or technique. In addition, there are more than a dozen photographs taken on foreign assignments which took him to 12 countries in Europe and Africa.

I learned that Kriebel is a perfect example of "local boy who makes good." He was born, grew up and stayed in Lansdale, a town 24 miles northwest of Philadelphia. He started working on The Reporter in 1951 after school at age 14 as a janitor and printer's devil before discovering there was a world and a career called photography. That came after high school and two years' study and graduation from a photography school.

In subsequent years he polished his photo sights with sessions in photojournalism conducted by the American Newspaper Publishers Assn. Research Institute and in color seminars in Rochester at Eastman Kodak.

His assignments ranged from skimming over snow-covered fields at 1,000 feet in a helicopter to submerging in a swimming pool with scuba gear to photograph a homemade submarine... from a multideath tragedy caused by an apartment house explosion to the spiritual experience of a natural childbirth.

The book reveals the poetic quality of his vision in a quiet, misty white winter scene... cows heading for the barn in a rural sunset... and a child, lying in the grass, blowing a dandelion into flying fragments. There are unusual camera angles such as one down-to-earth (literally) view of a disconsolate puppy retreating from a burning home. The camera actually was at ground level, focused on the approaching puppy with the firemen in the background fighting the blaze. There are heartwarming shots like the Little League youngsters in actions which parody the intense seriousness of adult players. And there's the stark beauty of composition in a scene of ice-encrusted devastation which encircles and spotlights firemen at work on a sinter fire.

On his foreign assignments, Kriebel's camera brings us, among other scenes, a starry night view of Basil's Cathedral in Moscow's Red Square; the mystery of Stonehenge, where Britain's ancient Druids once practiced their sorcery; the menacing figure of an East Berlin soldier; and the picturesque atmosphere of rural Spain with a boy delivering milk on a donkey.

A reader's favorite photo may be removed easily from the spiral bound book for framing or may be ordered in special enlargements at a special price from the Reporter. In addition, any of the foreign photographs may be ordered in their original color print renditions for framing.

"Images" is a book which gives visual pleasure and can be a model for better photography. As a photo fan, however, I wish it had aided that second incentive by providing some information about the pictures, the circumstances under which they are made, some of the problems involved and how Kriebel solved them so expertly.

Perhaps some of the expertise might rub off on camera fan readers as well as it has on Kriebel's son, 12-year-old Kelly. The youngster made the photo of Kriebel used in the introduction. I've since learned that Kelly was only 6 years old, fresh out of kindergarten, when he accompanied his dad to a high school track meet where he shot a roll of pictures and the results made a full page of pictures in the Reporter.

"I took an old Nikon S2 with the normal 50mm lens and put a 36-exposure roll on Tri-X in it," Kriebel explained. "I set the shutter speed at 1-1000 of a second, the lens opening at f-11 and the distance at 15 feet. Then I taped the controls so they wouldn't change."

The message I get from that experience is: Start with time-tested rules and techniques and THINK YOUNG! See everything from a fresh viewpoint and shoot what interests you. Get the results to the right people fast... while the event is still news. And you, too, may get worthwhile "Images."

Zoology Professor Experiments With Weights

BROOKINGS, S. D. (AP) — For 30 years a South Dakota State University research professor has labored alone in his off-hours experimenting to find the secrets of "building a stronger and better body."

Algridas Greichus, a professor of zoology at SDSU, does most of the experiments on himself. He does it with weights. He is a body builder.

Holder of a doctorate in parasitology, Greichus lives in two contrasting worlds.

One is tucked away in a corner of the SDSU campus. He daily conducts research in the study of parasites amid the blinking lights and the hum of equipment and brain cells in the Physiology Laboratory. His other world is amid the cadence of creaking, clanking and thudding weights, the whistle of hyperventilating lungs and the grunts and groans of athletes trying to conquer five more pounds or get more definition into their pectoral muscles.

The owner of a physique you'd expect to see on a man bounding out of phone booths rather than one analyzing results in a research lab, Greichus is highly successful in his favorite pastime.

A one-time Detroit, Mich., and three-time South Dakota state lifting champion, Greichus is the current holder of the Mr. Northern Plains physique title.

Even more remarkable than Greichus' accomplishments and dedication is the fact that he's collected most of his laurels in the past five years. At 47, a time when most people have "settled down" both abdominally and in their exercise habits, Greichus is trimming up.

"The only thing that varies with age might be the time needed to recuperate from workouts," the professor said. "It's estimated that a weightlifter reaches his peak at 40. In most sports you're out of it by that time. I think an older man has an advantage over younger men in terms of experience. He paces himself better."

Butz stumping state for farm vote

President Ford campaigns in Ohio

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — President Ford continued his blitz for this year's final election Triple Crown—the June 8 Ohio, California and New Jersey primaries—with a hectic campaign stop in Columbus today.

Meanwhile, Agriculture Secretary Earl Butz was stumping Ohio in Ford's behalf for the farm vote.

And Mrs. Jimmy Carter, wife of the Democratic frontrunner, barnstormed the state, while Rep. Morris Udall, D-Ariz., another aspirant for the Democratic presidential nomination, wound up a two-day campaign swing.

Ford was to arrive in midafternoon and during the next six hours address a conference on aging, attend an outdoor rally, confer with Gov. James A. Rhodes and other state officials, hold a televised news conference, and meet with a group of Republican mayors.

Butz was to precede the President into the Capital City for an early afternoon address before the board of trustees of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation and a news conference.

Rosalyn Carter planned to campaign outside a local factory and mingle with downtown workers on the Statehouse lawn before delivering a speech to a Columbus Democratic women's club.

Udall flew to Cleveland Tuesday night after appearing before the Ohio AFL-CIO convention in Cincinnati. Upon his arrival in Cleveland, Udall said was not surprised by his poor showing in Tuesday's primaries in Kentucky, Tennessee and Arkansas.

The Arizona congressman said he entered those primaries to "show the South and show the border states that I'm a national candidate who is willing to campaign in all regions of the country."

Earlier he told delegates to the AFL-CIO convention his record has been pro-labor and said they should disregard the notion that a conservative tide is sweeping the nation.

"The liberal program by and large has been a success," Udall said. "The failures have been small and they have been few and by and large we've rooted them out."

Butz told a farm bureau audience in Findlay Tuesday night that the country's present farm programs won't work if the United States doesn't maintain an increase in agriculture exports.

He said the country now exports production from one out of four acres and the exports have assumed an importance to farmers unequaled in this country.

Mrs. Carter said in an interview in Dayton that attacks against her husband by former Georgia Gov. Lester Maddox trained her for the presidential campaign.

"When Jimmy was governor of Georgia and Maddox was lieutenant governor, well, Maddox called him everything—a communist, just everything," she said.

"Well, I guess you could say that was good training for some of the attacks Jimmy gets now," she added.

Reagan chairman selected

Mrs. Martha Reiff, 404 Rawlings St., has been named chairman of the Reagan presidential campaign in Fayette County, it was announced today by Frederick F. Stannard, chairman for the Sixth Congressional District for the Ohio Citizens for Reagan.

Mrs. Reiff has announced the opening of the Fayette County "Reagan for President" headquarters, located on the point between Clinton and Leesburg avenues, across from the Kroger Co. store.

Work has already to organize a volunteer effort to support the former California governor in the June 8 primary election. Mrs. Reiff has appointed John Rhoad as publicity chairman; John H. Roszmann as finance committee chairman, and Mrs. Jane Williams and Mrs. Charlotte Willis to head the telephone campaign.

"I am delighted to have the opportunity to work for Governor Reagan in Fayette County," Mrs. Reiff said. "I am looking for additional volunteers to help in the closing days of the campaign. Anyone interested may call 335-2446," she said.

Reagan's name will appear on the statewide ballot for delegates at large and on the district ballot for election of three delegates from the Sixth Congressional District on the Republican primary ballot.

Convention eyes boost in union dues

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — The special convention that's to consider boosting union dues for members of United Rubber Workers to replenish the union's depleted strike-benefit fund won't provide funds for the 60,000 members now on strike, their chief says.

URW President Peter Bommarito flew to Chicago Tuesday to prepare for the Thursday assembly, but not before blasting rubber companies for using white-collar personnel to build tires during the strike, now in its sixth week.

The URW leader also said threats of plant closings have produced a new union demand in the negotiations that already were stalled on economic issues and had recessed last week until June 1.

And he said that Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. planned to raise prices and blame the strike.

Bommarito contended the struck tire companies were using untrained clerical and supervisory personnel to build tires during the strike. Bommarito said the practice presented "a clear safety hazard to the consuming public."

Goodyear and Goodrich responded that there is no quality problem with the tires being built, and Goodrich called Bommarito's allegations "nonsense, and he knows better."

Firestone refused to comment, and Uniroyal Inc. officials couldn't be reached.

Bommarito said he asked the Department of Transportation to investigate.

Write-in candidate files 3-C petitions

MRS. CLEO WARNER

Mrs. Cleo Warner, a veteran committeewoman, has filed petitions with the Fayette County Board of Elections as a write-in candidate for the June 8 primary election in Fayette County.

Mrs. Warner will be running in Precinct C of the city's third ward. Her opponent will be Richard P. Kimmel. The Republican candidate in the precinct is Robert McArthur.

Mrs. Warner, who resides at 1008 S. Fayette St., is employed at the Martha Washington dress shop in Washington C.H.

THEY CAN HELP — Julie Harris, supporting services staff person for Fayette County, and Marsha Davis, coordinator of the Help Anonymous program, are shown as they enter their office located at St. Andrew's Episcopal Church, Ohio 41-S. Their jobs were created during the summer of 1975 in an attempt to provide a service for persons seeking information or assistance of some kind.

Advice, guidance to elderly being provided

Two people that really care

By CINDI PEARCE

Record-Herald Staff Writer

It was once said by Josh Billings (Henry Wheeler Shaw) that in youth, we run into difficulties; in old age, difficulties run into us. Sad, but true.

Not all senior citizens are physically active, financially secure and healthy during their retirement years, but now, since the organization of Help Anonymous, and supporting service funded by the Ohio Commission on Aging, these people can turn to Marsha Davis and Julie Harris, for advice, guidance, and whatever else they need.

Help Anonymous is not directed towards any specific age group, but Mrs. Davis reports that many of her calls are from older people who are seeking aid. Julie Harris, who works in the same office as Mrs. Davis, is the supporting services staff person for Fayette County. She is a direct service provider and thinks nothing of getting a prescription filled for a person who is unable to do this for himself, or hauling a person's dirty clothes to the laundromat. Mrs. Harris deals exclusively with senior citizens.

"I provide transportation for the senior citizens when necessary. I visit their homes and I help them fill out Medicare and income tax forms and assist them when they apply for Social Security, which can be a complicated process," Ms. Harris stated, when asked what her duties as a supporting service person entailed. "Actually, I do just about anything that needs to be done."

Everything, that is done by these two women, is strictly confidential. For instance, if Mrs. Davis wants some background information from the welfare department concerning a person who has contacted her, a release form must first be signed by the person in question before Mrs. Davis has access to the individual's files.

Mrs. Davis said that about 90 per cent of the calls that she receives are referral calls. "If someone needs medical attention, but doesn't know where, or how, to go about getting it, my job is to refer them to doctors, agencies, or clinics that will accept them. One time a person called and was worried about one of his relatives in the Cleveland area who was ill. I was able to tell him who to contact in Cleveland to see that his relative was taken care of. After I refer a person, I call them back in a few days just to see how everything's going, and to see if they've obtained the service. It lets them know that somebody really cares."

Mrs. Davis and Ms. Harris are sometimes able to obtain financial aid for those persons who contact them and request such assistance. The biggest majority of their callers are seeking advice on how to obtain monetary supplementation. "One of the biggest problems this year has been with the client's utility bills. Julie and I work with Dayton Power and Light, and sometimes with a budget counselor, in an attempt to impress upon our clients that they should save money during the summer months in order to have that extra cash they will need in the winter to pay their utilities with," Mrs. Davis stated.

The voice behind Help Anonymous feels that there should be a mental health clinic in this area. "When people have a real crisis, they need help then, not in a day or in a week. The only mental health clinic around is located in Chillicothe and a lot of people aren't able to go there," Mrs. Davis said.

Ms. Harris agreed and then added, "So many older people think of psychiatric help as a taboo thing. They believe that a person has got to be totally nutty to resort to this. When we come across a case where this sort of treatment is needed, we try to work through the client's family and gain support from them first before confronting the person."

Many times it is hard for Mrs. Davis and Ms. Harris to make a total assessment of a person just by speaking to them on the telephone, consequently, they make "house calls." Asked if they'd ever encountered a sticky situation when visiting the home of one of their clients, who obviously had a problem since they'd called, Ms. Harris replied, "No, nothing has ever happened. In order to do my job in the best possible way, I can't be afraid of going into strange homes. That is my responsibility. I must find out what is wrong with the individual or individuals."

Mrs. Davis stated, "At times one can get a bit apprehensive. If we get a phone call that sounds unusual, we may take someone along with us when we visit that particular home, but this doesn't happen often."

Since so many of Mrs. Davis' clients are older people, it seemed a logical question to ask the coordinator of Help Anonymous why so many senior citizens needed her service. "Most of their troubles boil down to the issue of finances. With the economy as it is, it can make for an awful lot of tension. Once a person retires, he lives on a fixed income. These people get into a pinch because of medical bills and then, simply because they own their home or car, they can't qualify for any aid even though they really need, and deserve it considering that they have worked hard all of their lives."

Mrs. Davis and Ms. Harris concurred that older people are often swindled. "Older people are vulnerable, consequently, they become easy targets for business ventures which aren't always on the up and up," Mrs. Davis revealed. "We have had calls concerning photography and hearing aid deals. We check to see if these ventures are registered with the Chamber of Commerce, and if they aren't, we tell the persons who have been contacted by these dealers to be cautious," Mrs. Davis said.

Occasionally the two women will check out what an individual is paying for rent if this person believes the amount is too high. "We just want to make sure that it is reasonable. We really need senior citizen and low income housing in this area for people who are operating on an extremely tight budget," Mrs. Davis stated.

The two women are located in a small

Rev. Wheat to be keynote speaker at local rites

Memorial Day services scheduled here on Monday

REV. GERALD WHEAT

The Rev. Gerald R. Wheat, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in Washington C.H. will be the keynote speaker for the traditional Memorial Day services scheduled in Washington C.H. Monday, May 31.

Rev. Wheat will speak during ceremonies to be held in Washington C.H. Cemetery. Having obtained a master of theology degree in 1955 from Pittsburgh Seminary, Rev. Wheat served four different congregations before becoming pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in Washington C.H. in 1969.

Rev. Wheat is a past president of the Fayette County Ministerial Association, and is active in many local organizations and councils.

American Legion members will parade from N. Main Street to the Washington Cemetery for the services. The parade will begin at 6 p.m. Participating groups will include the sponsors of the observance, the Paul H.

Hughey and Homer Lawson posts of the American Legion the Burnett Ducey Post No. 4964 of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the Fayette County Barracks of the veterans of World War I as well as their auxiliaries.

Others expected to participate include the local Ohio Army National Guard unit which will march in the parade and provide the firing squad, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Camp Fire Girls, and the Washington Senior High School marching band.

The Washington C.H. Middle School band and members of the local Civil Air Patrol unit are scheduled to appear in the parade. The newly-formed Community Education drill team will also be present.

Parade marshal this year will be F. Paul Souther of Washington C.H. He said the groups will begin forming for the parade on N. Main Street at Court Street around 5 p.m.

The parade will proceed along Court

Street, down Washington Avenue, and into the Washington Cemetery. During services at the cemetery, a special firing squad using original rifles of past wars will accompany the Ohio National Guard firing squad. Flintlocks, percussion muskets, and Springfield "trap door" rifles will be fired during the bicentennial salute.

Following the service in Washington Cemetery, the participants will hold a memorial tribute at St. Colman's Catholic Cemetery. Following the conclusion of the activities, a standard volley will be discharged by the guardsmen, and taps will be sounded.

Special Sunday services will be held in Highlawn memory gardens, CCC Highway-W, with the Burnett Ducey VFW Post conducting the ceremony. They will furnish the firing squad.

Services in the Highlawn Memory Gardens will commence at 2 p.m. with the Rev. Allen Puffenberger, associate pastor of the Grace United Methodist Church in Washington C.H., officiating. Rev. Wilbur Bullock, pastor of the McNair Presbyterian Church, will deliver the invocation.

The Memorial Day service in the village of Bloomingburg will be held at 2 p.m. Monday. The parade, led by the Miami Trace High School marching band, will form at Bloomingburg Elementary School. The Rev. Alton J. Myers of the Presbyterian Church, will give the invocation, and a silent tribute will be made to the Gold Star mother, the late Mrs. Ella Speakman.

A memorial tribute will be made by Russell Liston, commander of the Paul H. Hughey American Legion Post 25. The memorial address will be presented by Washington C.H. parade marshal Souther.

Rev. Bloomer will present the wreath, and the Miami Trace High School band will play the national anthem and

Carter pads delegate lead

Ford dampens Reagan thrust in primaries

By DAVE GOLDBERG

Associated Press Writer

The heaviest presidential primary day in American history is over with President Ford holding off Ronald Reagan on what might have been a big Reagan day and Democratic front-runner Jimmy Carter increasing his delegate lead.

There were six primaries on Tuesday, three in Southern or border states and three in the far West, areas that are the cornerstone of Reagan's Sun Belt strategy.

But Ford managed a split in the popular vote, winning as expected in Oregon and beating Reagan by narrow margins in Tennessee and Kentucky. And while Reagan's bigger wins in Nevada, Idaho and Arkansas gave him a net gain of 20 delegates on the day, the President still leads, 779 delegates to 642 for Reagan in the race for the GOP presidential nomination.

Carter won Arkansas, Kentucky and Tennessee, but lost Oregon, considered the day's main event, to Sen. Frank Church. Church also won in his home state of Idaho. California Gov. Edmund G. Brown Jr. easily captured the Nevada primary.

But Carter, despite the mixed results, won a total of 136 delegates, combining those picked up in primaries with 28 more in district conventions in Missouri and two in an Alabama runoff. That puts the former Georgia governor past the halfway mark with 876 of the 1,505 delegates needed for the Democratic nomination.

Rep. Morris K. Udall of Arizona, who picked up a scattered six delegates Tuesday, remains second with 298.5. There is also a bloc of 363.5 uncommitted votes.

Reagan had predicted he would win at least four of the six and it looked for a while like he might squeeze out a win in Tennessee to make his prediction good. Ford's margin was narrow through much of the evening, and Reagan pulled to within 123 votes with about 50 precincts left to report.

But those precincts were in the Knoxville area, where Ford had done well all night and when they were finally counted, the President had squeezed through to a 1,500-vote victory, although he lost the delegate race 22-21 because of weighting by Congressional districts.

Stuart Spencer, Ford's deputy campaign manager, said the President was happy with the results. "This is the night Reagan had to make a big comeback," Spencer said. "He didn't do it."

Reagan said he was pleased with his wins in Arkansas, Idaho and Nevada. He said of Kentucky and Tennessee, "I feel good doing as well as I did in these border states."

Church called the Oregon and Idaho wins "a quantum leap forward for my campaign." And he added: "The results tonight show people are taking a second look at Jimmy Carter."

But Carter emphasized his delegate harvest and that he has won half the primaries he has entered in May.

Udall, who won only six delegates Tuesday, said he was still in the race. "I won delegates in Arkansas and Kentucky," he said. "Mo Udall is a national candidate."

"Obviously I like to win," said Brown, a winner last week in Maryland, of the results in Oregon, where he was a write-in candidate. "But a write-in requires a commitment far greater than just punching a hole by the candidate's name."

Here are the returns from Tuesday's contests:

Oregon

With 73 per cent of the precincts

counted:

Ford 86,241 or 52 per cent and 17

delegates.

Reagan 79,729 or 48 per cent and 13

delegates.

Among the Democrats:

Church 78,069 or 36 per cent and 15

delegates.

Carter 62,201 or 28 per cent and 12

delegates.

Brown 50,195 or 21 per cent and 7

delegates.

The rest were scattered..

Tennessee

With 99 per cent of the precincts

reporting:

Ford 119,162 or 50 per cent and 21

delegates.

Reagan 117,641 or 49 per cent and 22

delegates.

On the Democratic side:

Carter 255,315 or 78 per cent and 36

delegates.

Wallace 36,169 or 11 per cent and one delegate.

The rest of the vote was split seven ways and nine uncommitted delegates were chosen.

Kentucky

With 99 per cent of the precincts

counted:

With female employee

'Personal relationship' admitted by Rep. Hays

WASHINGTON (AP) — Following Rep. Wayne Hays' admission that he had a "personal relationship" with a woman employee, the question remaining in dispute is whether she received $14,000 a year at taxpayer expense to be his mistress or whether she was a productive employee of Congress.

The Justice Department is trying to resolve that question and the little-used House ethics committee may make an effort, too.

Hays, in an emotional speech before the full House on Tuesday, admitted he lied when he denied having a relationship with Elizabeth Ray, a shapely clerk on the payroll of his House Administration Committee. But he contended he was telling the truth when he said he did not keep her on the government payroll at $14,000 a year just for her sexual services.

FBI agents were reportedly continuing their investigation for the Justice Department of Hays' relationship with Miss Ray as the House ethics committee was receiving strong pressure to open its own probe.

Twenty-eight House members, in a letter to ethics committee chairman John J. Flynt, urged the panel to launch an investigation "in order to guarantee the integrity of the House of Representatives, its members and its committees."

Flynt was campaigning in his home state of Georgia as Hays made his speech admitting his relationship with Miss Ray, but said he was flying to Washington immediately. He said all of the requests for an investigation, including a telephoned request from Hays himself, were "informal," noting his panel could act only on a formal request.

Four of the 28 members who signed the letter asking for the ethics committee investigation also sent a letter to Speaker Carl Albert. Albert and other House leaders were in London to accept a loan of the Magna Carta for the Bicentennial celebration.

In his confession before the crowded House chamber, the 65-year-old Hays denied keeping Miss Ray, 33, on the government payroll as his mistress. He said he lied about his relationship with her because he did not want his new wife to find out about it.

"Six weeks ago, I was married to the woman I love more than any other person or thing in this world. . . Prior to this time, and for an extended period of time, I did have a relationship with Elizabeth Ray. I was legally separated and single. It was voluntary on her part and mine," Hays said.

He said he ended the relationship before his remarriage. He was divorced from his first wife in January.

Hays insisted that Miss Ray performed office duties for her pay, despite her contention that she could not type or handle telephones and that she did not do any work for Hays' committee.

Miss Ray, who says she was on the payroll only to be available for sex with Hays, denied Tuesday that her relationship with the congressman ended with his remarriage. She said she had seen him four times since his marriage and that they had been intimate twice.

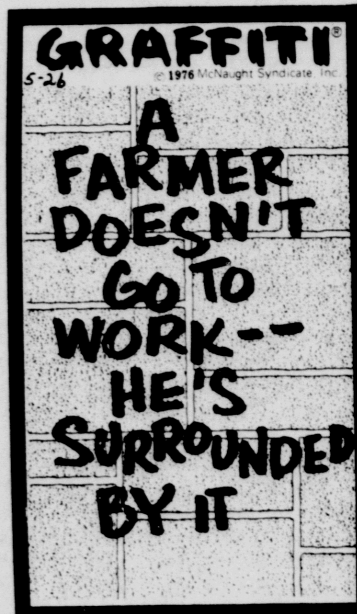

"I'm not taking anything back. I'm telling the truth," she said.

Meanwhile, the Washington Post said it found that Miss Ray's name was not included on a list of House Administration Committee employees in monthly reports from November 1975 to February 1976. Hayes was required to file the reports under House rules requiring that all committee employees be named.

The report for November 1975, signed by Hays on Dec. 15, does not list Miss Ray's name. Her name does appear on House payroll records.

Failure to list Miss Ray in the committee staff reports for four months had the effect of keeping her

Opinion And Comment

Vital principle reaffirmed

At one point in the Senate Watergate committee hearings in the summer of 1973, the inquiry turned to the Nixon administration's break in at the office of Daniel Ellsberg's psychiatrist. Sen. Herman E. Talmadge put this question to John D. Ehrlichman, then a principal White House aide:

"Do you remember when we were in law school, we studied a famous principle of law that came from England and also is well known in this country, that no matter how humble a man's cottage is, that even the king of England cannot enter without his consent?"

To which Ehrlichman replied in his usual cocky fashion: "I am afraid that has considerably eroded over the years, has it not?"

The erosion of this sound principle safeguarding individual privacy against government intrusion is not, fortunately, as great as Ehrlichman then purported to believe. This has just been reaffirmed by the United States Court of Appeals in Washington in sustaining the civil rights conspiracy and perjury conviction of Ehrlichman in connection with the break-in.

The Court of Appeals made a most important point. In tough language it rejected the Justice Department's claim, offered in a friend-of-the-court memorandum, that break-ins "are justified under the proper circumstances when related to foreign espionage or intelligence." Not so, said the court, noting that this specious justification for violation of the Fourth Amendment "in effect seeks to rewrite history."

The court further said that the Justice Department's position favoring warrantless entry would sacrifice a fundamental tenet of the Constitution "on the altar of security." The judges gave no weight to the contention made in Ehrlichman's behalf that there was some vaguely defined national security exemption to the requirement for a judicial warrant. To underscore their view they said:

"No court has ever in any way indicated, nor has any presidential administration or attorney general claimed, that any executive officer acting under an inexplicit presidential mandate may authorize warrantless searches of foreign agents or collaborators - much less the warrantless search of the offices of an American citizen not himself suspected of collaboration."

Thus the court made gratifyingly clear its belief that the principle broached by Talmadge is still firmly a part of American jurisprudence. Not even the government in all its power may enter and search private premises without the consent of the occupant or a warrant setting forth the objects of the search.

THESE DAYS . . . By John Chamberlain

Forgotten prophets

I have the greatest admiration for Alexander Solzhenitsyn, the exiled Russian prophet and man of letters. He is probably the bravest man of our times. The West will continue to live in mortal peril if it refuses to listen to his warnings that detente, as practiced by the Soviets, is a sham. It is being used to cover an encircling operation that will ultimately leave the U.S. alone in the world without a single dependable ally.

Angola was just one step in a process that has been going on for three decades, and it is one of the many virtues of Ronald Reagan, as a contender for the U.S. presidency, that he knows the baleful wind blowing from the east ever since Yalta has reached through the Caribbean to the borders of our Panama Canal Zone.

But if Solzhenitsyn deserves all the acclaim that is coming his way, I often wonder why those who praise him seem to forget that other prophets have been there before him.

WHAT 'GULAG' MEANS

Solzhenitsyn put the word "Gulag" into all our vocabularies when he published his account of life and death in the prison camps of the Soviet Union. "Gulag" is an acronym for Glavnoye Upravleniye Lagerei, or Office of Penal Labor Camps; and the significance of the title of Solzhenitsyn's "Gulag Archipelago" is that the slave colonies of Russia are dotted over the whole stretch of the U.S.S.R. in a configuration that suggests the far-flung islands of Polynesia.

The Solzhenitsyn popularization of Gulag should have recalled, but didn't, a terrifying map that accompanied an article titled "Gulag - Slavery, Inc." that Isaac Don Levine wrote and published in his now forgotten magazine Plain Talk in May, 1947. That was 26 years before Solzhenitsyn made "Gulag" a household word all through the West. As Don Levine wrote, explaining his map, "all the territory controlled by Gulag, if consolidated, would make a submerged empire exceeding in area the boundaries of Western Europe." Levine had gotten his data from Poles who had been released from prison camps by Stalin to form a Polish exile army that fought at Monte Cassino in Italy.

I remember the Gulag map in Plain Talk, for I was one of the contributors to Mr. Levine's magazine. The map was ignored by our State Department even in Cold War days, but it was destined to play a curious matchmaker role in the meeting last year of Solzhenitsyn and the leaders of the American Federation of Labor. A copy of the map, taken from a special edition ordered by the Free Trade Union Committee, had reached Russia, where Solzhenitsyn saw it. At the grand reception accorded him by the AFL in Washington, Solzhenitsyn referred to Mr. Levine's coup, generously but mistakenly, as an AFL publication.

The Gulag map of 1947 may be found in an anthology of Plain Talk articles just published by Arlington House. The anthology is worth anyone's perusal. As Suzanne La Follette, a former associate editor of Plain Talk, has written: "We have Solzhenitsyn sounding like an extended Plain Talk anthology." It is true - and what the statement proves is that Soviet Russia has never for a moment called a halt to the Cold War.

The articles assembled by Mr. Levine in his anthology include a score of prophetic essays that could be passed off as completely new by the substitution of the name of Brezhnev for Stalin, of Kissinger for Secretary of State George Marshall, of President Ford for James F. Byrnes, and of "the Gromykos and Suslov's" for "the Molotovs and Vishnyskys." Solzhenitsyn - and the behavior of the Soviets in Southeast Asia, in the Middle East, in Somaliland and Angola in Africa, and in Cuba and Chile - have made all the old Plain Talk articles relevant again.

The truly significant thing is that some Americans have never been fooled about the nature of international Communism. They deserve some of the praise being lavished on Solzhenitsyn.

Ohio Perspective

Railroad finance issue on ballot

By WILLIAM KRONHOLM

Associated Press Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio voters are being given a second chance June 8 to approve a constitutional amendment allowing state financial participation in the reorganization of the nation's railroads.

They will be casting their votes on Issue 2, a proposed amendment almost identical to the ill-fated Issue 8 on last November's ballot.

It would allow state or local financial aid to Amtrak, the national passenger rail system, or to ConRail, the new national freight rail system, for operations on Ohio tracks.

Backers claim the measure is needed to allow Ohio to use millions of dollars in federal funds to continue rail operations on tracks serving rural grain elevators and small factories, tracks which otherwise will be abandoned as unprofitable.

The only public official to speak against the proposal thus far, Senate Minority Leader Michael J. Maloney, R-7 Cincinnati, has argued that the amendment gives the appointed Ohio Rail Transportation Authority too much authority over state debt.

Issue 8, which would have done the same as Issue 2 proposes, was defeated decisively at the polls last fall. But backers claim the outcome was because it was overshadowed by Gov. James A. Rhodes' doomed bond issue proposals, not to voter hostility to the concept itself.

"Issue 8 just got lost in the Rhodes' proposals," said Rep. Arthur Wilkowski, D-46 Toledo, the legislative sponsor of both proposals and of most of Ohio's rail legislation.

In its new appearance, Issue 2 spells out that it covers only Amtrak, ConRail or other government-created railroads. And, backers hope the lack of other controversial state questions on the ballot will allow discussion of some of the reasons for the amendment.

Backers say the amendment is needed to prevent the eventual abandonment of hundreds of miles of rail track caused by the creation of ConRail, the Consolidated Rail Corp.

ConRail, the government backed corporation which on April 1 took over the Penn Central and other bankrupt rail lines, has dropped operations on branch freight tracks which were not earning a profit.

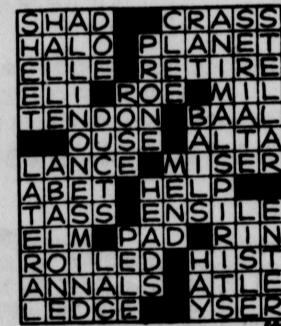

But, to prevent complete economic disruption, the law creating ConRail allowed it to continue operating on such lines as long as someone—private business or state or local government—agreed to subsidize the loss.

The provision ran straight into Ohio's constitution, however. The constitution forbids the state or its subdivisions from giving state money to a private enterprise. That would bar participation in the ConRail funding plan.

Dear Abby:

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

Don't let lips decide feelings

DEAR ABBY: I must take exception to your statement: "The mouth is an erogenous zone, reserved for one's lover-or for mouth-to-mouth resuscitation."

The mouth is an erogenous zone ONLY if one wants it to be. Otherwise it has no more emotion than the back of your hand. My family is not what might be called a family of kissers. However, I've kissed my sisters, father, mother and even my daughters on the mouth, and none of us ever regarded it as anything other than a warm greeting, which was the way it was intended.

Now, I have kissed many girls (and of course my wife) on the mouth when I had amorous intentions and found that they can respond as they feel. It has nothing to do with the "lip contact" — only the intentions of the two parties, which must be mutual and simultaneous.

I trust that you will give this further thought and agree with my view.

KISSIN' PHIL
DEAR PHIL: A kiss is just a kiss, unless it is otherwise intended. But the erogenous zone is a dangerous place to decide which is which.

DEAR ABBY: My father says that I have to ask you what you think the punishment should be for the crime I committed. I stole money from my parents.

So whatever you say, I will have to do. I am 12 years old.

GUILTY IN CLIFTON, N.J.
DEAR GUILTY: Pay back the money out of your allowance or work for it. Ask the Lord's forgiveness and write, "I will not steal" 100 times. And vow NEVER to steal again.

DEAR ABBY: We recently announced that our daughter is being married at a large wedding on June 26th. A friendly neighbor phoned and asked at what time our wedding was scheduled. I told her 2 P.M. Then she told me that HER daughter was being married the same day at 5 P.M. and asked if she could use our flowers.

I didn't know what to say, so I said yes.

When I told my husband, he said I should have told her if she wanted to use our flowers, she should pay half the florist bill. They are just about as well off financially as we are.

Now my husband wants me to ring the lady up and make that suggestion, but I haven't the nerve.

Please help me.

DEAR WASN'T: The time to have made the suggestion was when she asked to use your flowers. Although it would be rather awkward to suggest it now, do so. But remember, you already said yes.

DEAR ABBY: It tickled my funny-bone to think that with all the uproar from Women's Libbers, they neglected to change MENopause to personopause.

J.E. IN EL CAJON, CALIF.
DEAR J.E.: MENopause is strictly for women, and I seriously doubt if any man would insist on getting a piece of the action.

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Today In History

By The Associated Press
Today is Wednesday, May 26, the 147th day of 1976. There are 219 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1868, an attempt to impeach President Andrew Johnson was defeated in the Senate by one vote.

On this date: In 1790, Tennessee was organized as a territory.

In 1805, Napoleon Bonaparte was crowned King of Italy.

In 1864, the Montana Territory was organized.

In 1942, during World War II, Britain and the Soviet Union signed a 20-year treaty of alliance.

In 1954, the funeral ship of the Egyptian Pharaoh, Cheops, was discovered in a limestone chamber near the Great Pyramid of Giza.

In 1970, prices on the New York Stock Exchange hit their lowest level in eight years after a steep 17-month slide.

Ten years ago: British Guiana became the independent Latin American nation of Guyana.

Five years ago: A Philippine vessel with 40 persons aboard was lost southeast of Manila during a typhoon. There were no survivors.

One year ago: The foreign ministers of nine European Common Market nations, meeting in Dublin, Ireland, agreed to step up trade with Portugal to help maintain democracy in the troubled nation.

Today's birthday's: Actor John Wayne is 69.

Thought for today: The art of living is more like that of wrestling than that of dancing. The main thing is to stand firm and be ready for an unforeseen attack — Marcus Aurelius, Roman emperor, 121-180.

Bicentennial footnote: Two-hundred years ago today, French leaders were conferring in Paris about a possible secret shipment of 15,000 muskets to the rebellious British Colonies in America.

Seniors of the Week

Our first featured senior of this week is Debbie Cremeans, daughter of Jerry Cremeans and Mrs. Sadie Copas. She resides at Rt. 1, Greenfield. Debbie has two younger sisters, Renee and Lisa.

Debbie's courses this year include government, symphonic choir, business law, senior homemaking, English composition, consumer economics, media, international studies, and family living. Among her many activities are Future Teachers of America, FHA, cheerleader for three years, student council, Wayne Fashionaires 4-H Club and Wayne Progressive Farmers 4-H Club. Debbie is secretary of the Junior Fair Board, vice-president of Junior Leadership, and she attends Good Hope United Methodist Church. Her hobbies include sewing, cooking, participating in all sports, teaching gymnastics, and simply enjoying life.

Hopefully, Debbie's future plans are to go to Columbus and work in some field of fashion. "Try to set your goals early and work for them. Try to get the most you can from all the learning experiences, not only in class, but in extracurricular activities also," is her advice to the underclassmen.

Terry Kitchen, son of Mr. and Robert Kitchen, is our next featured senior. He resides at 2682 Church, SW, Washington C.H. He has one brother, Danny, and two sisters, Mrs. Jerry Ely and Mrs. Joe Gentry.

Terry's courses this year are Distributive Education II, American government, machine shop, and American literature. Terry is the president of the DECCA Club. He is employed at Roney's Auto Parts, and he is a member of the Staunton Church. His hobbies include working on cars, bike riding, softball, basketball and fishing.

Terry's future plans are to continue working at his present job. "Be cool and have as much fun as you can but stay out of trouble," is Terry's advice to the underclassmen.

Finally we have Herb Smith, son of George and JoAnn Smith. He lives at Rt. 1, Jeffersonville. Herb has one older brother and one younger sister.

Herb's classes this year are business law, government, machine shop, consumer economics, shop maintenance, English composition, and science fiction. His activities include six years of 4-H and three years of wrestling. Herb's hobbies are working on the farm, driving a car, working in the school shop, and being outdoors.

His future plans are to attend Clark Technical College and take drafting. "I have especially enjoyed my senior year at Trace, and I am looking forward to the future," commented Herb.

MT drill team members chosen

By DENISE BEODDY

Members of the 1976-77 drill team were recently selected.

They are Twila Dennis, Brenda Joseph, Debbie Rayburn, Cindy Baird, Suzanne Sicker, Alisa Hughes, Beth Rapp, Tracy Scott, Nancy Spears, Julie Perrill, Beth Barton, Geri Warnock, Lisa McCoy, Michelle Hart, Joan Jordan, Brenda Lower.

The girls were judged on marching techniques, ability to learn a new routine, and to perform the routine in a group. Each girl was required to make up and perform an original marching routine and an original dance routine. Congratulations girls!

Senior class holds party

The Class of 1976 held its class party Friday evening at Kings Island. The gates were open from 9 p.m. until 4 a.m. Special entertainment was provided by Eric Carmen and Brownsville Station. Wolfman Jack was also present for the evening's activities.

Seniors and their guests enjoyed a fun-filled evening, complete with rides, food, and music. Though crowds were large, lines moved quickly, and a good time was had by all.

Housing shortage to become critical

VANCOUVER, B.C. (AP) — You think there's a housing shortage now? In the next 30 years, the United Nations says, 3.5 billion more people will need places to live, and that's enough to create 3,500 cities of a million residents each. There are fewer than 300 cities of that size now.

Aware of that, 4,000 delegates from 120 nations meet here for two weeks beginning Sunday in the fifth United Nations conference to be held this decade — the U.N. Conference on Human Settlements, or Habitat.

Delegates, in committee work and plenary sessions, will try to devise ways for coping with the worldwide urban crisis.

Participants in the conference and a parallel gathering — Habitat Forum, opening Thursday for representatives of nongovernmental organizations — face facts, the U.N. says, like these:

—Another 600 million housing units will be needed in the next 30 years, or more than those existing in the entire world today.

—Even now, the World Health Organization believes more than a billion people don't have basics, like safe water to drink.

—Cities, towns and villages, especially those in developing countries, already are in crisis, lacking jobs, choked by pollution, crowded, inundated by slums, devoid of good transportation and riddled by crime.

'America the Beautiful' theme

"America the Beautiful" was the theme of the Alpha Theta Chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha Sorority's mother-daughter banquet held recently in Persinger Hall, First Presbyterian Church. The hall was patriotically decorated in red, white and blue.

Mrs. Jerry Hoppes, toast mistress for the evening, introduced Mrs. Charles McIlvaine and Miss Heather McIlvaine who gave tributes to mothers and daughters. Miss Sarah Beth Rankin read a poem "Grandmothers."

Following the buffet dinner, an awards presentation was made. Mrs. Micky Barker was presented the philanthropic award for all her hours spent in different philanthropic projects throughout the year. Mrs. Don Gibbs was presented the "Outstanding Girl Award" for this year. Several members received pins for their years of service in Alpha Theta. Ten-year pins were given to Mrs. Jack Merriman, Mrs. John Morris, Mrs. Tom Rankin and Mrs. Gibbs. Mrs. Barker received a five-year pin.

Mrs. Jerry Hoppes introduced Mr. John Schlichter, who sang several songs. He was accompanied by Mrs. Cinda Stinson.

Following the program, Mrs. Ron Ratliff and Mrs. Gibbs installed the newly-elected officers. They are: President—Mrs. Jerry Hoppes; vice president—Mrs. John Bernard; recording secretary—Mrs. Morris; corresponding secretary—Mrs. McIlvaine; treasurer—Mrs. Barker; philanthropic chairman—Mrs. Richard Wood; social chairman—Mrs. Rankin; education—Mrs. Fred Zechman; ways and means—Mrs. Richard Hill; publicity—Mrs. Sherry Vrettos; parliamentarian—Mrs. Jack Moats; and Mrs. Ratliff, junior past president.

Those attending the banquet were Mrs. Barker and Mrs. James Barker, Mrs. Barnard and Mrs. Arthur Barnard, Mrs. Clyde Cramer, Mrs. Wayne Hummel, Mrs. Rachael Smith, Mrs. Don Gibbs, Mrs. Clarice Walliser, Mrs. John Gruber and Andrea and Marcia, Mrs. Richard Hill and Julie, Mrs. Forrest Hill, Mrs. James Lucas, Mrs. Fred Hoppes, Mrs. Max Schlichter, Mrs. Jerry Hoppes, Mrs. Eugene Thompson, Mrs. L.C. Hoppes, Miss Debbie Creameans, Mrs. McIlvaine and Heather.

Also Mrs. Jack Merriman and Becky, Mrs. Archie McCullough, Mrs. Jack Moats, Mrs. Jay Jobe, Mrs. John Morris and Julie and Jana, Mrs. Jim Oughterton, Mrs. Hargus Ramey, Mrs. Tom Rankin and Sara Beth, Mrs. Richard Rankin, Mrs. William Allen, Mrs. Ron Ratliff and Mollie, Mrs. Cecil Acton, Mrs. Vrettos, Mrs. Willard Browder, Mrs. Richard Wood, Mrs. Charles Wood, Mrs. Ralph Villars, Mrs. Zechman, Mrs. John Neil, Mrs. Ron Warner and Andrea, Mrs. Bill Marting, Mrs. Emerson Marting, Mrs. William Mount and Mrs. Chuck Wisler.

Stitch and Chat Club elects new officers

The Stitch and Chat Club of Jeffersonville met in the United Methodist Church dining room for a carry-in luncheon. Members and guests found their places at the table which was attractive with arrangements of spring flowers. A booklet, "Great Prayers from the Bible" was at each place setting, a gift from the Rev. Eugene Griffith, pastor of the church.

Following the dinner, Mrs. Joe Ferguson, welcomed the group and read "Liberty Bell" and "Communism." Fifteen members answered roll call by naming a thought concerning the club. Mrs. Earl Swaney read minutes of the April meeting. Mrs. Otis Thompson reported the club is selling lunch trays, a club project. Mrs. Swaney, Mrs. Martha Allen, Mrs. Virginia Coil and Mrs. Bertha French were appointed to submit plans for a club trip at the June meeting.

Mrs. Reba Straley read the new slate of officers for 1976-77: President—Mrs. Ferguson; vice president—Mrs. Thelma Cline; secretary—Mrs. Allen; treasurer—Mrs. O. Thompson; press reporter—Miss Helen Fults; flowers—Mrs. Allen and Mrs. Alice Steen.

Hostesses were Mrs. Martha Reedy, Mrs. Coil, Mrs. French and Mrs. Helen Chester. Guests were the Rev. and Mrs. Griffith, Mrs. David Krupla of Bloomington, Mrs. Helen Dinkle of Dayton and Mrs. R. Huffman of Jeffersonville.

Cherry cards were signed for members and friends who are ill and Mrs. Carl Stackhouse, Mrs. Kermit Knox, Miss Alma Armstrong and Miss Helen Fults will be the hostesses for June.

Mothers Circle skating party

Wednesday Club

Mrs. Fred Oswald was hostess to the Bloomington Wednesday Club. Her home was lovely with spring flowers from her garden at focal points. Mrs. Lawrence Garinger, president, conducted the meeting and read "The Wilderness is Tamed."

It was announced that the club had sent flowers to Mrs. Homer Smith and Mrs. Forest Haines, who have recently been hospitalized.

Mrs. Don Thornton gave the "History of the Club" which was organized in 1910 in the home of Alma Carmen. The club was made up of 12 charter members who were real close school friends. Mrs. Forest Haines and Mrs. Ewing Fichthorn, two charter members, are still active in the club activities. During the year, 40 members were added, and at the present time there are 12 active and three associate members.

Refreshments were served. The next meeting, June 16, at 1:30 p.m. Mrs. M. G. Morris, will be hostess.

Stratfordshire china topic for MW committee meet

Mrs. John Leland entertained 16 members of the Martha Washington Committee on Indian Affairs, Daughters of the American Revolution, and a guest, Mrs. John Fent, when they assembled in her home for the May meeting.

The nominating committee announced the officers: Mrs. Robert Harris, chairman, Mrs. Cecil Van Zant, assistant; Miss Helen Slavens, treasurer; and Mrs. Ronald Cornwell, secretary.

Mrs. Gilbert Crouse reported on the proposed trip to Adena June 10, when the group will visit the Ross County Historical Society in the morning, be luncheon guests at the Poland House, and tour the Franklin Home.

For the program Mrs. Willard Bitzer spoke on Stratfordshire china, of which she and Mr. Bitzer have a collection, which dates back to 189. The designs on the china is based on the Book of Poems by Routledge, with pictures of Dr. Syntax's tours.

Hostesses Mrs. Leland, Mrs. Howard Perrill and Mrs. John Sagar Sr., served a dessert course.

Engagement announced

Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Everman of Sabina, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Teresa Lynn, to Samuel William Sanderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elza H. Sanderson, of 413 W. Elm St.

Miss Everman, a graduate of East Clinton High School, attended Franklin University, Columbus, and is employed by the Sabina Bank. Her fiancé, also a graduate of East Clinton High School, is employed by the Randall Company, Wilmington.

The wedding will be an event of July 31.

Good mothering through breastfeeding

The last of this series of four meetings of La Leche League will be held tonight at 8 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Jay Smith, 903 S. Hinde St. This month, Mrs. Cindie Shoemaker will lead a discussion on what foods the nursing mother needs and how to go about weaning the breastfed baby. Is there anything the nursing mother can eat to help maintain her supply of milk? How can you tell when your baby is ready to be weaned? LLL is where you can find answers to these and any other questions you may have about breastfeeding.

Anyone needing information on any aspect of nursing before or after the next meeting, call Mrs. Shoemaker at 335-1037 or Mrs. JoAnne Jacobson at 948-2405. This is one of the few organizations where your baby is not only welcome, but is invited.

Fort Industry was built on the order of Gen. Wayne at the mouth of Ohio's Maumee River after the Battle of Fallen Timbers in 1794, to match Fort Miami, held by the British.

RETURNS FROM SCHOOL — Pictured above are Patty Lucas and Maureen Warner, employees of Downtown Drug, who are responsible for running the cosmetics department. The two women recently attended a cosmetics school held in Dayton, which was sponsored by Coty Cosmetics. They were versed in the various products found in Coty's cosmetics line, and given scientific explanations concerning the skin and how to care for it. About to expand their line of Coty products, the Downtown Drug employees said the program helped them enormously. Ms. Lucas, who has worked in cosmetics for nine years and has attended numerous programs of this sort in the past, stated that she learned things concerning cosmetics that she was unfamiliar with prior to the Coty demonstration. Ms. Warner said that she would be able to help costumers more efficiently now that she knows how the Coty products are developed and how they should be used to enhance the appearance of each individual.

Bride-elect feted at party

The home of Mrs. Lela Campbell was the recent setting for a surprise bridal shower given for Miss Joy Whiting, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A.D. (Pete) Whiting of 3045 Rowe-Ging Rd., and David Ogan Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. David Ogan Sr. of Greenfield.

The wedding will take place June 12 at the Grace United Methodist Church.

Freshly cut daisies centered the table and small tea sandwiches and cheeseball, along with punch were served.

Miss Whiting received many lovely gifts. United Methodist Church. Three comforters were knotted at the last sewing day.

Mrs. Pauline Scott will be hostess for the June meeting when a sandwich and salad supper will be featured at 6:30 p.m. "Mary, the Mother of Jesus," will be the Bible Study topic.

Mrs. Charles Keaton gave a Bible Study concerning "Sarah," and the meeting was closed with the Mizpah benediction.

Refreshments were served from a beautifully appointed tea table.

Fayette County Choral Society elects Jeff Sheridan president

An annual meeting for election of officers marked the end of the first year's activity for the Fayette County Choral Society, Inc. At the close of the regular weekly rehearsal, Mrs. John P. Case presided as new officers were elected. They are Jeff Sheridan, president; Mrs. Lloyd Fennig, vice president; Mrs. Harold Soldan, secretary; Mrs. VanDyke, attendance secretary; Miss Elaine Stookey, treasurer; Mrs. Case, publicity; and Miss Anita Pruitt, librarian.

Mrs. Fennig and Mrs. Malcolm Parrett were hostesses, assisted by the other women of the Society, as members celebrated with refreshments including a "birthday cake."

A collection of newspaper clippings and programs attractively displayed gave documentary evidence of an eventful first year, dating from the Cecilian Festival of Chorus in April, 1975, which inspired the Washington C.H. Organ Club to form a committee at its May 18 meeting which resulted in June rehearsals and public performances on August 10th and 17th with Director Charles Shaffer.

The Cecilians and the Organ Club have continued to be patrons of the Choral Society. Under Director Richard Patton of the Ohio Dominican College, the Society performed Handel's "The Messiah" with a chamber of orchestra and soloists all from Fayette County; and with W. Thomas Smith of Wittenberg University as Director, the Choristers made their fourth public appearance on Feb. 29. For the next concert, celebrating the American Bicentennial on Sunday afternoon June 20, Warren Parker of the Middletown Branch of Miami University will be the director and concert pianist Mary Richter Snyder will be guest recitalist. Mrs. Donald Schwaigert is accompanist and Miss Stoekey is assistant accompanist. Mrs. Maurice Hopkins is assistant director.

The Choral Society is unique in being a continuing organization of men and women, open to all singers, working constantly toward the performance of major choral works accompanied whenever possible by a chamber orchestra, and providing more abundant opportunity for the many trained vocalists here to be heard in great oratorio and musical theater solos and choruses.

Under the leadership of the present director Mr. Parker, the Choristers envision two oratorio performances in the coming months: a Vivaldi "Gloria" on Nov. 21, and the Schubert "Mass in G" next March. Members are invited to join a Middletown Chorus in a 10-day European concert tour during the summer of 1977, singing the "Mass" as part of the program.

Next week the rehearsal will take place at 8 p.m. Tuesday in First Presbyterian Church, Monday being a holiday. It was announced that by action of the Executive Committee, after the June 20th concert, there will be a vacation until activity is resumed in August.

Xi Iota Theta chapter meets

The Xi Iota Theta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi met in the home of Mrs. Judy Wilson. The skating party for tonight was discussed. Tickets are 75 cents if purchased in advance or $1 at the door. There will be cake walks.

The "Tumbling Block" quilt will be given on Saturday at the Holthouse Furniture Store at closing time. The quilt is on display at the store.

Guest speaker for the evening was Marie Hatinguais, American Field Service exchange student from France, who told of her native country. Everyone enjoyed her interesting talk.

Refreshments were served to Mrs. Rick Kelley, Mrs. James Aleshire, Mrs. Zella Pemberton, Mrs. Ruby Snyder, Mrs. Becky Greenwood, Mrs. Betty Chaney and Mrs. Dee Pruitt.

Ohio's Cradle was the Massachusetts town of Rutland, home of Gen. Rufus Putnam. He and Benjamin Tupper signed advertisements published in New England papers Jan. 25, 1786, inviting soldiers of the Revolution and "all other good citizens" to join the Ohio Company which later founded Marietta.

Circle elects officers

Miss Jean McCoy and Mrs. Edwin Nestor combined hospitalities when the Ann Judson Circle of First Baptist Church met in the home of Miss McCoy. A dessert course was served to 10 members and two guests. Mrs. Mabel McCoy and Miss Lori Ann Wolford.

Mrs. Charles Hurtt, chairman, read an article concerning Ann Judson, for whom the circle is named, for the opening. Inspirational devotions were presented by Mrs. William Cook on the topic, "The Stayed Mind."

Members responded to roll call by naming a favorite flower. Reports were read. The love gift, regular and least coin offerings were received, and Mrs. Ralph Wolford gave the dedication prayer.

Mrs. Hurtt reported that she has sent 14 packages of vegetable seed to Haiti.

After some discussion, the decision was reached that the Ann Judson Circle will meet the third Tuesday of the month at 1:30 p.m. beginning with the September meeting.

Officers elected were: Mrs. Hurtt, chairman; Mrs. William Cook, Division of Interpretation; Mrs. Wolford, Division of Christian Service; Mrs. Eugene Alkire, Division of Leadership Development; Mrs. Lora Penwell, Division of Missions; Mrs. Kenneth Chaney, secretary; and Mrs. Henry Best, treasurer.

It was announced that the next meeting of the Women's Missionary Society will feature a picnic July 8, with the place to be announced.

Mrs. Nestor read an inspiring article "Water Without Walking" following and interesting article read by Mrs. Best entitled "Latin America Cash Quota."

"Wrong Way Trip" was the title of Mrs. Hurtt's program. Members were asked to think about Jonah and Mrs. Chaney read scripture from the Book of Jonah.

Seven WSHS, MT pupils lauded

Rotary Club honors outstanding seniors

Seven outstanding senior students from Washington Senior and Miami Trace high schools were honored by the Washington C.H. Rotary Club at the regular weekly luncheon meeting Tuesday in the Country Club.

Rotarians annually honor students from the two Fayette County high schools in three categories, academic excellence, athletic excellence and service-above-self.

Counselors at Washington Senior and Miami Trace high schools cooperate with the Rotary Club in selecting the students for the awards. The counselors were Mrs. Vicki Snow, Fred Doyle and Mrs. Margaret Dowler of Miami Trace High School and Don Gibbs and Mrs. Karen French of Washington Senior High School.

Richard Kirkpatrick was the awards program chairman and serving on the committee were Dr. Robert Woodmansee and Howard Miller.

The award winners from Miami Trace High School were Elaine Puckett, outstanding scholastic achievement; Gregory E. Cobb, outstanding athlete; and Tarkio M. Chester, service-above-self.

MISS PUCKETT, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Puckett, Staunton-Sugar Grove Road, will serve as class valedictorian during commencement exercises at Miami Trace. She is enrolled in college preparatory courses for four years and has maintained a 4.0 average.

She is a past member of the marching, concert and symphonic bands and is currently member of the Miami Trace "In the Know" team, and the National Honor Society, and serves as an office worker and morning announcer. She has been a junior auxiliary volunteer worker at Fayette County Memorial Hospital and is a member of Good Shepherd Lutheran Church. Employed as a cashier and sales clerk at the G.C. Murphy Co., she plans to attend Ohio State University and major in psychology.

COBB, son of Arthur Cobb, 2593 CCC Highway-E, has won three varsity football letters, one varsity and two reserve basketball letters and one varsity track letter. In football he played linebacker and offensive tackle and was named first team ALL-SCOL defense years and all-league offense two years; the most valuable lineman in 1975; first team all-district two years; the district lineman of the year in 1975; honorable mention all-state in 1974; first team all-state in 1975 and co-captain in 1975.

In baseball he received all-league honorable mention honors in 1973 and 1974.

He is vice-president of the senior class, president of the Varsity M Club and was a member of the Science Club for three years. He attends the Fayette Bible Church. He is planning to attend either Otterbein College or Ashland College, having received a substantial grant from each college to play football.

CHESTER, son of Mr. and Mrs. Miles Chester, 225 Gregg Road, Jeffersonville, was selected for the National Honor Society in his junior year and was a delegate to Buckeye Boys State. He was president of the Science Club and is currently serving as vice president of the club. He is also a member of Junior Leadership and attends the New Holland United Methodist Church.

For the past four years, he has been the athletic trainer in football, basketball and track. He has been accepted at Miami University, Oxford, in the athletic training program and he is planning to major in physical therapy.

He ranks 24th in a class of 243 and received the coaches award at the end of the football season which marked the first time the award was presented to a non-player. He also received a $250 athletic booster club scholarship.

MISS LOOKER, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David G. Looker, 169 Eastview Drive, has maintained a 4.0 cumulative average while enrolled in college preparatory courses.

Other accomplishments include a 1975 delegate to Buckeye Girls State, editor-in-chief of the Sunburst yearbook, head cheerleader of the varsity squad, member of the National Honor Society, recipient of the John F. Kennedy Scholastic Award, a member of Student Council, member of Future Nurses, Y-Teens, Girls Athletic Association, American Field Service, French Club and the WSHS band and choir and a district winner of the Elks "most valuable student" contest. She plans to enter Ohio Wesleyan University and major in pre-medicine.

THOMPSON, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Stackhouse, 515 W. Elm St., is tied for first in his class with a 4.0 cumulative average.

Some of his activities include president of the National Honor Society, president of his junior and senior classes, placed 12th in the state in the general science scholarship test, received the school's freshman scholar-athlete award, a member of AFS, Hi-Y and Letterman clubs, was named to the all-league football team and second team all-district in football, participated in a pilot "Big Brother" program in 1975 and was a state winner in the Elks "most valuable student" contest. He will enter the University of Cincinnati next fall and major in engineering.

DEWEES, son of Mr. and Mrs. David W. DeWees, 210 McKinley Ave., is a letterman in three different sports at WSHS. He lettered two years in varsity basketball and was named as the team's "most improved" player during his senior year.

In track he was a three-year letterman and a member of the record-holding 440-yard relay team. He lettered during his senior year in football. In addition to athletics, he is active in AFS, Hi-Y and Letterman clubs. He has been chosen to participate in the Americans Abroad program this summer.

HENRY, son of Frank Henry, 502 W. Elm St., distinguished himself in the field of photography.

In addition to serving as chief photographer for the Sunburst year during his sophomore, junior and senior years in high school, he has served as a sports photographer for the Record-Herald for several years and is a member and photographer for the Club Lions newspaper staff.

He is also involved in the Hi-Y youth-in-government program, serves as secretary of the Hi-Y Club and is president of his church youth group. He plans to pursue his interest in photography at Ohio University, Athens, next fall.

The business meeting was conducted by club president William E. Williams.

Parents of the honored students and high school guidance counselors were guests of the club. Kaye Bartlett was a guest with Dr. Leroy Davis. Visiting Rotarians were Wilson Moon of Greenfield, Darrell French of Wilmington, Dale Delong and Ned Hardin, of Circleville, and Art Dick and Carlos Joslin, of Mount Sterling.

A party of whites under Col. David Williamson which, like the Indians, distrusted the red men who turned Christian, carried out the massacre of 90 harmless and helpless Christian Indians at Gnadenhutten, Ohio, on March 7, 1782. Thirty-four of the victims were children. Two small boys escaped and the Mravian Indians at nearby Schoenbrunn learned of the massacre in time to flee. A state park on the site now honors the victims.

Money to finance summer project

Lions members raise $283 at miscellaneous auction

Items ranging from a portable typewriter to a homemade apple pie were auctioned during the regular semi-monthly dinner meeting of the Washington C.H. Lions Club Tuesday night in the Country Club.

Lions Club members donated dozens of miscellaneous items for the auction which was used to raise funds for a project later this summer.

A total of $283 was raised by auctioneers Frank J. Weade and Emerson Marting, both members of the Lions Club.

While Marting and Weade were auctioning the items, many of which had been stored in attics or garages for years, Lions Club members S.E. Vaughn, James Polk, Gene Sagar and Ralph Hyer took bids from the 70 club members present for the meeting.

During the business meeting conducted by club president Richard Coates, Mrs. John (Phyllis) Richards, supervisor of nursing at the Fayette County Health Department, urged the Lions Club members to support a two-tenths of a mill renewal health levy which will be appearing on the June 8 primary election ballot.

Mrs. Richards said that by renewal of the levy taxes will not be increased for Fayette County residents. She said she has learned from Fayette County auditor Mary Morris that the amount collected will be the same as in the past, despite the recently-completed property reappraisal.

The funds generated by the health levy are needed to continue many existing programs, Mrs. Richards pointed out.

The Lions Club board of directors voted unanimously to contribute $555 for the operation of the summer Fayette County Babe Ruth baseball league. The board also voted to donate $45 to send a Washington Senior High School student to a summer teenage drug and alcohol institute.

On other matters, Coates reported that the annual charter night dance will be held June 12 in the Mahan Building on the Fayette County Fairgrounds. Charter members of the Washington C.H. club will be honored at the meeting.

Reports were presented by Wiley Witherspoon on the recent state convention, Dustin Girtan on the international convention which will be held in Hawaii in June, Everitt Robbins on the race program sale for the Fayette County Fair, and Dr. Warren Craig on the bicentennial float project for the Fourth of July parade.

Bob Caughron was a guest with Bob Yates and Jack Hoppes of Good Hope was a visiting Lions Club member.

Providing Fayette County Residents Complete Insurance Coverage for 32 Years

The street, which will be known as Commercial Avenue, is located off S. Elm Street between McDonald's Restaurant and the Long John Silver Seafood Shoppe.

The thoroughfare, the newest to be constructed in Washington C.H., measures 700 feet in length and is 31 feet wide.

The WKW Construction Co., of Wilmington, was the general contractor for the construction. The street was designed by Donald R. Conley of Gale L. Helms and Associates in Washington C.H.

Construction lasted approximately one month.

The street was platted and constructed by Fayette County developer Donald P. Woods and William Hadler, who owns the Washington Square Shopping Center. The cost of construction was shared jointly by Woods and Hadler.

Although the street comes to a dead end 700 feet from S. Elm Street, Conley said it is planned by the developers to extend the thoroughfare in the future.

The street will be formally dedicated to the city for use by the public as soon as final inspections are completed.

1200 NORTH NORTH STREET

Of five-year-old Mount Sterling boy

Woman charged in hit-skip death

MOUNT STERLING — Three charges have been filed against an Orient area woman in connection with the hit-skip death Monday night of a five-year-old Mount Sterling boy. Mount Sterling boy.

Charged in the case was Nancy Pinyard, 20, Rt. 2, Orient.

Miss Pinyard is charged with aggravated vehicular homicide, driving while intoxicated and leaving the scene of an accident.

The charges were filed Wednesday morning in Madison County Court in London.

The youth, Stephen Bowman, five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Bowman, of Mount Sterling, was struck about 8 p.m. Monday as he rode a toy tricycle on the sidewalk near his home. He was pronounced dead on arrival at Mount Carmel-West Hospital, Columbus.

Mount Sterling Police Chief Jim Gossard said the car jumped the curb, ran down the sidewalk, and struck the youth. Police officers reported the car left the scene still dragging the toy vehicle. The youth was thrown clear of the vehicle.

Gossard said the car was found minutes after the incident. The car was discovered abandoned a few blocks away from the scene of the accident.

Meanwhile, funeral services for the accident victim will be held at 1:30 p.m. Thursday in the Porter Funeral Home, Mount Sterling.

Wedding ring theft checked

A theft of two wedding rings valued at $100 was reported Tuesday to the Washington C.H. Police Department. Four other incidents were checked by police officers.

A police report filed at 3:33 p.m. Tuesday by William Garrett Jr., 739 Gregg St., listed two wedding rings stolen from his residence at some unknown time in the past. The rings were reportedly taken from a dresser in the bedroom. The incident is still under investigation by the Washington C.H. Police Department.

A $75 tape player and speakers were reported stolen from a car belonging to Penny Duncan, 831 S. Hinde St., as it was parked at Calmar Corp., 2550 Kenskill Ave., sometime between 8:30 and 12 p.m. Tuesday.

Two folding lawn chairs valued at $35

were reported stolen from the residence of Louise Hatfield, 618 Broadway St., sometime Monday night. The chairs had been located on the front porch.

Approximately $30 worth of clothing items were allegedly stolen from a car belonging to Connie Link, 223 Wagner Court. The incident is believed to have occurred while the car was parked in front of Eastside Radiator Service, 505 S. Elm St., between 8:15 a.m. and 3 p.m. Tuesday.

A decorative lawn ornament valued at $15 was reported stolen from the side yard of the Dorothy Dellinger residence, 308 N. Main St., sometime between 7 p.m. Monday and 2:54 p.m. Tuesday.

Udall looks ahead to Ohio primary

CLEVELAND (AP) — Democratic presidential hopeful Morris Udall preferred to look ahead to the Ohio primary rather than stew over his poor showing in six primaries Tuesday.

Knowing he would not do well in those primaries, the Arizona congressman said he chose to be here Tuesday night because the June 8th Ohio primary may be his last chance to deny Jimmy Carter a first-ballot nomination.

Nonetheless, Udall said that his entry in the Kentucky, Tennessee, Arkansas, Nevada, Idaho and Oregon primaries reflected a long-range strategy that might help in the national convention.

Udall observed that if the convention delegates don't nominate Carter on the first ballot they will remember Udall wants to be able to say that I've been in all parts of the country and neglected no states," Udall said. "The delegates appreciate the fact that I cared enough to go down there ... I simply wanted to establish my presence and wave the flag."

Udall noted that Carter's support in the border states was no surprise because the former Georgia governor had support from most of the local politicians and there was a great deal of regional pride in the Southerner.

The dwindling campaign of George Wallace virtually left the field open for a Carter sweep, Udall added.

High pressure over northern Michigan was drifting southeastward today and was expected to be centered over Ohio Thursday morning.

Skies were to clear gradually over northeastern Ohio today and it was to be sunny over the rest of the state. Afternoon temperatures were to climb into the 60s and low 70s.

Under clear skies tonight, the mercury will drop into the 40s again. Sunny skies with mild weather is in store for Thursday with afternoon highs in the 70s.

A chance of showers Friday and Saturday. Fair Sunday. Highs in the 70s. Lows in the low to mid 50s.

Ohio early noted for lush forests

By The Associated Press
Not the least part of Ohio's Heritage is that green ocean of trees that once covered the state from border to border, a canopy of green that amazed and fascinated world travelers into the late 1800's. Then only huge stumps here and there were left in some spots to show where forest monsters once grew, for the swarm of axwielding settlers cut and sawed their way, finally, to cleared fields.

Perhaps the most famous Ohio tree was the Logan Elm, now the site of a state memorial in Pickaway County six miles south of Circleville, the spot where famed Indian Chief Logan gave his oration to the white men in 1774. The tree, which measured over 23 feet in circumference with a spread of 164 feet—not large as some Ohio monsters grew—was destroyed in a storm in the early 1960's.

Claims for tree sizes can be measured in many ways, and Ohio had a great many "champions" in the old forest days. Sycamores have been among the largest trees found in Ohio, most of them found growing along streams and reaching greatest size in rich stream and river bottoms.

One of the most remarkable was situated in the Scioto Valley north of Lucasville, Scioto County, on the farm of Abram Millar. It was hollow with an opening 10 feet wide. It was the wonder of the countryside and focus of sight-seers. In June 1808 a party of 13 men rode on horseback into the cavity of the tree and it was said there was ample room for two more. It was thus called "The Sycamore of Fifteen Horsemen."

Annual program to be held June 19-27 at OU

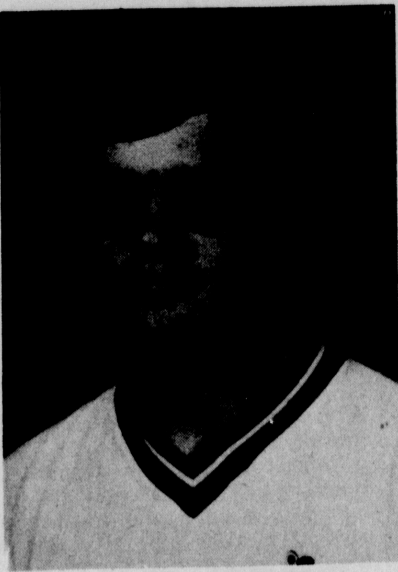

Seven county juniors named Buckeye Boys State delegates

Seven Fayette County juniors have been selected to attend the annual Buckeye Boys State session which will be held June 19-27 at Ohio University, Athens.

The Buckeye Boys State delegates, four from Miami Trace High School and three from Washington Senior High School, will be among a total of 1,400 youths expected to attend this year's session.

The local delegates are sponsored by Paul H. Hughey American Legion Post 25 and six other co-sponsors.

Miami Trace High School delegates are Joseph Robert Black, 16-year-old son of Mrs. Mary Jean Black, 186 Hickory Lane; Sam Wayne Grooms, 16-year-old son of Mrs. Janet Grooms, 371 York Road, near Greenfield; Stuart Alan Foster, 17-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy M. Foster, 3183 Ohio 41-N, and Dan Gifford, 16-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon A. Gifford, Rt. 1, New Holland.

Delegates from Washington Senior

Co-sponsors in this year's program are the Washington C. H. Elks Lodge No. 129, the Washington C. H. Eagles Lodge No. 423, the Bloomingburg Lions Club, New Holland American Legion Post No. 477, Forty and Eight Voiture No. 888, and the Washington C. H. Lions Club.

Four alternates, three from Washington Senior High School and one from Miami Trace, have also been selected. The Washington Senior High School delegates are Scott Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul V. Johnson, Dan Rodgers, son of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Rodgers and Bret Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Wilson. Miami Trace's delegate is Rex Coe, son of Mrs. Mary Coe.

R. B. (Bud) Tharp, chairman of the local Buckeye Boys State committee, said the program is a school in government by means of practical application. He said it is the duty of the American Legion post to select boys who are potential leaders in the community, and who will carry the message of Buckeye Boys State back to their home schools and communities.

Abel says U.S. change needed

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Ohio AFL-CIO may listen to three Democratic party presidential hopefuls without taking a public stand, but United Steelworkers of America President I. W. Abel has left little doubt about what he thinks of Republican leadership in the White House.

"We need a change of occupants in the White House," Abel told the nearly 1,500 delegates who had gathered Tuesday for the opening of the organization's three-day convention. "We can't afford a president, who says America can't afford to educate our children adequately; says America can't afford to care for the sick and needy; says America can't afford to feed the hungry."

"I say in short, we can't afford Ford."

Abel accused President Ford of choosing to fight inflation by "putting the American worker through the economic wringer" and charged that the worker had been made expendable in the battle to boost the economy. There also was little in Abel's speech that could have provided any comfort for former California governor Ronald Reagan, the man who is challenging Ford for the Republican nomination.

"It is difficult to see him as a serious candidate for the White House because of his extreme views on the issues. Frankly, he scares the hell out of a lot of people," said Abel, who admitted his own personal preference remains Sen. Hubert Humphrey, D-Minn.

All delegates to Buckeye Boys State are high school juniors.

Tharp is also a member of the Buckeye Boys State staff and will be in attendance at this year's program during the full time it is in operation.

Two hospital nursing scholarships awarded

Robert L. Kunz, administrator of Fayette County Memorial Hospital, announced today that the Wilbur Welton nursing scholarships for 1976 have been awarded.

Recipients of the scholarships are Miss Danita Adams, 204 Maple Way, and Miss Lucinda Graham, 813 Clinton Ave.

Miss Adams received the registered nursing scholarship, according to Kunz. She has been accepted in the Mount Carmel Hospital school of nursing in Columbus.

Kunz reported Miss Graham was awarded the practical nursing scholarship. She will begin practical nursing classes in September at the Fayette County Memorial Hospital School of Practical Nursing.

The maximum scholarship is $2,000 per year to be applied towards tuition, books and related expenses, excluding room and board fees.

Fayette County Memorial Hospital; Edwin M. Nestor, superintendent of the Washington C.H. School District, and Guy M. Foster, superintendent of the Miami Trace School District.

Kunz stated that he wished to thank all applicants who had applied for the scholarships. All qualifications and references were excellent, he said.

Bids for fourth term

Mrs. Rodgers seeking committee re-election

Mrs. Louise M. Rodgers, 5365 Locust Grove Road, has filed a petition for re-election as the Democratic state committeewoman from the Sixth Congressional District at the June 8 primary election.

The petition was filed with the Clermont County Board of Elections, the most populous county in the district which covers all or portions of 10 counties.

The district includes Adams, Brown, Clinton, Fayette, Highland, Lawrence, Pike, Pickaway, Scioto and Ross, and portions of Clermont, Vinton and Warren counties.

Mrs. Rodgers will be seeking her fourth consecutive two-year term on the state central committee. She was last elected to the committee position in 1974.

MRS. LOUISE RODGERS

Lois M. Hancock, of Clermont County, will be opposing Mrs. Rodgers in the election.

Mrs. Rodgers is president of the Fayette County Memorial Hospital board of trustees and a member of the Fayette County Board of Elections. She is a graduate of Washington High School and is the wife of Robert Rodgers, a Wayne Township farmer.

She is a member of the Ohio Association of Election Officials, the Washington C.H. Business and Professional Women's Club and the American Legion auxiliary.

Mrs. Rodgers has two children, Mrs. Jack Persinger Jr. and Mrs. Jeffrey L. Kelly.

Fire tests reported

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Some foamed plastic products that don't ignite when a match is held to them are flammable in the intense heat of a fire, says a researcher at Ohio State University.

Because of the properties of the plastics, manufacturers no longer label foamed plastic products as "self-extinguishing," Prof. Edwin E. Smith of Ohio State's chemical engineering department.

Smith says tests being conducted by his department should determine characteristics and qualities of the foamed plastics.

He said the studies will check the temperature at which plastic materials ignite and the amount of time it takes before the material becomes combustible.

"By clarifying these factors we hope to avoid the misuse and misinterpretation of laboratory tests," Smith said. "Foamed plastics use is increasing for padded seating and for building insulation as energy conservation efforts are stepped up."

Plastic products are being studied at the university under a grant from the Products Research Committee, representing the plastics industry and others.

Auto blaze extinguished

A Tuesday afternoon automobile fire was extinguished by Washington C.H. firemen.

A car belonging to Gail Russell, 1050 Broadway St., caught fire around 1:30 p.m. Tuesday as it was being operated in front of her residence. Firemen believe the flames occurred after a carburetor backfired. Estimated damage was set at $50.

The first organization of Spanish American War Veterans was formed in Cincinnati, Ohio.

BALLOT LANGUAGE, EXPLANATIONS, AND RESOLUTIONS FOR AMENDMENTS TO THE OHIO CONSTITUTION PROPOSED BY THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY TO BE SUBMITTED TO THE VOTERS AT THE PRIMARY ELECTION, JUNE 8, 1976

1 PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT

To amend Article III, Section 3 and Article V, Section 2, to adopt Article III, Sections 1a and 1b, and to repeal Article III, Section 1b, Ohio Constitution

1. TO REQUIRE THE LEUTENANT GOVERNOR TO BE ELECTED JOINTLY WITH THE GOVERNOR AND TO REQUIRE THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY TO PROVIDE BY LAW THE METHOD OF NOMINATING CANDIDATES FOR GOVERNOR AND LEUTENANT GOVERNOR.
2. TO RELIEVE THE LEUTENANT GOVERNOR OF THE DUTY OF PRESIDING OVER THE STATE SENATE AND TO PROVIDE THAT HIS DUTIES SHALL BE THOSE ASSIGNED TO HIM BY THE GOVERNOR AND THOSE PRESCRIBED BY LAW.

SCHEDULE AND REPEAL
Section 1b of Article III authorizing the governor to assign duties in the executive department to the lieutenant governor and the repeal of Section 1b of Article III shall not take effect until the second Monday in January, 1979.

(Proposed by Resolution of the General Assembly of Ohio)

A majority affirmative vote is necessary for passage.

YES	SHALL THE PROPOSED AMENDMENT BE ADOPTED?
NO

EXPLANATION OF ISSUE NO. 1

The Ohio Constitution currently provides for the governor and lieutenant governor to be elected separately. This frequently results in the election of a governor and lieutenant governor of opposing political parties. The proposed amendment would require the nomination of a political party for the offices of governor and lieutenant governor to run as a team in the general election. A candidate for governor would be required to file a statement of intent to run with a candidate for lieutenant governor. The amendment would also require the candidates for governor and lieutenant governor to "team up" before filing their petitions of candidacy, unless the General Assembly provides by law. The General Assembly would be free to provide that candidates for governor and lieutenant governor would not run as a team in the primary. Separate ballots would be cast for both offices in that case. The amendment requires that the lieutenant governor be elected by the general assembly, leaving it to the Senate to choose one of its own members as president of the Senate. The lieutenant governor would then perform the duties assigned to him by the governor, in addition to any duties which the General Assembly may assign to him by law.

2 PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT

To adopt section 14 of Article VIII, Ohio Constitution

- TO AUTHORIZE THE STATE, LOCAL GOVERNMENTS, AND REGIONAL TRANSPORTATION AUTHORITIES TO ACCEPT AND CREDIT TO FEDERAL CORPORATIONS, SUCH AS AMTRAK AND CONRAIL, AND TO AN AGENCY OF THE STATE TO PROVIDE RAIL TRANSPORTATION SERVICE WITHIN THE STATE.
- THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY IS AUTHORIZED TO PROVIDE PROPERTY TAX REDUCTIONS FOR PROPERTY USED TO PROVIDE RAIL TRANSPORTATION SERVICE AND TO REIMBURSE LOCAL GOVERNMENTS FOR THE REVENUE LOST AS A RESULT OF SUCH TAX REDUCTIONS.

(Proposed by Resolution of the General Assembly of Ohio)

A majority affirmative vote is necessary for passage.

YES	SHALL THE PROPOSED AMENDMENT BE ADOPTED?

EXPLANATION OF ISSUE NO. 2

The purpose of the amendment is to permit the state and its subdivisions to aid federal corporations and state agencies to provide rail transportation service within the state, its political subdivisions, or a regional transportation authority may give or loan its credit to aid corporations created under federal law, such as Amtrak and Conrail, or state agencies which have been created to provide rail transportation service. The General Assembly is authorized to provide by law for this purpose.

Laws could be passed to reduce taxation of property which is used to provide the state with rail transportation service. They could also permit reimbursement of local government units for revenues lost to a local government because of property tax reductions.

Moneys raised by taxation may not be obligated or pledged for the payment of any bonds or other obligations which are issued for these purposes.

3 PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT

To amend section 13 of Article VIII, Ohio Constitution

- TO INCLUDE ENERGY FACILITIES AMONG THE PURPOSES FOR WHICH PUBLIC INDUSTRIAL DEVELOPMENT BONDS MAY BE ISSUED AND LOAN GUARANTEE PROGRAMS OBLIGATING OR PLEDGING MONEYS RAISED BY TAXATION, PROVIDED THAT SUCH BONDS OR LOAN GUARANTEE PROGRAMS SHALL NOT BE MADE FOR FACILITIES OWNED OR LEASED BY PUBLIC UTILITIES.

(Proposed by Resolution of the General Assembly of Ohio)

A majority affirmative vote is necessary for passage.

YES	SHALL THE PROPOSED AMENDMENT BE ADOPTED?
NO

EXPLANATION OF ISSUE NO. 3

The stated purpose of the resolution is to enable state revenue bond and loan assistance to industrial and commercial firms that undertake self-help efforts to produce natural gas, oil, or other forms of energy for their own use.

To accomplish this the proposed amendment would authorize financial aid for energy development and

4 PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT

To amend sections 1 and 4 and to repeal sections 3 and 5 of Article V, Ohio Constitution

1. TO CONFORM THE OHIO CONSTITUTION TO THE UNITED STATES CONSTITUTION AND TO FEDERAL COURT DECISIONS BY LOWERING THE VOTING AGE TO EIGHTEEN YEARS, ELIMINATING THE SIX MONTHS RESIDENCY REQUIREMENT.
2. TO PERMIT THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY, BY LAW, TO DENY PERSONS CONVICTED OF A FELONY THE PRIVILEGE OF VOTING OR BEING ELIGIBLE FOR PUBLIC OFFICE.
3. TO REPEAL PROVISIONS GRANTING VOTERS PRIVILEGE FROM ARREST AND REPEAL THE SECTION WHICH PROHIBITS MILITARY PERSONNEL FROM VOTING FROM A RESIDENCE ON A MILITARY INSTALLATION WITHIN THIS STATE.

(Proposed by Resolution of the General Assembly of Ohio)

A majority affirmative vote is necessary for passage.

YES	SHALL THE PROPOSED AMENDMENT BE ADOPTED?

EXPLANATION OF ISSUE NO. 4

The Ohio Constitution provisions setting the voting age at 21 and a residency requirement within the state of six months have been invalidated by federal court decisions and amendments to the federal Constitution and at the present time persons 18 years of age and over can vote at the age of 18 and with residence requirements as required by federal law. This amendment merely brings the Ohio Constitution into accord with federal court decisions and amendments to the federal Constitution and federal statutes pertaining to voting. The amendment removes unnecessary language with regard to particular felonies that may cause ineligibility to vote and holding public office. The section which prohibits the arrest of electors in or going to a polling place is repealed because there is a similar provision already in the law. The section which prohibits a person from acquiring a voting residence on a military installation in this state is repealed because it has been held to be unconstitutional by the federal court.

5 PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT

To amend sections 1 and 2 of Article XVII, Ohio Constitution

1. TO REQUIRE MUNICIPAL AND COUNTY CHARTERS TO PROVIDE FOR TERMS OF OFFICE FOR Elected OFFICERS.
2. TO REQUIRE VACANCIES IN ANY ELECTIVE STATE OFFICE CREATED BY ARTICLES II AND III, AND BY OR PURSUANT TO ARTICLE IV TO BE FILLED ONLY AS PROVIDED IN SUCH ARTICLES. VACANCIES IN ELECTIVE STATE OFFICES NOT CREATED BY ARTICLES II AND III, AND BY OR PURSUANT TO ARTICLE IV, SHALL BE FILLED BY THE GOVERNOR UNTIL A SUCCESSOR CAN BE ELECTED FOR THE UNEXPIRED TERM.
3. THE PROVISION AUTHORIZING THE GOVERNOR TO FILL A VACANCY IN THE OFFICE OF LEUTENANT GOVERNOR IS REPEALED.

(Proposed by Resolution of the General Assembly of Ohio)

A majority affirmative vote is necessary for passage.

YES	SHALL THE PROPOSED AMENDMENT BE ADOPTED?

EXPLANATION OF ISSUE NO. 5

The purpose of the proposed amendment is to remove from the Constitution language which either duplicates or is inconsistent with language elsewhere in the Constitution relating to terms of office, and vacancies in elective office. If this amendment is adopted and should the office of lieutenant governor be vacant, that office could not be filled by the governor. If the office of governor should become vacant, the office of the Senate would become governor as provided in Section 17, Article III.

The amendment adds a provision which would require municipal and county charters to provide for terms of office for elected officers.

6 PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT

To adopt section 7 and to repeal section 11 of Article XII, Ohio Constitution

1. TO MAKE PROVISION FOR RETIREMENT OF GENERAL OBLIGATION BONDS AND NOTES OF POLITICAL SUBDIVISIONS FROM LEGALLY AVAILABLE SOURCES NOT LIMITED BY THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY TO THE AMOUNTS OF SUCH BONDS AND NOTES ISSUED BY POLITICAL SUBDIVISIONS.
2. TO REQUIRE THE TIMELY PAYMENT OF PRINCIPAL AND INTEREST OF GENERAL OBLIGATION BONDS ORIGINATED BY A POLITICAL SUBDIVISION.
3. TO REPEAL CONSTITUTIONAL PROVISIONS OPERATING TO INDIRECTLY LIMIT THE AMOUNT OF DEBT THAT MAY BE INCURRED BY A POLITICAL SUBDIVISION WITHOUT A VOTE OF THE ELECTORATE.
4. TO REPEAL REQUIREMENTS THAT POLITICAL SUBDIVISIONS CREATE A SINKING FUND FOR THE REPAYMENT OF DEBT AT MATURITY.

(Proposed by Resolution of the General Assembly of Ohio)

A majority affirmative vote is necessary for passage.

YES	SHALL THE PROPOSED AMENDMENT BE ADOPTED?
NO

EXPLANATION OF ISSUE NO. 6

The amendment provides for the repayment of general obligation bonds and notes of political subdivisions.

visions from legally available sources not limited to property taxes. The General Assembly has the authority to limit the amount of the bonds and notes which may be issued by political subdivisions. The Constitution presently limits the amount of property tax that can be imposed without a vote of the electors. This provision remains unchanged by this amendment. Reference to the state is not included in the proposed amendment. The proposed amendment requires timely payment of political subdivision debt and repeals the requirements of establishing sinking funds for the repayment of debt at maturity. Most incurred indebtedness is now represented by bonds maturing serially over a period of 20 years. The debt becomes due periodically rather than all at once, thereby permitting repayment on the installment plan and the requirement for a sinking fund is no longer necessary.

7 PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT

To amend sections 4 and 9 of Article XII, Ohio Constitution

1. TO REQUIRE A RETURN OF NOT LESS THAN 50 PERCENT OF THE ESTATE TAXES TO POLITICAL SUBDIVISIONS IN WHICH THE ESTATE, AS MAY BE PROVIDED BY LAW.
2. TO REQUIRE THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY TO RAISE SUFFICIENT REVENUE ANNUALLY TO PAY THE PRINCIPAL AND INTEREST ON THE STATE DEBT AS IT BECOMES DUE.

(Proposed by Resolution of the General Assembly of Ohio)

A majority affirmative vote is necessary for passage.

YES	SHALL THE PROPOSED AMENDMENT BE ADOPTED?
NO

EXPLANATION OF ISSUE NO. 7

The proposed amendment conforms the Constitution to current fiscal practices by:

1. Requiring that the state annually raise sufficient moneys to pay the principal and interest on the state debt. Currently this section only requires raising sufficient moneys to pay the interest on the state debt.
2. Mandating that not less than 50 percent of the estate taxes be returned to the political subdivisions in which they originated (county, school district, city, village, or township), as provided by law. Since Ohio has moved to the estate tax, a portion of the tax should be returned to the source from whence it was collected in order to return required for inheritance and income taxes.

8 PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT

To adopt section 3 of Article XII and to repeal sections 7, 8, 10, and 12 of Article XII, Ohio Constitution

1. TO AUTHORIZE THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY TO PROVIDE BY LAW FOR THE AMOUNT OF AN ESTATE WHICH IS EXEMPT FROM TAXATION.
2. TO CONSOLIDATE TAXING POWERS WHICH ARE IN FOUR SECTIONS INTO ONE SECTION.

(Proposed by Resolution of the General Assembly of Ohio)

A majority affirmative vote is necessary for passage.

YES	SHALL THE PROPOSED AMENDMENT BE ADOPTED?
NO

EXPLANATION OF ISSUE NO. 8

The Ohio Constitution currently limits the amount which may be exempted from estate taxation to the sum of $20,000. The amendment repeals any limit on the maximum value of an estate that could be exempted from taxation. Statutory law could grant exemption from estate taxation in excess of $20,000.

Four sections of the Constitution dealing with the taxing power of the state are consolidated into a single section and extraneous language has been eliminated.

FULL TEXT OF THE RESOLUTIONS PROPOSING EACH AMENDMENT

ISSUE 1

(Amended Senate Joint Resolution No. 4)

JOINT RESOLUTION

Proposing to amend section 3 of Article III and section 2a of Article V, to enact sections 1a and 1b of Article III, and to repeal section 1b of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Ohio, to require the Lieutenant Governor and to provide for the duties of the Lieutenant Governor.

Be it resolved by the General Assembly of the State of Ohio, three-fifths of the members elected to each house concurring therein, that there shall be submitted to the electors of the state in the manner prescribed by law at a special election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in June, 1976, a proposal to amend section 3 of Article III and section 2a of Article V, to enact sections 1a and 1b of Article III, and to repeal section 1b of Article III of the Constitution of Ohio to read as follows:

ARTICLE III

Sec. 1a. In the general election for Governor and Lieutenant Governor, one vote shall be given jointly for the candidates nominated by the same political party or petition. The General Assembly shall provide by law for the making of joint ballots for Governor and Lieutenant Governor.

Sec. 1b. The Lieutenant Governor shall perform such duties in the executive department as are assigned to him by the Governor and as are prescribed by law.

Sec. 3. The returns of every election for the offices named in the foregoing section shall be sealed and transmitted to the seat of Government, by the returning officers, directed to the President of the session who, during the first week of the session, shall open and publish them, and declare the result, in the presence of a majority of the members of each House of the General Assembly. The joint candidates having the highest number of votes shall be elected, and if two or more have an equal and the highest number of votes for the same office or offices, one shall be elected by joint vote.

ARTICLE V

Sec. 2a. The names of all candidates for governor or lieutenant governor shall be arranged in a group under the title of that office. The general assembly shall provide by law for the making of joint ballots for each candidate's name reasonably equal position by rotation or other comparable methods to the extent practical and appropriate to the voting procedure used. At any election in which a candidate's party designation appears on the ballot, the name of the candidate of each candidate's party, if any, shall be printed under or after each candidate's name in less prominent type than that in which the candidate's name is printed. An elector may vote for candidates of other than the party designated on the ballot, and the Vice-President of the United States, and other than candidates for Governor and Lieutenant Governor, only, and in no other way than by indicating his vote for each candidate separately from the indication of his vote for any other candidate.

EFFECTIVE DATE AND REPEAL
If adopted by a majority of the electors voting on this amendment, the amendment shall take immediate effect, and existing section 3 of Article III and section 2a of Article V shall be repealed from such effective date.

SCHEDULE AND REPEAL

Section 1b of Article III authorizing the Governor to assign duties in the executive department to the Lieutenant Governor and the repeal of section 1b of Article III shall not take effect until the second Monday in January, 1979.

ISSUE 2

(Amended House Joint Resolution No. 10)

JOINT RESOLUTION

Proposing to amend Article VIII of the Constitution of the State of Ohio by adding thereto Section 14 to authorize the State, local governments, and regional transportation authorities to accept and credit to federal corporations, such as Amtrak and Conrail, and to an agency of the State to provide rail transportation service to the State, and to authorize the Governor to provide for the revenue lost as a result of such tax reductions.

Be it resolved by the General Assembly of the State of Ohio, three-fifths of the members elected to each house concurring therein, that there shall be submitted to the electors of the state in the manner prescribed by law at a general election to be held the first Tuesday after the first Monday in June, 1976, a proposal to amend section 14 of Article VIII of the Constitution of Ohio to read as follows:

ARTICLE VIII

Sec. 14. For the public purpose of providing the state with modern and efficient rail transportation service, the credit of the state, and pursuant to laws passed for such purpose the credit of any city, county, township, or regional transportation authority, may be given or loaned to, or in aid of, a corporation created under the laws of the United States, such as the National Railroad Passenger Corporation (AMTRAK) or the Consolidated Rail Corporation (CONRAIL), or an agency created under the laws of Ohio, to provide rail transportation service in the state, and laws may be passed to reduce the taxation on property used to provide the state with rail transportation service, and to provide for the reimbursement of local government units out of the general revenue fund for revenue that may be lost as a result of any such property tax reduction.

The laws passed pursuant to this section and the lending of aid and credit pursuant to this section shall not be subject to the requirements, limitations, or prohibitions of any other section of Article VIII, or of sections 6, 8, and 11 of Article XII of the Constitution, provided that money raised by taxation shall not be obligated or pledged for the payment of bonds or other obligations issued pursuant to this section.

EFFECTIVE DATE

If adopted by a majority of the electors voting on this amendment, the amendment shall take immediate effect.

ISSUE 3

(Amended Senate Joint Resolution No. 39)

JOINT RESOLUTION

Proposing to amend Section 13 of Article VIII of the Constitution of the State of Ohio to authorize issuance of bonds for projects to conserve energy or energy resources.

Be it resolved by the General Assembly of the State of Ohio, three-fifths of the members elected to each house concurring therein, that there shall be submitted to the electors of the state in the manner prescribed by law at a special election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in June, 1976, a proposal to amend Section 13 of Article VIII of the Constitution of Ohio to read as follows:

ARTICLE VIII

Section 13. To create or preserve jobs and employment opportunities, to improve the economic welfare of the people of the state, to control air, water, or thermal pollution, to dispose of solid waste, or to develop, produce, recover, store, transport, utilize, or conserve energy or energy resources, it is the public interest and a proper public purpose for the state or its political subdivisions, taxing districts, or public authorities, its or their agencies or instrumentalities, or corporations not for profit, to acquire, construct, enlarge, improve, or equip, and to sell, lease, exchange, or otherwise dispose of, property, structures, equipment, and facilities within the State of Ohio for industry, commerce, distribution, or use, and to issue bonds or guarantee loans and to borrow money and issue bonds or other obligations to provide for the development, construction, enlargement, improvement, or equipment, of such property, structures, equipment, or facilities. Laws may be passed to carry into effect such purposes and to authorize for such purposes the borrowing of money by and the issuance of bonds or other obligations of the state, or its political subdivisions, taxing districts, or public authorities, its or their agencies or instrumentalities, or corporations not for profit designated by any of them as such agencies or instrumentalities, and to authorize the making of guarantees and loans and the lending of aid and credit, which laws, bonds, obligations, loans, guarantees, or other obligations shall not be subject to the requirements, limitations, or prohibitions of any other section of Article VIII, or of sections 6 and 11 of Article XII of the Constitution, provided that moneys raised by taxation shall not be obligated or pledged for the payment of bonds or other obligations issued or guaranteed made pursuant to laws enacted under this section.

Except for facilities for the development, construction, production, transportation, utilization, or conservation of energy or energy resources which are not owned or operated by the state, and except for facilities for pollution control or solid waste disposal, determined by law to be guaranteed by the state, no aid or credit shall be made under the laws enacted pursuant to this section for the construction or the purchase of electric or gas utility service to the public.

The powers herein granted shall be in addition to and not in derogation of existing powers of the state or its political subdivisions, taxing districts, or public authorities, its or their agencies or instrumentalities or corporations not for profit designated by any of them as such agencies or instrumentalities.

Any corporation organized under the laws of Ohio is hereby authorized to lend or contribute moneys to the state or its political subdivisions or agencies or instrumentalities thereof on such terms as may be agreed upon in furtherance of the laws enacted pursuant to this section.

EFFECTIVE DATE AND REPEAL

If adopted by a majority of the electors voting on this amendment, the amendment shall take immediate effect, and section 13 of Article VIII shall be repealed from such effective date.

electors voting on this amendment, the amendment shall take immediate effect, and existing section 13 of Article VIII shall be repealed from such effective date.

ISSUE 4

(Amended Senate Joint Resolution No. 14)

JOINT RESOLUTION

Proposing to amend sections 1 and 4 of Article V, and to repeal sections 3 and 5 of Article V of the Constitution of the State of Ohio, to lower the voting age to 18, to eliminate the six months residency requirement, to remove unconstitutional and unnecessary language.

Be it resolved by the General Assembly of the State of Ohio, three-fifths of the members elected to each house concurring therein, that there shall be submitted to the electors of the state in the manner prescribed by law at a special election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in June, 1976, a proposal to amend the Constitution of the State of Ohio by amending sections 1 and 4 of Article V and repealing sections 3 and 5 of Article V as follows:

ARTICLE V

Section 1. Every citizen of the United States, of the age of eighteen years, who has been a resident of the state, county, township, or ward such time as may be prescribed by law, has the qualifications of an elector, and is entitled to vote at all elections.

Section 4. The General Assembly shall have power to exclude from the privilege of voting, or of being eligible to office, any person convicted of a felony.

EFFECTIVE DATE AND REPEAL

If adopted by a majority of the electors voting on this amendment, the amendment shall take immediate effect, and existing sections 1 and 4 of Article V shall be repealed from such effective date.

ISSUE 5

(Amended Senate Joint Resolution No. 10)

JOINT RESOLUTION

Proposing to amend sections 1 and 2 of Article XVII of the Constitution of the State of Ohio, relative to elections, terms of office, and vacancies, to remove language which duplicates and may be inconsistent with other constitutional provisions and to effect nonsubstantive changes.

Be it resolved by the General Assembly of the State of Ohio, three-fifths of the members elected to each house concurring therein, that there shall be submitted to the electors of the state in the manner prescribed by law at a special election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in June, 1976, a proposal to amend the Constitution of the State of Ohio by amending sections 1 and 2 of Article XVII as follows:

ARTICLE XVII

Section 1. Elections for state and county officers shall be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, in even numbered years; and all elections for all other elective officers shall be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November in the odd numbered years.

The term of office of all elective county, township, municipal, and school officers shall be such even number of years, not exceeding four or such even number of years as may be provided in municipal or county charters.

The term of office of all judges shall be as provided in Article IV of this Constitution or, if not so provided, an even number of years not exceeding six as provided by law.

The General Assembly may extend existing terms of office as to effect the levied or tax levied upon collateral and direct inheritances, and a portion of each estate may be exempt from such taxation as provided by law.

(b) The taxation of incomes, and the rates of such taxation may be either uniform or graduated, and may be levied on the net income and with such exemptions as may be provided by law.

(c) Excise and franchise taxes and for the imposition of taxes upon production of coal, oil, and other minerals; except that no excise tax shall be levied or collected upon the sale or purchase of food for human consumption of the premises where sold.

EFFECTIVE DATE AND REPEAL

If adopted by a majority of the electors voting on this amendment, the amendment shall take immediate effect, and sections 1 and 2 of Article XVII of the Constitution of Ohio shall be repealed from such effective date.

EFFECTIVE DATE AND REPEAL

If adopted by a majority of the electors voting on this amendment, the amendment shall take immediate effect, and sections 1 and 2 of Article XVII shall be repealed from such effective date.

ISSUE 6

(Amended House Joint Resolution No. 10)

JOINT RESOLUTION

Proposing to enact new section 7 and to repeal section 11 of Article XII of the Constitution of the State of Ohio, to require political subdivisions to make provision for the timely payment of principal and interest on general obligation bonds or notes, and to specify that the revenue from the making of such bonds or notes shall not be subject to the requirements, limitations, or prohibitions of any other section of Article XII, and to repeal obsolete sinking fund requirements.

Be it resolved by the General Assembly of the State of Ohio, three-fifths of the members elected to each house concurring therein, that there shall be submitted to the electors of the state in the manner prescribed by law at a special election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in June, 1976, a proposal to amend the Constitution of the State of Ohio by enacting new section 7 and repealing section 11 of Article XII thereof as follows:

ARTICLE XII

Section 7. So long as any bonds or notes which are general obligations of a political subdivision are outstanding, such political subdivision shall at the times required make provisions for the timely payment of principal and interest on such bonds and notes by providing for and collecting by taxation or by any other means, by which such subdivision is authorized by this Constitution or by law to obtain moneys for such purposes and by appropriating such moneys for such purposes, if at any time the officers or other authority of the subdivision having responsibility for making such provisions for the timely payment of principal and interest fail to do so, the treasurer or other officer having charge of the receipt of moneys of the subdivision shall set aside from lawfully available moneys of the subdivision, including those first received therefor, sufficient amounts for such payment and shall apply such moneys thereto. This section and section 2 of Article XII of the Constitution shall not directly or indirectly limit the amount of general obligation debt which may be incurred by a political subdivision of the General Assembly may, by law, provide for limitations on such amounts. This section does not authorize the levy of any tax or property tax other than as authorized or permitted by section 2 of Article XII of this Constitution.

EFFECTIVE DATE AND REPEAL

If adopted by a majority of the electors voting on this amendment, the amendment shall take immediate effect, and section 11 of Article XII shall be repealed from such effective date.

SCHEDULE

If, on the effective date of this amendment, section 7 is already assigned to a section in Article XII of the Constitution of Ohio, the Secretary of State shall assign section number 11 to the section in Article XII enacted by this amendment and such number shall be the official number of such section.

tion and shall be published in any publication of the Constitution and shall be cited and referred to by such number.

ISSUE 7

(Amended House Joint Resolution No. 14)

JOINT RESOLUTION

Proposing to amend sections 4 and 9 of Article XII of the Constitution of the State of Ohio, to clarify language and make nonsubstantive changes in language.

Be it resolved by the General Assembly of the State of Ohio, three-fifths of the members elected to each house concurring therein, that there shall be submitted to the electors of the state in the manner prescribed by law at a special election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in June, 1976, a proposal to amend the Constitution of the State of Ohio by amending sections 4 and 9 of Article XII thereof as follows:

ARTICLE XII

Section 4. The General Assembly shall provide for raising revenue, sufficient to defray the expense of the state, for each year, and also a sufficient sum to pay principal and interest as they become due on the state debt.

Section 9. Not less than fifty percent of the income, estate, and inheritance taxes that may be collected by the state shall be returned to the county, school district, city, village, or township in which said income, estate, or inheritance tax originates, and the balance of the same, as may be provided by law.

EFFECTIVE DATE AND REPEAL

If adopted by a majority of the electors voting on this amendment, the amendment and schedule shall take immediate effect, and existing sections 4 and 9 of Article XII shall be repealed from such effective date.

SCHEDULE

If, on the effective date of this amendment, section 4 is already assigned to a section in Article XII of the Constitution of Ohio, the Secretary of State shall assign section number 9 to the section in Article XII that would be amended by this amendment to include a renumbering of the section from section 4 to section 9, and such number shall be the official number of such section and shall be so published in any publication of the Constitution and shall be cited and referred to by such number.

BOWLING FIRST—Mrs. Pat Shepard rolled a 714-pin series Monday at Bowland Lanes. Included in the three game total was a 299 second game. It was Mrs. Shepard's best series and best game ever. The 299 was also the highest sanctioned game rolled at Bowland. Mrs. Shepard left the 4 pin after rolling 11 strikes. She became the first woman to bowl a 700 series at Bowland and there are only three other 700 series on record since 1960. Mike Wilson rolled a 700 even in 1965, Bus Dowler had a 706 in 1968 and Harvey Heironimus rolled at a 718 in 1969. Mrs. Sheppard had a 222 first game and a 193 game to go with her 299.

Westphal out to improve on first-game performance

BOSTON (AP) — Plunging into the Valley of the Suns has helped Paul Westphal reach his peak in professional basketball.

But one of the few downfalls he has encountered during his first season with the Phoenix Suns was last Sunday's opening game of the National Basketball Association's nationally televised best-of-seven championship series against the Boston Celtics. In that game, a 98-87 loss to his former teammates, Westphal, the Suns' leading scorer, hit only four of 17 field goal attempts and scored eight points.

Boston Coach Tom Heinsohn, however, is quite cognizant of Westphal's capabilities and doesn't figure the Suns' harddriving guard to have such a poor showing in Thursday night's Game Two at the Boston Garden.

Nicklaus' lifetime dream to be realized this weekend

DUBLIN, Ohio (AP) — Jack Nicklaus sighed.

"I can't really believe it's here," the Golden Bear said as the starting time approached for his lifetime dream golf tournament—The Memorial.

"I'm like a kid with a new toy—a great big toy," said Nicklaus, the chief architect, prime mover and driving force behind the new $200,000 event that gets underway Thursday with the legendary Bobby Jones as the first honoree.

"I've never been on this side of the fence before," he said. "Winning the U.S. Open is four days of hard work on the golf course. This is something else. It's something I have not been familiar with before.

"The only thing I haven't worked on is my own golf game," Nicklaus said with a laugh.

"They'll be looking to go to Westy," said Heinsohn. "He's a big part of their offense. He could break out. He's a good shooter, and he could come back and hit 10 of 17."

Heinsohn's decision to put Jo Jo White on Westphal was credited with adversely affecting the play of the Suns' backcourtman. During the regular season, Westphal had been guarded by Charlie Scott, the player he had been traded for a year ago.

Heinsohn explained that he made the change because he wanted Scott guarding the Phoenix player bringing the ball upcourt, in this case, rookie Ricky Sobers. That job had been Westphal's earlier in the season, but when Dick Van Arsdale suffered a broken bone in his left arm, Sobers took his place in the lineup and has been there ever since.

"If I won, I'd be the most surprised fellow in the field."

The select, international, invitational field of 96—trimmed down by some late withdrawals—starts the 72-hole chase for a $40,000 first prize Thursday over the Nicklaus-designed, owned and constructed Muirfield Village Golf Club course. It is a gorgeously conditioned layout playing to a par 72 and made up of 7,072 yards of Ohio countryside where the youthful Nicklaus hunted rabbits and squirrels.

"I started buying the property in 1966," he said. The course opened two years ago. The first of the tournaments that will honor a different golf notable each year begins Thursday.

"This is the start of something," Nicklaus said. "It's something I've always wanted to do. I am not going to be playing golf forever. But I want to be involved in golf.

Reds let George do it

Foster wrecks Braves, 10-4

CINCINNATI (AP) — Quicker than you can count to 10, the Cincinnati Reds are getting into the swing of spring by letting George do it.

George Foster, a forgotten man two years ago, has become a one-man wrecking crew for The Cincinnati Lumber Company.

He drove in five runs for the second straight game Tuesday night, triggering a 10-4 trouncing of Atlanta with his sixth and seventh home runs of the year.

His explosive bat enabled unbeaten rookie Santo Alcala to record his fourth straight victory since joining the starting lineup. It was Cincinnati's third straight victory.

"He's a gun," marveled Manager Sparky Anderson, after Foster boomed seven hits in his last eight at-bats to up his batting average to .335. "He reminds me of Lee May the way the ball jumps off his bat. George doesn't hit any cheap ones."

The 27-year-old Foster is indeed cutting a wide swath through National League pitching. In the last six games, he has driven in 14 runs with four homers and a .500 batting average—12 for 24.

"He's just a very confident hitter now," assessed Atlanta starter Carl Morton, who went down to his fifth straight defeat.

Morton thinks Foster's power of positive thinking can psyche out a pitcher. "There's something to it. Pitchers sometime give in to a hitter that confident. It appears we make more mistakes to a guy like that."

Foster's bat binge has thrust him into the league RBI race, one run behind leader Dave Kingman of the New York Mets.

His 35 RBIs are almost half of what he amassed a year ago, when Anderson moved Pete Rose to third to make room for Foster's bat.

"A lot of guys say they want to hit 30 home runs and drive in 100 RBIs. My philosophy is that stats take care of themselves," says Foster.

With Johnny Bench struggling at the plate, Foster has been moved up higher in the lineup. He's thriving at his new spot.

"I like hitting higher in the lineup because you get more chances to drive in runs," he said.

"The difference between this year and last year is that I'm hitting homers with men on base. Last year I was batting eighth most of the time."

He credits his brimming confidence to getting a good look at opposing pitchers.

"Now I know most of the pitchers around the league. Before, I was sort of defensive."

Bench, who requested to be demoted in the batting order, drove in three runs as the Reds struck for three runs in the fifth and four in the seventh.

Alcala, 4-0, held Atlanta hitless for the first four innings but fought control problems, walking six. "Normally I am a control pitcher, but I couldn't get the rhythm."

The Reds today scheduled Gary Nolan, 3-3, against Andy Messersmith, who has won his last two starts. He is 2-4.

Tom Seaver has learned how to pitch to the Philadelphia Phillies — very carefully.

One of the hottest teams in baseball, the Phillies have beaten Seaver two times in the last week, including Tuesday night's 8-4 decision over the New York Mets.

Mi-De wins own softball tourney

Mi-De Trophy won its class B softball tournament over the weekend at Eyman Park. Kirk Furniture of New Holland took second and Warner's Sport Shop finished third in the 12-team tournament.

Leading hitters for Mi-De Trophy were Lonnie Ayers with an .847 average, Ray Smith with .647 and Rick Bell with .579.

"They're an extremely hot team — as hot as they can be," said Seaver. "That's about as hot a club as I've seen in a long time. Everything they hit was in exactly the right place."

The Phillies' victory was their 24th in 30 games and boosted their lead to 5½ games in the National League East over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Seaver, a three-time Cy Young winner, continued to be treated with little respect by Tommy Hutton. He had three hits Tuesday night to boost his lifetime mark against Seaver to .424. Hutton has 14 career hits in 33 appearances and 11 RBI against the right-hander.

While the Phillies continued to roll, Seaver continued to reel. The loss was his fourth straight after four victories at the start of the season.

In the other National League games, the Cincinnati Reds whipped the Atlanta Braves 10-4; the San Diego Padres stopped the Los Angeles Dodgers 5-2; the Montreal Expos trimmed the Pittsburgh Pirates 6-3 in 11 innings; the St. Louis Cardinals defeated the Chicago Cubs 5-2 and the San Francisco Giants beat the Houston Astros 7-6.

Hutton shared the offensive load with Jay Johnstone, who slammed four hits, including a home run, drove in two runs and scored three. The Phillies rallied from a 3-0 first-inning deficit to help unbeaten Jim Lonborg earn his seventh victory. The Phillies raked Seaver for seven runs on 14 hits before he left for a pinch hitter in the seventh.

Brewers trim Yankees, 1-0

Dock pitches well in loss

By The Associated Press
Dock Ellis gave up only four hits, struck out four and walked just one ... but.

"I'm paid to win, not just to pitch well," the New York Yankees right-hander said. "Tonight, the other guy was better."

The "other guy" was Milwaukee left-hander Bill Travers. He limited the Yanks to four hits, struck out seven and walked two as the Brewers nipped New York 1-0.

"From what I've seen of the left-handers in this league, there's (California's Frank) Tanana and Travers and pick anyone you want for the third spot," said Milwaukee Manager Alex Grammas after Travers hurled his first major league shutout. "It was my best-pitched game ever," Travers said. "It's taken me six years to get everything together."

In other American League games Tuesday night, Boston blanked Detroit 2-0, Cleveland nipped Baltimore 3-1, Oakland stopped Minnesota 6-1 and the Chicago White Sox downed California 7-1. Kansas City at Texas was postponed by rain.

The game's only run came in the fourth when Darrell Porter led off with a double, took third on Bob Hansen's grounder and scored on George Scott's sacrifice fly.

Red Sox 2, Tigers 0
Carl Yastrzemski's two-run homer and Luis Tiant's second shutout of the season gave the surging Boston Red Sox their win over Detroit and their 11th victory in their last 14 games. Yastrzemski's roundtripper in the fourth scored Carlton Fisk, who had opened the inning with a walk.

Tiant was masterful, scattering seven hits, striking out eight, including slugger Willie Horton three times, and walking none.

A's 6, Twins 1
Vida Blue's eight-hit pitching was backed by Sal Bando's two-run homer and Billy Williams' two runs-batted-in as Oakland shackled Minnesota. Blue had a shutout until the eighth when he issued his only two walks of the game and gave up a run-scoring single to Dan Ford.

Bando's sixth homer of the season in the second inning and Williams' single with the bases loaded in the third were more than enough for the Oakland left-hander. Phil Garner had three of the A's 11 hits while Twins rookie Butch Wynegar had two of the hits off Blue, 4-5, to raise his batting average to .300.

White Sox 5, Angels 1
Pat Kelly smashed a two-run homer and Rick Gossage limited California to just six hits as Chicago won its ninth straight game, the White Sox' longest winning streak since 1973.

Brian Downing's two-out single in the eighth snapped a 1-1 tie and Chicago added four more runs in the ninth to hand Angels starter Gary Ross his sixth loss in seven decisions.

Indians 3, Orioles 1
Pat Dobson's nine-hitter lifted Cleveland to its fourth straight victory. The Indians' defense helped seal the win as they turned in four double plays.

The 33-year-old right-hander allowed nine hits Tuesday night, but topped the Baltimore Orioles 3-1 with the help of four double plays executed by shortstop Frank Duffy and second baseman Duane Kuiper.

"They've been turning the double play for me here, the way Mark Belanger and Dave Johnson did when I was with Baltimore," said an appreciative Dobson who is with his sixth team in eight seasons. "It's been lovely."

Dobson, whose 20-8 record with Baltimore in 1971 was by far his best season, declined to compare the two keystone combinations, saying: "I haven't been here long enough. But these guys are good."

The Indians stretched their longest 1976 winning streak to four straight by taking two games in Baltimore, while the Orioles have lost three in a row after winning nine of their previous 10. Cleveland scored twice in the second inning off Jim Palmer, last year's Cy Young Award winner whose record dipped to 5-5, on two-out singles by Alan Ashby and Duffy.

The Indians added an unearned run in the fifth after Buddy Bell beat out an infield hit and continued to second on an overthrow by shortstop Belanger. A sacrifice bunt and Rico Carty's sacrifice fly pushed Bell across the plate.

When they won 4-0 Monday night, Cleveland scored one run on a sacrifice fly and another on a squeeze bunt.

"In the last week or so, we've been playing better fundamental baseball," said Dobson, now 4-5. "We weren't before, and it killed us. Our talent is as good as any team in the league, but it

Former major leaguer Al Lakeman succumbs

SPARTANBURG, S.C. (AP) — Former major league catcher Al Lakeman died at Spartanburg Tuesday. He was 57.

The Cincinnati, Ohio, native played for his hometown Reds, the Philadelphia Phillies, the Boston Braves and Detroit in a nine-season career in the majors that began in 1942 and ended in 1954. Lakeman was a minor league manager for nine years with Detroit teams and a coach for the Boston Red Sox for six until retiring from the game in 1969.

Funeral services will be at 11 a.m. Thursday.

Padres 5, Dodgers 2

Doug Rader drove in four runs with a double and a three-run homer to spark San Diego left-hander Randy Jones past Los Angeles for his ninth victory. The decision was the fourth straight this season by the Padres over the National League West-leading Dodgers. Jones, the winningest pitcher in baseball, is now 9-2 with a 2.24 ERA.

Expos 6, Pirates 3

Larry Parrish hit a two-run double in a four-run 11th inning to give Montreal its victory over Pittsburgh. With the game tied 2-2 through 10 innings, the Expos scored all their go-ahead runs off Pirate relief pitcher Bob Moose, unscored upon in all 13 of his prior relief appearances this season.

EX-WCH resident wins AP award

Bob Thompson, a 1949 graduate of Washington Senior High School and son of Mr. and Mrs. Haskell Thompson of 640 Perdue Plaza, was honored at the Ohio Associated Press Sports Writers awards banquet last week.

Thompson is the sports editor of the Painesville Telegraph, a position he has held since graduating from Ohio University in 1959.

Thompson and his paper were honored with the best sports section award in the annual AP contest for papers under 100,000 circulation.

Three cars drop odds to 11-1

Grant King hopes for Indy finish

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Grant King figures his chances of winning Sunday's Indianapolis 500 are 11-1, but his odds are also three times greater of blowing an engine or crashing.

King, whose three-car team is the largest in the race, said: "Having three cars in the field is a lot harder on me, but it's also very rewarding."

Even if all three of his machines — two 1976 Dragons and a 1974 Kingfish — fail to complete even one lap, the Clermont, Ind., car builder and mechanic figures the least he can collect in prize money is $45,000, since even last place in the 33-car field pays a minimum of $14,000.

"My chances of winning are something like 11-1, but we also have three times the chance of crashing a car or three times the chance of blowing engines."

"It's three times the problems or more. I've spent the last couple of days just working on fueling systems — new hoses, couplings, valves, nozzles, everything."

"Each one of the cars has a lot of stuff that needs to be gone through — engines, radios and so forth."

"I've got to find fire clothes, pit crew uniforms, tickets, pit passes ..."

As for pit crewmen, "I have to have 33 people just to service the three race cars, you know, three scorers, three signalmen on the wall, three holding the fuel vent valve ... it just goes on and on."

Still, King feels rewarded for all the years he came here with two cars and only got one in the show.

"I've suffered quite a few setbacks here, and I've missed the race enough to know how it feels," he said. "I feel like we've really accomplished something."

He added wryly, "The cash don't hurt either."

John Martin qualified on the second attempt, on the second day of time

trials, at 182.417 miles an hour in a Dragon.

Bob Harkey put the Kingfish in on the third day of qualifying at 181.141 m.p.h. and Sheldon Kinser got the other Dragon in later the same day at 181.

CAMERA Angles

By IRVING DESFOR
AP Newsfeatures
Willard Kriebel, 38, chief photographer of the Reporter, a small newspaper in Lansdale, Pa., covers his town's news and feature events with the flair, imagination and skill worthy of a photojournalist for a national publication.

No wonder he has received more than 130 state and national photographic awards, among them the 1967 Pennsylvania Photographer of the Year title presented by the Pennsylvania Photographers Assn. He has been named one of the top 10 photographers in the Mid-Atlantic region of the National Press Photographers Assn. in five out of seven years and was a national winner in the 1973 Pro Football Hall of Fame photo contest.

It is also the reason his newspaper has selected more than 50 of his best photographs and published them in a paperback book to please its readers. Many of them have followed his picture offerings for years and have asked for prints or a collection of his work. Now it's available, a photographer's album entitled: "Images" by Willard Kriebel, published by the Reporter, 307 Derstine Ave., Lansdale, Pa. 19446 ($4.75).

I heard about this from one of my column readers who happens to be a local resident and newspaper subscriber, an ardent camera fan and letter writer. This, then, is to thank Mrs. Alice Zettlemoyer of North Wales, Pa., for continuing to send me page layouts of Kriebel's photography and the announcement of his book of "Images."

Most of the pictures in the album are of local scenes and events but produced with uncommon artistry, humor or creative thinking or technique. In addition, there are more than a dozen photographs taken on foreign assignments which took him to 12 countries in Europe and Africa.

I learned that Kriebel is a perfect example of "local boy who makes good." He was born, grew up and stayed in Lansdale, a town 24 miles northwest of Philadelphia. He started working on The Reporter in 1951 after school at age 14 as a janitor and printer's devil before discovering there was a world and a career called photography. That came after high school and two years' study and graduation from a photography school.

In subsequent years he polished his photo sights with ses-

His assignments ranged from skimming over snow-covered fields at 1,000 feet in a helicopter to submerging in a swimming pool with scuba gear to photograph a homemade submarine ... from a multideath tragedy caused by an apartment house explosion to the spiritual experience of a natural childbirth.

The book reveals the poetic quality of his vision in a quiet, misty white winter scene ... cows heading for the barn in a rural sunset ... and a child, lying in the grass, blowing a dandelion into flying fragments. There are unusual camera angles such as one down-to-earth (literally) view of a disconsolate puppy retreating from a burning home. The camera actually was at ground level, focused on the approaching puppy with the firemen in the background fighting the blaze. There are heartwarming shots like the Little League series with its captivating youngsters in actions which parody the intense seriousness of adult players. And there's the stark beauty of composition in a scene of ice-encrusted devastation which encircles and spotlights firemen at work on a sinter fire.

On his foreign assignments, Kriebel's camera brings us, among other scenes, a starry night view of Basil's Cathedral in Moscow's Red Square; the mystery of Stonehenge, where Britain's ancient Druids once practiced their sorcery; the menacing figure of an East Berlin soldier; and the picturesque atmosphere of rural Spain with a boy delivering milk on a donkey.

A reader's favorite photo may be removed easily from the spiral bound book for framing or may be ordered in special enlargements at a special price from the Reporter. In addition, any of the foreign photographs may be ordered in their original color print renditions for framing.

"Images" is a book which gives visual pleasure and can be a model for better photography. As a photo fan, however, I wish it had aided that second incentive by providing some information about the pictures, the circumstances under which they are made, some of the problems involved and how Kriebel solved them so expertly.

Perhaps some of the expertise might rub off on camera fan readers as well as it has on Kriebel's son, 12-year-old Kelly. The youngster made the photo of Kriebel used in the introduction. I've since learned that Kelly was only 6 years old, fresh out of kindergarten, when he accompanied his dad to a high school track meet where he shot a roll of pictures and the results made a full page of pictures in the Reporter.

"I took an old Nikon S2 with the normal 50mm lens and put a 36-exposure roll on Tri-X in it," Kriebel explained. "I set the shutter speed at 1-1000 of a second, the lens opening at f-11 and the distance at 15 feet. Then I taped the controls so they wouldn't change."

"I cautioned Kelly to walk around carefully and take any pictures he liked of the different events. He had a ball and shot 30 pictures. Our sports editor saw the results and ordered a full page of pictures. It was more than a good stunt — they were good pictures."

The message I get from that experience is: Start with time-tested rules and techniques and THINK YOUNG! See everything from a fresh viewpoint and shoot what interests you. Get the results to the right people fast ... while the event is still news. And you, too, may get worthwhile "Images."

Zoology Professor Experiments With Weights

BROOKINGS, S. D. (AP) — For 30 years a South Dakota State University research professor has labored alone in his off-hours experimenting to find the secrets of "building a stronger and better body."

Algridas Greichus, a professor of zoology at SDSU, does most of the experiments on himself. He does it with weights. He is a body builder.

Holder of a doctorate in parasitology, Greichus lives in two contrasting worlds. One is tucked away in a corner of the SDSU campus. He daily conducts research in the study of parasites amid the blinking lights and the hum of equipment and brain cells in the Physiology Laboratory. His other world is amid the cadence of creaking, clanking and thudding weights, the whistle of hyperventilating lungs and the grunts and groans of athletes trying to conquer five more pounds or get more definition into their pectoral muscles.

The owner of a physique you'd expect to see on a man bounding out of phone booths rather than one analyzing results in a research lab, Greichus is highly successful in his favorite pastime.

A one-time Detroit, Mich., and three-time South Dakota state lifting champion, Greichus is the current holder of the Mr. Northern Plains physique title.

Even more remarkable than Greichus' accomplishments and dedication is the fact that he's collected most of his laurels in the past five years. At 47, a time when most people have "settled down" both abdominally and in their exercise habits, Greichus is trimming up.

"The only thing that varies with age might be the time needed to recuperate from workouts," the professor said. "It's estimated that a weightlifter reaches his peak at 40. In most sports you're out of it by that time. I think an older man has an advantage over younger men in terms of experience. He paces himself better."

Butz stumping state for farm vote

President Ford campaigns in Ohio

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — President Ford continued his blitz for this year's final election Triple Crown—the June 8 Ohio, California and New Jersey primaries—with a hectic campaign stop in Columbus today.

Meanwhile, Agriculture Secretary Earl Butz was stumping Ohio in Ford's behalf for the farm vote.

And Mrs. Jimmy Carter, wife of the Democratic frontrunner, barnstormed the state, while Rep. Morris Udall, D-Ariz., another aspirant for the Democratic presidential nomination, wound up a two-day campaign swing.

Ford was to arrive in midafternoon and during the next six hours address a conference on aging, attend an outdoor rally, confer with Gov. James A. Rhodes and other state officials, hold a televised news conference, and meet with a group of Republican mayors.

Butz was to precede the President into the Capital City for an early afternoon address before the board of trustees of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation and a news conference.

Rosalyn Carter planned to campaign outside a local factory and mingle with downtown workers on the Statehouse lawn before delivering a speech to a Columbus Democratic women's club.

Udall flew to Cleveland Tuesday night after appearing before the Ohio AFL-CIO convention in Cincinnati. Upon his arrival in Cleveland, Udall said was not surprised by his poor showing in Tuesday's primaries in Kentucky, Tennessee and Arkansas.

The Arizona congressman said he entered those primaries to "show the South and show the border states that I'm a national candidate who is willing to campaign in all regions of the country."

Earlier he told delegates to the AFL-CIO convention his record has been pro-labor and said they should disregard the notion that a conservative tide is sweeping the nation. "The liberal program by and large has been a success," Udall said. "The failures have been small and they have been few and by and large we've rooted them out."

Butz told a farm bureau audience in Findlay Tuesday night that the country's present farm programs won't work if the United States doesn't maintain an increase in agriculture exports.

He said the country now exports production from one out of four acres and the exports have assumed an importance to farmers unequaled in this country.

Mrs. Carter said in an interview in Dayton that attacks against her husband by former Georgia Gov. Lester Maddox trained her for the presidential campaign.

"When Jimmy was governor of Georgia and Maddox was lieutenant governor, well, Maddox called him everything—a communist, just everything," she said.

"Well, I guess you could say that was good training for some of the attacks Jimmy gets now," she added.

Reagan chairman selected

Mrs. Martha Reiff, 404 Rawlings St., has been named chairman of the Reagan presidential campaign in Fayette County, it was announced today by Frederick F. Stannard, chairman for the Sixth Congressional District for the Ohio Citizens for Reagan.

Mrs. Reiff has announced the opening of the Fayette County "Reagan for President" headquarters, located on the point between Clinton and Leesburg avenues, across from the Kroger Co. store.

Work has already to organize a volunteer effort to support the former California governor in the June 8 primary election. Mrs. Reiff has appointed John Rhoad as publicity chairman; John H. Roszmann as finance committee chairman, and Mrs. Jane Williams and Mrs. Charlotte Willis to head the telephone campaign.

"I am delighted to have the opportunity to work for Governor Reagan in Fayette County," Mrs. Reiff said. "I am looking for additional volunteers to help in the closing days of the campaign. Anyone interested may call 335-2446," she said.

Reagan's name will appear on the statewide ballot for delegates at large and on the district ballot for election of three delegates from the Sixth Congressional District on the Republican primary ballot.

Convention eyes boost in union dues

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — The special convention that's to consider boosting union dues for members of United Rubber Workers to replenish the union's depleted strike-benefit fund won't provide funds for the 60,000 members now on strike, their chief says.

URW President Peter Bommarito flew to Chicago Tuesday to prepare for the Thursday assembly, but not before blasting rubber companies for using white-collar personnel to build tires during the strike, now in its sixth week.

The URW leader also said threats of plant closings have produced a new union demand in the negotiations that already were stalled on economic issues and had recessed last week until June 1.

And he said that Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. planned to raise prices and blame the strike.

Bommarito contended the struck tire companies were using untrained clerical and supervisory personnel to build tires during the strike, Bommarito said the practice presented "a clear safety hazard to the consuming public."

Goodyear and Goodrich responded that there is no quality problem with the tires being built, and Goodrich called Bommarito's allegations "nonsense, and he knows better."

Firestone refused to comment, and Uniroyal Inc. officials couldn't be reached.

Bommarito said he asked the Department of Transportation to investigate.

MRS. CLEO WARNER

Mrs. Cleo Warner, a veteran committeewoman, has filed petitions with the Fayette County Board of Elections as a write-in candidate for the June 8 primary election in Fayette County.

Mrs. Warner will be running in Precinct C of the city's third ward. Her opponent will be Richard P. Kimmel. The Republican candidate in the precinct is Robert McArthur.

Mrs. Warner, who resides at 1008 S. Fayette St., is employed at the Martha Washington dress shop in Washington C.H.
